IOWA IDEA TAKES DEEP HOLD OF ALL

Washington Rings With Cry for Tariff Revision Which Will Not Down.

AMEND DINGLEY LAW

Great Fight on Reducing Rates Warming Up at Nation's Capital.

DODGE CITY STARTS ACTION

President McKinley's Last Speech Is Quoted by Revisionists—Reciprocity the Battle Cry in the West Where the Citizens Want Cheaper Building Materials and Farming Implements.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.

The demands from the various parts of the country that is finding expression here in Washington was very materially augmented by the publication in today's Gazette declaring in favor of tariff revision. It was widely read and was commented upon by the local newspapers, and the revision forces were encouraged by its publication.

That there is a very strong sentiment in every section of the country in favor of revising the tariff at this time, there can be do doubt. Senators and representatives, called here on official business, discuss the question, and government officials are receiving advices from their friends at home which indicate that the topic is a live one. It is impossible to gauge the strength of the revision and anti-revision forces at this time, and it will remain and impossibility until congress meets and members have an opportunity to exchange views and line up for or against amending the Dingley law. But there is no doubt that congress will be brought face to face with the question at the approaching session and there is little doubt that President Roosevelt in his message to congress will advocate revision. After that it will be merely a question as to the strength of the two factions whether the present rates of tariff are permitted to stand unaltered or whether there will be a response to the sentiment of revision.

Where the Idea Was Born.

In the west the demand for tariff revision is embodied in the so-called "Iowa idea." This policy had its inception in Iowa, but it has now spread to other western states until it could more appropriately be called the "western idea" instead of wearing the name of a single state. Considering that the mere mention of the Iowa idea acts upon the stand pat element much as a red flag affects a bull, it may be surprising to learn that the promulgation of this tariff propoganda in the west met with the approval and consent of President William McKinley, himself the greatest exponent of the protective tariff principle. This information is given upon the authority of one well advised of the facts and the statement is well supported by circumstantial evidence.

When the presidential campaign of 1896 opened George E. Roberts, now director of the mint, was editor of a newspaper in Dodge City, Iowa, and during the discussion of the money question he wrote a pamphlet on the subject that attracted general attention. In fact the national committeee thought so well of the argument presented by Mr. Roberts that it circulated millions of copies. McKinley's notice was attracted to the document and he used some of the statements contained in it in some of his speeches. Later Mr. Roberts made a speech on the money question that further gave evidence that he was well grounded in this branch of political economy and which McKinley also read with interest.

President McKinley Favored It.

The result was that when McKinley was elected he concluded that the administration needed the services of able men like Mr. Roberts, and after talking the matter over with Senators Allison and Dolliver he offered Mr. Roberts the directorship of the mint, which he accepted and has held ever since. When he came to

WAS NOT INTENDED

Incident Affecting Yankees Is Largely Due to Various Circumstances.

JAPAN WILL EXPLAIN ALL

Rioting in the Empire Has Subsided to a Marked Degree and It Is Believed That the Populace Will Be Reconciled When the Whole Truth Is Told.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

TOKYO, Sept. 6.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The incident of the attack on members of the Harriman party is not regarded as a demonstration against Americans or other foreigners, but is believed to have largely been the result of the time and circumstances.

There have been a few expressions of regret that Japan consented to President Roosevelt's proposal for a peace conference, but it is apparent that this sentiment is not generally held. Many expressions of regret have been made by all classes over the Harriman incident.

TOKYO, Sept. 7.—(Delayed in transmission.)—In response to the popular desire and urgent requests of political leaders, the government has decided to publish the terms of peace tomorrow.

TOKYO, Sept. 8.—Disorders have occurred at Kobe. Last night (Thursday) the statue of Marquis Ito was dragged from its pedestal and pulled through the streets.

TOKYO, Sept. 8.—The city is quiet this morning.

TOKYO, Sept. 7.—Gen. Sakuma, commander-in-chief of the Tokyo garrison, has issued the following instructions:

"By imperial ordinance I have been authorized to suppress the disorder in Tokyo and its vicinity and maintain peace and order in the same locality. Judging by the occurrences to date numerous people assembled at several places in the last several days and during this period riotous acts such as the burning of government properties and Christian churches and destroying cars occurred. These acts are deemed to be the outcome of reactionary sentiment without calm consideration. But every measure will now be taken to stop a recurrence of the acts and I have to give the following instructions to the force at my command.

"It is necessary that every person behave prudently and warn and guide their dependents in order to prevent a recurrence and extension of the riotous acts. Those not engaged in the acts are warned against assembling lest they incur unforseen accidents. Ordering the dispersals of crowds and in stopping riots the guards are required to do so verbally, and in case words prove to be ineffectual warnings, by firing blanks. Should the preceding measures prove to be ineffectual they must resort to the actual use of arms as a last measure."

The leaders of the political parties and leading members of the lower house of the diet met at luncheon today at the residence of the speaker of the house and informally agreed to urge the cabinet to promptly call a special session of the diet. It was agreed to represent the present condition as being on the verge of anarchy resulting from the outcome of a collision between the government forces and the people and to urge speedy measures to restore order by peaceful methods. An extraordinary session of the diet it is believed will tend to peaceful ends. The municipality is using firemen for police duty in the districts from which the regular patrols have been withdrawn.

Trying to Calm Populace.

TOKYO, Sept. 7.—(Delayed in transmission.)—Strong influences are working toward calming popular excitement and checking the rioting. The opinion is expressed tonight that the worst violence has passed and that conditions will speedily mend.

Gen. Sakuma, who assumed charge of the capital today under the authority of the emergency ordinance, has in his proclamation created a good impression owing to the conciliatory tone in which it is expressed and its note of firmness in declaring that the soldiery will resort to extreme measures if forced to do so. He has refrained from making a heavy display of military force in the city, having only detailed guards to preserve order, holding the main garrison of the reserves at the barracks from whence he will only call them when forced to.

The municipality has also greatly relieved the situation by cancelling a mass meeting called at Hibaya park, which is the rallying ground for all elements of disorder. Political leaders are counseling the people to remain quiet and are conferring with the government urging the speedy calling of a special session of the diet. Many believe that the issuance of the summons for the special session of the diet will fully restore tranquility among the public.

The report that trouble has spread at Chiba, 40 miles distant from Tokyo, has been partly confirmed. It seems certain that the police station was destroyed, but the destruction of the prefectural office and court house is not confirmed.

Churches Are Burned.

Japanese representatives of the Associated Press, who have been watching the rioting, report that the character of the crowds has changed materially of late. They say that earlier in the trouble thousands of responsible citizens joined in the rioting, but that now the crowd is largely formed from the disreputable classes, students and young rowdies.

Church property was destroyed and damaged Wednesday and today. The Catholic church, school and priests' residence in Hongo were destroyed. Five small houses at Honda were also looted and the Protestant church at Honda and the Presbyterian church at Kanda under the jurisdiction of Aoyama Academy, in Azabu-ku, was the latest to be burned.

TWO YOUNG BOYS ROB A BANK

Robbers Aged Six and Seven Years Enter a Niles (O.) Building and Take Handfuls of Bills Which They Distributed Along Streets.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 8.—Two boys, aged 6 and 7 years, robbed the First National bank of Niles today of $5a. They were captured only when they had been scattering money about the streets of the staid old village for some time and a crowd of boys had followed them to the river, where they finally took refuge.

The vice president of the bank, William Herbert, with Judge Thomas I. Gilmer of Warren, sat within a dozen feet of the youths when they made the raid. The other employes of the bank were at dinner. The boys are Leonard Park, aged 7, and Clyde Lenney, aged 6. Leonard was the one who planned it. He told Lenney to go up to the counter and get the bills. The news of the disappearance of the money set the town in an uproar and within a short time there was almost a run on the bank. The street at Mill and Furnace streets, where the institution is located, was packed with people and it required the assistance of policemen to clear it.

On one street there are two windows leading into the basement of the bank. One is grated and the other is not. The windows are not more than a foot and a half high and through the ungrated one they entered. They then ascended the basement stairs to the first floor and made their raid. One little fellow hoped that "the old fellow was in the next room." He had seen him through the glass partition.

"He didn't see us," said the elder of the boys. "I stood on the steps and Clyde he got the money. He put it in his pockets and they were too full. The bills dropped on the street. We got out the same way we got in. He said that he was dropping all his bills, and gave me some of his."

A number of boys saw them getting out of the window which faces on the business street and followed them. They were indiscriminately distributing bills to all who came along. Ten-dollar bills were the same as advertising bills and the youngsters gave them out liberally. They were followed by the boys and finally captured by Charles Harris and a negro known as "Bill Nye." The youngsters readily confessed and disgorged the money which they had in their pockets. It was not half of what they had taken and it is said that out of $700 which was missed from the bank, that but $228 was recovered by the officials. The children were not arrested.

TO PROBE MORALS OF POLICE

Missionary Society Appoints a Committee to Make a Thorough Investigation.

CRIMINAL SUIT IS ENTERED

Incensed beyond measure because of the apparent faithlessness of the police bureau, the church women of Allegheny county have made the first move toward a thorough investigation. This will not be a gentle probing of the charges made against a member of the police force, but will strike at the heart of the matter.

At the meting of the executive committee of the Women's Interdenominational Missionary society of Allegheny county yesterday afternoon a committee was appointed whose work will include not only a thorough investigation of the charges made against Police Officer Kilgallon by Mrs. M. B. Dick and the defense put up by the officer, but will go much farther and will inquire deeply into the moral character of the officers composing the police bureau of Pittsburgh.

The subject of an investigation was brought before the women by the president of the society, Mrs. R. C. Wylie, the wife of a well-known Wilkinsburg clergyman, and a member of several prominent women's clubs. No other body has the influence and scope throughout the county that this missionary society has, for its membership includes every woman who is a member of any evangelical denomination within the bounds of Allegheny county, roughly estimated at two-thirds the entire membership of the evangelical churches in the county.

Women Will Not be Hampered.

In order that the probing committee may not be hampered in its work of investigation, the names of the women composing it are not disclosed. The committee has two weeks in which to do its work and is to report at a meeting of the executive committee called for 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, September 21. The executive committee will act upon the report of the sub-committee and will then recommend a course of action to the society, which will hold its annual convention that afternoon and evening in the East End Cumberland Presbyterian church, Shady avenue, the Rev. John R. Harris, pastor.

In speaking of the plan adopted by the members of the executive board yesterday, Mrs. Wylie said:

"Such reports as have been made indicate a condition of affairs appalling and one which we, as women, cannot overlook, and must not ignore. Good men are anxious for the enforcement of good laws, but have not the time to look thoroughly into conditions as they should. In a crisis like the present one, when decisive action is necessary, we women should not hesitate to step in and learn for ourselves the exact state of affairs and then demand that protection for womanhood which is the right of everyone.

Immense Force in the Community.

"Our society should be an immense power in the forming of public opinion, representing as it does every woman in every evangelical church in the county. The real moral character of the officers of the law should be known. There must be no uncertainty about them."

"It is a fine thing for the churchwomen and the clubwomen to co-operate in demanding a faithfulness on the part of those who are the protectors and guardians of the law," said Mrs. William J. Askin, former president of the Wimodausis club, a member of the Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and of the New Era club, yesterday. "Almost every clubwoman is also a member of some church, and we should stand together on a question touching the morality of our police force."

Mrs. Mary Dick yesterday made information against Policeman James Kilgallon before Alderman Toole, charging him with assault and battery. A warrant was issued for the officer, but he had not been arrested at a late hour last night. Mrs. Dick alleges that at an early hour on August 23 Policeman Kilgallon did unlawfully commit assault and battery on the person of the affiant by catching her by the arm and forcibly pushing her down on the floor of the Ellsworth avenue bridge and otherwise abusing her, contrary to the act of assembly of this commonwealth."

District Attorney's Office Interested.

Mrs. Dick went before Alderman Toole yesterday morning. She has also consulted with the officers of the district attorney's office. The woman says she has little hope that the police board will give her complaint against Policeman Kilgallon any consideration. Mrs. Dick is terrified at the manner in which Superintendent Wallace expressed himself about her. The harsh manner in which the woman was interviewed by the officers investigating the case had also unnerved her.

When it became apparent that Superintendent Wallace was disposed to prosecute her instead of giving her a fair hearing, Mrs. Dick decided to make information against the officer who attempted to kiss and assault her on the Ellsworth avenue bridge. It is thought Policeman Kilgallon will be arrested today. Alderman Toole fixed his bail at $800.

The police are indignant against Mrs. Dick because The Gazette printed her story of the affair. They accuse her of having taken this means of assailing the dignity of the force. In making an investigation of the case the officers have asked the question:

"Did Mrs. Dick tell The Gazette that story?"

The officers seemed to be more concerned about the manner in which the story reached The Gazette than to secure the facts of the case.

MR. ROCKEFELLER LEARNING ART OF RIDING A BICYCLE

Richest Man in the World Is Mastering Steel Steed, Walking Miles and Playing Golf for His Health.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 8.—John D. Rockefeller has taken up bicycling and that sport now divides his time with golfing. Of late he has developed into a pedestrian and will soon be accomplished in walking, golfing and bicycling. He is not yet an adept with the wheel. Today, for the first time, he was able to ride without assistance. Heretofore he has used a relay of men, one relieving another every half hour in holding the bicycle at the rear to prevent it from toppling over with the rider. The relieved man goes back to "caddying" on the golf links which is light work compared to balancing the wheel for a man as heavy as is Mr. Rockefeller. A code of signals has been established between Mr. Rockefeller and the man behind the wheel.

"I'm wobbling" cries the oil king, when progress grows difficult, and "I can't hold on" calls [illegible] the man if he finds it impossible to get the machine going straight. That means that Mr. Rockefeller must jump. He does it usually without a trip or fall. Most people would take a rest after this, but not so with Mr. Rockefeller. The wheel is immediately set up and again they are off.

It is as a pedestrian that the oil king shines just now. Capt. Scofield and William C. Rudd, his daily companions, have ceded the walking honors to him, and when the richest man in the world starts on one of his feats of footwork they follow in a carriage or a wheel. Mr. Rockefeller can walk fast. He can also walk far. For ordinary tours about his 400 acres he scorns the horse and trap. Such things, he says, are well enough for women, but for a hale young man of 65—well, walking ought to be good enough for him. Besides, it is much more healthful.

ALLEGED SCANDAL IN MAMMOTH CONTRACT

Defeated Bidders in $50,000,000 Canal Boarding Award Appeal to President.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Telegrams protesting against the award of a contract to J. E. Markel of Omaha, Neb., of an estimated value of $5,000,000 for housing and feeding Panama canal employes were sent to President Roosevelt today by two New York City firms, who allege collusion, favoritism and irregularity in the treatment of bidders.

Hudgins & Dumar and Henry Balfe & Co., who hold the contract at Ellis Island for eight years, have made common cause in appealing from the award. Markel offered to board canal employes at the hotels at $36 a month and $6 additional for care of rooms. Hudgins & Dumar offered board at the same price and care of rooms at $5 a month; but they offered to board laborers for $3 a month, while Markel will charge $12 a month.

When Mr. Shonts was informed at his home in Greenwich, Conn., that the unsuccessful bidders had appealed to the president and after he had heard the nature of their charges, he said:

"Everything was open and above-board. We did not advertise for bids because there was no necessity for it. It is not a government contract. It is a Panama railway matter. In awarding the contract to Mr. Markel we took into consideration the personality of the bidder, his experience, his organization and also the fact that he had been on the ground and studied the conditions there."

BURIED IN TONS OF COAL.

Miner at Scranton Given Up for Dead, and Receives Last Sacrament, but Escapes Unhurt.

SCRANTON, Sept. 8.—Joe Onesky, a Polish laborer in the North End Coal Company's mine, was caught beneath a fall of coal at 2 o'clock this morning and was not released until 4 o'clock this afternoon, after 40 car loads of coal and rock had been dug from around him. He was not hurt.

His head was reached long before he was finally extricated, and he received the last sacraments of the Catholic church from his pastor.

MAN BECOMES INSANE FROM SPINNING TOP

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 8.—After spending hours studying the intricacies of a peculiar spinning top John Smiley became suddenly demented today. He broke 17 windows, tore down the pictures and smashed the furniture. While three officers attracted his attention in the front, Thomas Hennesy, a neighbor, slipped through the house and overpowered Smiley. He was hurried to the hospital where he had to be chloroformed to quiet him.

PARTIAL RESTORATION OF PEACE NEAR BAKU

War Between Hostile Factions Is Waning, but Isolated Shooting Continues.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

TIFLIS, Sept. 8.—The commander of the forces here today received the following telegram from the governor of Baku: Peace between the hostile factions has been partially restored, but isolated cases of shooting continue. There were many incendiary fires last night but it is believed there was no loss of life.

One regiment has arrived at Tiflis and further reinforcements are anxiously awaited from Vladivokas and other places. In the northern Caucasus the local militia is being rapidly organized under regular officers and non-commissioned officers. The governor of Astrakhan has sent a quantity of bread to Baku for the starving people.

Reinforcements have been sent to Shusha. The vistula provinces are declared to be threatened with cholera and medical inspection posts have been established at various points. The general commanding the troops in the Shusbal district has sent a reassuring telegram regarding the situation there.

In the villages of Dodudakibu, Achulu, Akbulash and Charnaatkni, in the government of Elisabethpol, part of the population has been annihilated. The remainder fled. All the houses in these villages were plundered and then burned. Tartars have surrounded the villages of Edlis and Bukutan and large bands of Tartars are marching on Gadrut and other villages.

BAKU, CAUCASUS, Sept. 8.—No serious new fires have occurred in this city but fires are still burning in the oil fields.

YOUNG BOY CAUSES WRECK.

Franklin Youth Admits He Opened Switch That Resulted in a Disaster On the Erie.

FRANKLIN, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Just to see a train wrecked, Vincent Wisnoski, aged 13, opened a switch on the Erie railroad last week, causing a smashup that resulted in the death of Engineer Nehemiah Johnson. He was arrested by detectives today and later confessed.

Three playmates testified that just before the arrival of the fast Meadville passenger train Wisnoski invited them down to watch him open the switch. After doing so he told them to run, while he sat on a bank and witnessed the collision with a string of box cars.

Family Leaps from Burning House.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The members of Mrs. Mary Ostlee's family at Grafton saved themselves from burning to death this morning by leaping from a second-story window in their night clothes. Their house [illegible] were burned. Three mission churches in the Asakusa district were partly wrecked.

At Hyojo the church people, anticipating an attack, removed their own fences and raised a white flag with the result that the mob contented itself with destroying a few chairs and tables. A mob attacked the Methodist church on Okachimachi street, wrecked the walls and fences and carried part of the furniture into the street and burned it. The Yonokura and Kamacho churches in Nihon Bashi were burned.

Not Anti-Foreign Thrust.

TOKYO, Sept. 8.—At noon the city is quiet. Complete reports from metropolitan and outlying districts indicate that there was no disorder throughout the night or early morning. The quietness of the night is ascribed to a heavy rain which scattered the crowds, although the presence of military guards is having a beneficial effect. The street car service has been suspended at night, and the suspension will continue while there is danger of the destruction of cars.

The government has suspended a total of five newspapers, and it is expected that publication of others will be prevented. It is predicted that trouble will occur tonight, provided the weather is favorable, although many believe that the worst part of the disturbance is over unless an accidental clash with the military resulting in bloodshed occurs.

The government has not yet indicated its intention regarding the summoning of a special session of the diet, but it is believed that such a call will soon be issued. Government officers and the better class of Japanese citizens are expressing keen regret over the attacks on Christian churches. They explain that the affair was the result of local conditions and does not indicate a serious anti-foreign or anti-Christian feeling.

They say that there has been local feeling over the refusal of native Christians to contribute to temple subscriptions and over their efforts to secure the closing of business houses on Sunday. Many declare that native Salvationists addressing a meeting in the Asakusa district started the trouble by rebuking the crowd for acts of violence. It was reported last night that a mob intended to attack the Catholic cathedral at Tsukiji, but no demonstration was made.

Foreigners in Tokyo generally are unconcerned over the situation. Some elements continue to express regret that Japan consented to the Portsmouth conference, but there is no indication that the sentiment is general. Preparations are progressing to present claims to the government for the foreign church property which has been destroyed.

The members of the Harriman party have gone to Nikko, having cancelled the local program for their entertainment.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—The foreign office has received a dispatch from Tokyo saying that the French legation is guarded by 80 soldiers and that the security of the personnel of the legation is not considered in danger. Measures have also been taken to protect the French religious establishments in Tokyo.

GOVERNMENT CONTRACTOR WILL HAVE TO STAND TRIAL

Philadelphia Councilman Is Accused of Fraud in Supplying Furs to the Army.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—Together with the announcement that criminal proceedings are to be instituted by the department of justice at Washington against Common Councilman Morris Busch, a government fur contractor in this city, and Inspector Robert Charlton of the Schuylkill arsenal, who are jointly accused of conspiring to defraud the government by foisting alleged worthless materials upon the army, the reorganization of the entire quartermaster's department of the army is officially predicted.

Common Councilman Morris Busch, head of the Standard Fur Company, who has received many contracts for caps and gauntlets for the army, was surprised when told that the Washington officials had determined on his prosecution. He declared he was prepared to prove that his dealings with the government had been fair and legitimate and added he was the victim of a decidedly unfair and partial investigation made by the war department.

Robert Charlton, the accused inspector, who is now under suspension and who, with Busch, is to be prosecuted, could not be located at his home. Relatives declared he was in the city, but was attending to business. Charlton, it is said, will make a sweeping denial of all the charges preferred against him.

AFTER THE DEAD BEATS.

Commission Men Have Decided to Establish a Credit Bureau to Shut Them Out.

Pittsburgh commission men have tired of the dead beats and are about to establish a credit bureau to shut them out. The matter is in the charge of the Pittsburgh Produce association, and a committee has been appointed to arrange the details of the bureau. G. L. Thomas, general secretary of the association, will have charge. The committee consists of J. C. Crutchfield, chairman; E. M. Blake, S. C. Focer, H. F. Milroy and A. M. Travis.

The committee is now at work to prepare a plan to circumvent the man who does not pay his bills. A crude system has been at work among the commission men for some years by which new customers were compelled to furnish references. This was found to be unsatisfactory. There were too many who would break over the rules in order to secure a customer and these were usually the loudest complainants when they were caught. Now the dealers propose to establish a new system similar to that in vogue with other wholesale dealers in merchandise which will completely shut out the man who does not pay.

Prominent Business Man Fails.

Washington Mr. Roberts was very close to the president and had every opportunity to learn his views on all the economic questions. Previous to the Iowa state convention of 1901 there was a strong tariff revision sentiment throughout the state and many of the Republican leaders there were of the opinion that the convention should voice this sentiment. Mr. Roberts drew up a plank to be submitted to that convention in which it was declared that tariff schedules that fostered and sheltered monopolies should be reduced. This was the substance of the plank, although it was elaborated into a formal declaration. Mr. Roberts submitted the statement to President McKinley who told him to go ahead and place it in the state platform. This was done and thus was the Iowa idea born with the blessing and approval of the country's leading protective advocate.

"Stand Patters" Win Out.

The plank adopted at the state convention of 1901 was reaffirmed without serious opposition in the convention of 1902. But by the time the convention of 1903 assembled the stand patters had organized a fight upon it and were prepared to make a determined effort to bring about its defeat. They were not successful, however, and again the plank was embodied in the state platform. But last year the opposition of the stand patters was more effective. They forced a modification of the plank by eliminating some of the more objectionable phrases, though it still expressed the ideas of the revision forces. And that Iowa idea stands today as the favored policy of Iowa Republicans. Governor Cummins is the recognized leader of the revisionists, while Secretary of the Treasury Shaw is looked upon as the leading exponent of the stand patters. For some months Mr. Shaw has been going up and down the land preaching the stand pat gospel and paving the way for his presidential boom that is to be launched in the next three years.

Mr. McKinley's Last Speech.

There is significance in the fact that just a few weeks following the birth of the Iowa idea in 1901, President McKinley made his famous speech at Buffalo, the last of his public utterances, and in which he spoke for reciprocity in terms that left no doubt as to his meaning. One sentence in this historic last speech of McKinley now stands out with particular significance. It is: "If perchance some of our tariffs are no longer needed for revenue or to encourage and protect our industries at home, why should they not be employed to extend and promote our markets abroad?"

There are some specific schedules that the exponents of the Iowa idea want to see changed, most prominent of them being those on lumber and steel. Iowans claim that a reduction of the duty on iron and steel would mean cheaper farming machinery for them and cheaper structural steel for the building of the modern business blocks with which the cities of the state are being liberally supplied. There are other schedules aimed at but these are the most important. Lumber, if the tariff should be reduced from $2 to $1 a thousand feet, would be imported from Canada, and the people of Iowa could build their houses and barns cheaper and do it without injuring any man or enterprise at home. This is their argument for the tariff revision and they have preached it with such effect that the people of the state have become imbued with the belief that their best interests lie with a revision of the present schedules.

COMMENT ON GAZETTE'S STAND IS FAVORABLE

Washington Papers Approve of the Republican Standby's Views on the Tariff.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Under the caption, "Pittsburgh's Sensation," the Washington Evening Times today publishes the following editorial article:

In a remarkable editorial published this morning, and reproduced in another column of today's Times, The Pittsburgh Gazette, oldest and leading Republican newspaper of Western Pennsylvania, demands tariff revision at the hands of the Fifty-ninth congress.

Pittsburgh is the citadel of protection sentiment; Pennsylvania is the first protection state. The Gazette is a newspaper 120 years old, which has been Republican from the birth of the Republican party. It has been devoted to the high protective tariff, and vigorously declares that it is still as devoted as ever. It is owned by men who have been part of the organization in Pennsylvania for many years, with every tie of business interests and political affiliation to keep them on the high-tariff side.

Yet this newspaper declares for tariff revision. Not for adjustment—whatever that may mean—but plain, bold, outspoken revision. Not revision next year or the year after; not revision in the next congress, but by the present one. Not revision under the next administration, but now, today, at once.

For, declares The Gazette, without discussing the merits of the matter, there is undeniably a great and growing demand for revision. It can be seen from the west to New England. There is going to be revision. Better have it now, under the control of the friends of the Dingley tariff, than later, in charge of the enemies. The Gazette points out that revision in a congress wherein such men as Cannon, Payne, Grosvenor and Dalzell dominate, the ways and means committee is not going to endanger the protective principle. But revision there must be. "Stand pat always when there is no reasonable chance to draw something better" sagely advises The Gazette. But it adds, the country is now clamoring for a new deal. It wants a change. "Shall it have a new diet, or no food?" The Pittsburgh paper prefers a change of diet. It believes there are plenty of tariff schedules that can be cut in half without any betrayal of the principle of protection; many of them that can be reduced without exposing industry to dangerous foreign competition.

And so, with a tribute to the Dingley bill as the author of national prosperity, The Gazette believes that in demanding revision, and real revision, right now it is a better friend of protection than those who would put off till tomorrow a duty that by tomorrow may become a danger.

The position of The Gazette is a matter of national concern, for it is representative of an immense body of public opinion in the greatest industrial state. Massachusetts and Iowa cannot be accused of treason for wanting reciprocity, when Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania demand revision.

The leading editorial in today's issue of The Pittsburgh Gazette, published under the caption, "Revise the Tariff," will undoubtedly be read with interest and other emotions, mixed and mingled, in the north, the south, the east and the west. It will, of course, delight the revisionists to find that this stalwart Republican newspaper, published in the chief city of the great state of tariff-fostered industries, demanding that the tariff wall be lowered, and it will to the same degree hurl confusion in the camps of the stand-patters. And yet The Gazette's editorial on its face has not a flavor of heresy to the doctrine of protection, nor does it smack of insincerity.

In the last few months—the coming session of congress looming large in the distance—many of the leading Republican papers of the country have gone on record on the tariff question. The pros and cons of the restless question have been gone over once more, and the shadings of the diversified arguments have depended for their strength largely upon the geographical location from which they emanate. But interest and astonishment, consternation and delight, and a host of other emotions besides, will undoubtedly follow the cry of The Gazette for revision of the tariff by the Fifty-ninth congress.

Probably few papers have a better claim to consistent adherence to party principles—with emphasis on that of protection—than The Gazette. At the first national Republican convention in Pittsburgh in the fifties, Deacon White, who then owned the paper, was one of the principal figures. Additional strength is given to today's tariff editorial by the fact that Mr. Oliver, the present owner of the paper, has been for years in the steel business as an associate of Andrew Carnegie, and has practical as well as theoretical knowledge of the number of stones in the tariff wall.

WAR VETERANS INDORSE FAIRMAN

Meeting Is Enlivened by Cochrane's Fight Against Adoption of Resolution.

CAMPBELL IS PROMISED AID

At a meeting of the War Veterans' association of Allegheny last night John A. Fairman was indorsed by the organization for county recorder, and I. K. Campbell was indorsed for county commissioner. The meeting was well attended and became quite interesting when Robert K. Cochrane, another candidate for county recorder, made an effort to have action postponed.

Andrew D. Armstrong presided in the absence of Chairman William T. Bradberry, who is out of the city. Dr. W. W. Cole acted as secretary in the absence of John L. Shook, who has been attending to the duties of the secretary during the illness of Thomas G. Sample. Secretary Cole read the following resolution, the adoption of which was moved and seconded:

Whereas, The nomination of the Republican party for county offices will be held September 16, 1905.

Whereas, Our comrade, John A. Fairman, is a candidate for the office of recorder of Allegheny county, and believing him to be an honest, capable man, an upright citizen whom we all delight to honor.

Indorsement of Fairman.

Whereas, He was a brave soldier who, in his early manhood, went forth at the call of his country, did his whole duty in the war of '61-65, and came home with an honorable discharge.

Resolved, That the War Veterans' Association of Allegheny do hereby indorse him for the office of county recorder and pledge ourselves to do everything honorably and lawfully to further his nomination.

Cochrane was recognized by Chairman Armstrong. He said: "I would like to know who called this meeting."

"President Bradberry called this meeting," responded Mr. Armstrong.

"I was talking over the telephone with Mr. Bradberry yesterday," said Mr. Cochrane, and he told me he knew nothing about this meeting. I am a member of this organization and there is at least some courtesy due me. I did not get a notice of this meeting. My father was a veteran of the civil war and I have many friends in this organization. Many of them are attending the encampment in Denver and in justice to them and to me, I ask that action on this resolution be postponed until they return."

There was a call for the question and the resolution was passed unanimously.

Explanation from Tyler.

Maj. H. K. Tyler handed Chairman Armstrong a letter from President William T. Bradberry in which the latter authorized Maj. Tyler to call the meeting. Mr. Bradberry explained in his communication that he was absent from the city and could not personally attend to the calling of the meeting. He further explained that because it was impossible to get at the books and membership lists of the organization the regular card notices could not be sent out. He suggested that the meeting be advertised in the newspapers, which was done. Maj. Tyler said he had sent notices to everyone whose name he could remember and had verbally informed others besides notifying the newspapers. He denied there was any attempt to exclude anyone from the meeting.

John A. Fairman was greeted with applause when he arose and thanked the members for their proffer of support.

The indorsement of Mr. Campbell for county commissioner was made by acclamation.

Andrew S. Miller, who is a candidate for clerk of courts, made a short address and predicted success for the Republican ticket. He said he had been all through the county and that not in recent years had he met with such enthusiasm for the Republican ticket. He declared it was hard to find any one who still acknowledged that they were members of the Citizens party. H. S. Lydick, Louis K. White and Frank G. Blair made speeches. Mr. Blair urged everyone to remember to vote for the Soldiers' Memorial hall in Allegheny county.

SOLDIERS GAIN VICTORY WITHOUT BLOODSHED

Get Prisoner from Police Upon Demand After Which Latter Authorities Relieve Themselves of Threats.

The promised conflict between the soldiers of the arsenal and the police over the possession of Private Fred Kessler, arrested Thursday night, proved to be a bloodless victory for the soldiers yesterday morning.

Kessler, who was arrested in the arsenal gateway on a charge of disorderly conduct as exclusively told in The Gazette, was up for a hearing before Magistrate J. F. Kane when Lieut. Ralph Drury of the arsenal appeared upon the scene and demanded the prisoner, citing the government law holding that no soldier should be taken off government property by outside forces.

The magistrate gave up the prisoner to his commanding officer after the demand was made, but followed this action with the announcement that the police had informed him that the soldiers were congregating along Butler street and acting disorderly, and that if another arrest was made that he would defy the army rules until the supreme court finally settled the question.

Capt. Peter Welsh, who is in charge of the district where the uninvestigated Ryan murder was committed, then made the defiant announcement that he would arrest any soldier he met who was acting in an offensive manner, and that "the question of authority might as well be settled now as any other time." The army officers will investigate the case of Kessler and punish him if good reason is found.

ANXIOUS ABOUT RIOTS.

Japanese Plenipotentiaries Keep Out of Sight in New York, but Watch Events at Tokyo.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Between subway rides, automobile jaunts, dinners and receptions, the Russian peace envoys put in a busy day today. The Japanese plenipotentiaries showed themselves little in public, spending most of the day in their apartments at the Waldorf-Astoria, and waiting anxiously for news about the Tokyo riots. In the evening they attended a dinner at Sherry's.

The envoys of both nations will be the guests of President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay tomorrow, the Japanese for luncheon, the Russians for dinner.

POLICE BUREAU GUARDS SAVE MANY FROM DROWNING

The swimming pools will be closed by the police bureau next Friday. The policemen now serving as life guards will go back on their beats. Since the assignment of the guards 42 lives were saved. Policeman Patrick Manion leads the list by saving 11 persons from perishing in the water. The other guards, Phillip Eckert, William McCready, Joseph Murray, Charles Allinger, Charles Freeborn, Charles Cooper and Alexander Cameron, saved from one to six lives each. Life Guard Gardner saved Edward Mullen, aged 15, of South Twelfth and Muriel streets, from drowning yesterday. The boy jumped off the spring board into a deep hole and being unable to swim was soon in need of assistance. Gardner dived for him and brought him to shore after a hard fight.

TROY HILL RESERVOIR IS GETTING A CLEANING

For the first time in three years the reservoir on Troy Hill, Allegheny, is getting a cleaning. A force of men was put to work there yesterday and the big pool was drained. Thousands of small fish were found in the mud at the bottom. There are two basins on Troy Hill containing 7,000,000 gallons of water. While one is emptied the other is put into commission. The new pumps installed at Montrose station will be put into operation within the next 15 days, according to the officials of the water bureau.

MR. LAWSON WILL BE INVITED IN

New York Legislative Committee Will Ask Boston Man What He Knows.

CLERKS APPEAR FOR MILLIONS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Today's session of the legislative insurance investigating committee was devoted exclusively to the affairs of the New York Life Insurance Company, and a searching examination was made of its officers who appeared on the stand. Beginning with the salaries paid to the officers, the line of inquiry extended through all the details of the company's participation in various underwriting syndicates for railroad securities, the New York Life's connection with trust companies, and finally, near the close of the day, developed the fact that it was not an unusual thing for clerks or messengers in the employ of the company, with salaries as low as $30 a year, to sign notes for millions of dollars, to be used by the company in relieving its books of undesirable securities.

An interesting feature of the day was the statement that Thomas W. Lawson of Boston might be called as a witness. The committee's chairman, Senator Armstrong, said if the information Mr. Lawson is supposed to hold could not be secured from other sources, the Boston financier would be asked to testify. Not being a resident of the state Mr. Lawson cannot be compelled to give testimony.

Clerks Handle Millions.

Officers of the New York Life Insurance Company testified today that on one occasion it became necessary for the company to sell certain securities in order to satisfy the Prussian government. Two clerks signed notes aggregating $2,225,000 and on the books the securities appeared as sold to these parties, although they really had been turned over to the New York Trust Company as security for the loan made on the notes of the two insurance company's employes.

It was declared that since 1899 the New York Life Insurance Company had not been connected with trust companies, but subsequently it was admitted that the stock of the New York Trust Company is now held for the New York Life by a committee of trustees. The New York Life company is a consolidation of the New York Security and Trust Company and the Continental Trust.

Edmund Randolph, treasurer of the New York Life, testified that the salary of President John A. McCall of that company had been increased from $40,000 in 1899, to $60,000 in 1900, $75,000 in 1901 and $100,000 since 1901.

The salary of George W. Perkins, vice president of the company, Mr. Randolph testified, was increased from $15,000 in 1899 to $25,000 in 1900; $50,000 in 1901, $75,000 in 1901 and then reduced to $25,000 in 1902. The reduction in salary was due to Mr. Perkins' going into partnership with J. P. Morgan. Mr. Randolph's statement of the salaries of the other officials showed a steady increase.

Director Tells of Syndicates.

John Claflin, a director and member of the finance committee of the New York Life Insurance Company, was the next witness. Mr. Claflin described the company's method of making investments through the finance committee. The lists of investments as a rule were prepared, he said, not by individuals, but by a great number of financial institutions—practically the whole financial community. The proposals were first passed on by a sub-committee which eliminated the impossible ones. If the proposals came on the day of the finance committee's sitting, the whole finance committee considered the proposals.

The company, Mr. Claflin said, was a member of the syndicate which sold the Pittsburgh Terminal bonds of the Wabash railroad and received a share of the syndicate's profits therefrom, though it was not called upon to pay out any money. In November, 1904, he said, the insurance company realized $19,000 from the syndicating of the Oregon Short Line 4s, though it was not required to take any of the bonds.

The committee adjourned this afternoon until 10:30 next Tuesday morning.

FOURTH ATTEMPT TO KILL MADE BY MAFIA SOCIETY

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Dominick Masellino of Jersey City, who figured in the unsuccessful prosecution of an alleged Black Hand band several months ago, was stabbed in the neck with a stiletto in Gansevoort market, Manhattan, about 3 o'clock this morning.

The attempt to kill Masellino was the fourth that has been made on him in six months and he is thoroughly convinced that members of the Black Hand have marked him for death.

Last winter Masellino furnished the Jersey City police with information which led to the arrest of eight or nine Italians. Masellino's 15-year-old son piloted Policeman Capio to the place and showed him the meeting room of the alleged band. It is said the Italians had sent letters to their countrymen demanding money, but the charge of conspiracy which was made against the prisoners was not proven at the trial and all were discharged.

YELLOW FEVER SPREADING.

Four Deaths and 44 New Cases Are Reported at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8.—The yellow fever report for today is: New cases, 44; total to date, 2,571; deaths, 4; total, 308; new foci, 12; cases under treatment, 205; cases discharged, 1,057.

The only new point of yellow fever infection in the country reported today was by Dr. Brady, who discovered a total of 12 cases on Woodlawn plantation, 20 miles below New Orleans, and another case two miles below.

SALVATION ARMY OFFICER IN CHARGE OF DETECTIVE

Henry L. Payne, said to have been treasurer of the Baltimore (Md.) branch of the Salvation Army, passed through Pittsburgh last night from Columbus, O., in charge of Detective Charles A. Weaver of the Monumental city. Payne is charged with embezzling $98 from the funds of the organization. While waiting for the 2 a. m. train over the Pennsylvania railroad Detective Weaver had Payne locked up in Central station.

Mutineers Arrive at Odessa.

ODESSA, Sept. 8.—Seven warships of the Black sea fleet arrived here today, bringing 2,000 mutineers, sailors. The mutineers for the present will be distributed in small groups among the troops in the Odessa district. Early in 1906, they will be drafted to the Siberian garrisons.

FRICK BUILDING PITTSBURGH

WIRES PALMER HIS DISCHARGE

President Drops Public Printer and Puts Man He Removed in Place.

HE DISOBEYS DIRECT ORDERS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 8.—President Roosevelt this afternoon took summary action in the case of Frank W. Palmer, public printer and head of the government printing office at Washington, by removing him from office.

Last Monday the president directed Mr. Palmer to send to him his resignation, to take effect on the 15th inst. At the same time he directed him not to take any further action in the cases of Oscar J. Ricketts, foreman of printing, and L. C. Hay, a division foreman in the government printing office, whose resignations Mr. Palmer had requested. Mr. Palmer had given Ricketts and Hay until Tuesday to show cause in writing why the charges he had made against them should not be operative in removing them from their positions in the event of their failure to resign.

In direct disobedience of the president's instructions Mr. Palmer, on the 5th inst., notified Ricketts and Hay the time they might have in order to answer his charges would be extended until Saturday, September 9. As this was not only a violation of the president's specific instructions, but as the case of Ricketts and Hay had been placed in the hands of the Keep commission for investigation, the president felt it was time to take positive action regarding Mr. Palmer. He, therefore removed him from office by telegraph, and directed him to turn over the government printing office to Foreman Ricketts, whom he designated as acting public printer.

It can be said that the appointment of Mr. Ricketts as acting public printer is not an assurance that he will succeed permanently to that office. The president has not determined yet whom he may appoint as the successor to Mr. Palmer. It is not unlikely that the final determination of the question may depend to a considerable extent upon the result of the further investigation into the affairs of the government printing office to be made by the Keep commission.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Casper J. Ricketts, foreman of printing at the government printing office, who has been designated acting printer, in succession to Frank W. Palmer, will take charge of that office tomorrow. Mr. Ricketts regards the president's action in designating him to act, as a vindication of his course in the recent controversy in the government printing office. The new appointee is a native of Illinois and has been an employe of the government printing office for 18 years, rising from the position of printer to that of foreman of printing.

Mr. Palmer, who retires from the office, was not at home tonight, when a reporter called to see him. He has uniformly declined to make any statement for publication regarding the request for the resignations of Foreman Ricketts and Division Foreman Hay for alleged insubordination.

TELEPHONES FOR HAT.

Prisoner Loses Head Gear While Scuffling With Policeman, and Sends Wire for It.

After an exciting tussle with a prisoner yesterday, which ended in the escape of the latter, Patrolman Michael Kane of the McKeesport patrol wagon returned to headquarters and sat down to rest. He had nothing to show for his run but the prisoner's hat. In a few minutes the telephone bell rang and Officer Kane answered.

"Hello. Is that you Kane?" came over the wire.

"Yes," answered the officer, still out of breath.

"Well, this is the fellow who gave you the slip a few minutes ago. I just wanted to ask you to send my hat back. I will ——."

But before he could say anything further Kane slammed the receiver back in place and demolished the hat with his feet.

REPLY TO PROTEST OF MINISTER LEISHMAN

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 8.—The porte has replied to Minister Leishman's protest in regard to the Armenian Ghirkis Vartanian, said to be an American citizen, who was condemned to death at Stamboul for murder, reiterating its old contention in regard to the status of naturalized Turks. The reply refers to Article 1 of the naturalization law which declares that all Ottoman subjects obtaining foreign naturalization without the consent of the Turkish government will not be considered foreigners when they return to their country of origin.

Socialists Claim the Glory.

RIGA, RUSSIA, Sept. 8.—The end of the general strike here was announced today by a manifesto issued by the Social-Democratic committee. The manifesto recites that the socialist movement in Russia brought about the end of the war and effected great improvement in the conditions of the workingmen throughout the land.

PLENIPOTENTIARIES GIVE TO NEW HAMPSHIRE CHARITIES

Russian and Japanese Peace Envoys Show Their Appreciation for Kindness of Yankee Folk by Writing Checks for $20,000.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 8.—Letters from the Russian and Japanese peace plenipotentiaries on the eve of their departure from this country, which accompanied checks of $10,000 each for charitable purposes in the state of New Hampshire, were made public today by Gov. McLane. The envoys wrote of the cordial appreciation of the hospitality and courtesy shown them by the state and leave the question of the disposition of the gifts to the discretion of the governor. Two letters accompanied the check from the Japanese and both were signed by Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira, while the letter from the Russian envoys was signed by Baron Rosen. The letters follow:

New Castle, N. H., Sept. 4, 1905.

His Excellency, the Hon. John McLane, Governor of the State of New Hampshire: Dear Sir: On the eve of our leaving this beautiful town of New Castle we beg to express on behalf of the Imperial Japanese government our sincere thanks for the many acts of courtesy and consideration that have been extended to us during our sojourn here by your excellency and the people of the state of New Hampshire, and we venture to state that the share you have contributed to the cause of peace will be highly appreciated, not only by the government and the people of Japan, but also by the lovers of peace all over the world, and that we go home carrying with us very pleasant souvenirs of your splendid hospitality.

We avail ourselves of this occasion to renew to your excellency the assurance of our highest consideration.

JUTARO KOMURA.
K. TAKAHIRA.

New Castle, N. H., Sept. 4, 1905.

His Excellency, the Hon. John McLane, Governor of the State of New Hampshire: Dear Sir: As a slight token of our high appreciation for the many marks of courtesy and consideration which have been shown to the plenipotentiaries of Japan and their suite during their sojourn in the state of New Hampshire, we take the liberty of enclosing herewith a check for $10,000, which we request you will be good enough to utilize for such purposes in the state of New Hampshire as your excellency may deem fit.

Thanking your excellency in advance for the trouble which we trust you will have the kindness to take on our behalf, we have the honor to be, your obedient servants,

JUTARO KOMURA.
E. TAKAHIRA.

New York, Sept. 7, 1905.

To his excellency, John McLane, governor of New Hampshire: I have the honor, on behalf of the Imperial Russian government, to express to the government and people of the state of New Hampshire their highest appreciation of the generous hospitality extended to their plenipotentiaries and commissioners at the peace conference at Portsmouth.

By order of the Imperial government, I beg to remit to you the sum of $10,000, with the request to have it distributed as you may see fit among the charitable institutions of your state.

Accept, sir, the assurances of my highest consideration.

(Signed.) ROSEN, Ambassador.

PRINTERS ORDERED OUT ALL OVER THE COUNTRY

National Officers of Typographical Union Order General Demand for Eight-Hour Day.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—The fight between the United Typothetae and the International Typographical union over the demand for an 8-hour day, to go into effect January 1, is to become general. Beginning tomorrow, the strike will spread to every city in the country where employers refuse to grant the 8-hour day.

Thus far the strike has affected only Chicago and Detroit. Tomorrow printers will be called out of the Typothetae shops of Indianapolis, and from day to day strikes will be ordered in other cities. The information that the executive council of the union has decided to press the fight was received by President E. R. Wright, of the Chicago union, today, in the following telegram from James M. Lynch, president of the International organization.

Indianapolis, Sept. 8.

E. R. Wright:

United Typothetae convention at Niagara Falls yesterday refused to accept reasonable proposition for settlement of 8-hour difficulty. Indianapolis makes demand this afternoon. On suggestion of executive council, other unions will make demand as soon as telegrams can be placed on wire, and the struggle will be made general except where contracts prevent immediate action.

JAMES M. LYNCH.

HER CARE FOR SUITORS' FEELINGS COSTS A YEAR

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—(Special)—A year in prison is the penalty to be paid by Martin Heppler, the woman who, rather than hurt her suitors' feelings would not say no to any man who asked her to be his wife. There were eight undivorced husbands in court to accuse her. She was convicted of bigamy and perjury today and was sentenced by Judge Ralston. Mrs. Heppler pleaded guilty to having two husbands.

PHILADELPHIA'S MAYOR TURNS DOWN HIS "ADVISER"

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Armed with two lead pencils, a disordered mind and the claim that he is "Pittsburgh Phil, a secret service operative," Philip Lefevre today tried to force his way into the private office of Mayor Weaver. "The police are in politics and I am the mayor's adviser," he declared. It required three reserve policemen, the mayor's stenographer and messenger and four reporters to convince the visitor that he "was in wrong."

FIREMEN ON PARADE DRAWING POOL TABLES

Department Vacates Borough Building With Demonstration Upon Demand of Council.

In a spirit of mockery, because of the demand of council that they take the apparatus out of the borough building, the Etna volunteer fire department last night loaded pool and card tables upon a huge truck and paraded the principal streets of the borough, drawing the wagon by a long rope.

Crowds of sympathizers of both sides lined the sidewalks and lent excitement to the exhibition by their cheers and condemnations. The parade finally found its end in front of a vacant store building at 101 Butler street, where the fire department will establish its new quarters.

It is the intention of the organization to answer all fire calls as before, regardless of any action of council, and further strife is expected. Monday night the entire company will appear before council and tender their resignations.

Last spring council is said to have proposed the removal of Fire Chief Alexander Andrews and the firemen secured the signatures of the majority of the borough voters asking his retention. Then council followed with an order that the pool and card tables be taken out of the borough building, and branded the organization as a political club. No action was taken in response to the demand until shortly after 8 o'clock last night, when the tolling of the fire bell brought hundreds into the street and the parade began.

POLICE CONDUCT THE FENDER TEST

Inventor Lev Is Forcibly Prevented from Demonstrating His Own Device.

TWELVE DESIGNS ARE TRIED

The mayor of a city, the director of public safety and his police force, and a street car company, is an invincible combination for one man to pit himself against.

Benjamin Lev, fender inventor, discovered this to his sorrow yesterday, at the fender test in Euclid avenue, East End. Guarded by police, Inventor Lev was not permitted to demonstrate his own fender, and the city street car officials went through the farce of testing 11 other devices which, with the exception of one or two, proved absolutely worthless.

Mayor Hays and Director Moore, however, assert that a selection will be made from among these 11 fenders within a couple of days. General Superintendent Murphy of the Pittsburgh Railways Company claims that none of the fenders are satisfactory.

Murphy Angry at Lev.

Between 2,000 and 3,000 people witnessed the test, which took place in Euclid avenue, between Bryant street and Penn avenue. Mayor Hays, Director Moore, numerous other city officials, General Superintendent John Murphy of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, and other street car officials, representatives of the Pittsburgh board of trade, and a score of fender men were present. The street was roped off from Bryant almost to Penn avenue, and the people were forced to stand on the sidewalks during most of the test. A large detail of policemen on foot and two on horseback, under Inspector Bailey, kept the track clair.

Inventor Lev furnished a sensation. Before the test began he walked up to Director Moore and Supt. Murphy and asked them for permission to stand in front of a car equipped with his fender and be picked up.

"If you were more of a dummy than you are I would let you do it, but you have been giving me the worst of it. You have been saying mean things about me behind my back and through the newspapers," said Supt. Murphy to Lev. Lev then appealed to Director Moore. "We will see," was the evasive answer of the director.

Police Guard Inventor.

The police were instructed to watch Lev carefully and not to permit him to step in front of a car. Inspector Bailey told Lieut. McPoland and a policeman to guard Lev. The Lev fender was the eighth one to be tested. As the car came up the street at full speed Lev stepped out in the track, but was grabbed by Lieut McPoland and the policeman and jerked back. They kept a hand on Lev while the car with his fender attached was run down the track three times over a prostrate dummy filled with sawdust. Each time the fender passed over the dummy, as Inventor Lev claimed it would do.

"I do not claim that my fender will pick up a prostrate body," said he. "Ninety-eight per cent of the people struck by a street car are hit in a standing position, and every one of these the fender will save unhurt. They will not permit me to demonstrate my fender here because they know it will do exactly what I claim for it. It is plain that I am up against it. Until after my fender was tested the police kept the streets clear so that the car with my fender could be run at full speed, but after my fender was tested they allowed the people to swarm into the street, and the cars with the other fenders were run much slower."

Explains His Device.

After the car with the Lev fender was stopped Director Moore called Lev to come forward and explain his device.

"This strikes a person at or a little above the ankle, and scoops him up like a basket. He will fall backwards on this frame and it is impossible for him to fall out after being hit," said Lev.

"We don't care anything about what happens after he is hit," interrupted Director Moore.

"O, yes, that must be considered; because the fender saves them, not only from going under the car, but being thrown to the side," replied Lev. "Another thing, this steel frame back of the fender protects the head and shoulders from injury by contact with the front end of the car."

The mayor and the director paid little attention to Lev's remarks, and turned away while he was still explaining his fender. "Knock me into the fender as hard as you can," invited Lev, and a man standing in front of him gave him a strong push that landed him between the steel frames, doubled him up like a jackknife, and made it impossible in this position to get out without a strong effort.

Favors Providence Fender.

"I think the Providence fender is about the best one of the lot," said Mayor Hays, "but I believe that any fender will soon get out of order, and you will find that instead of keeping a car in the barn to have the fender repaired, the street car company will be running cars with one-fourth of the fenders not working."

"Mayor, why didn't you allow Lev to stand in front of a car with his fender on and be picked up?"

"Why, that fellow is an acrobat," replied the mayor. "No person would escape like he does if struck by a car. I don't believe his fender is any good," added his honor, but he did not go into details.

"The Providence fender is a good fender and there was another pretty fair fender there. I do not care to say, however, which one I favor," said Director Moore. I will meet Mayor Hays tomorrow morning and we will come to a decision about Monday. This is the last test and we will select some fender."

The Providence fender, which the mayor and Director Moore favor, does not work automatically like the Lev fender and other devices, but must be operated by the motorman by pressing a spring with his foot, otherwise the fender will not drop and pick up a person struck by the car. If the motorman becomes excited and fails to let down the fender instantly the person struck goes under the car.

Life in Motorman's Hands.

This was demonstrated by the test with the dummy. Each time the motorman let down the fender to the rails the prostrate dummy was picked up. Twice this was done and once the fender was not dropped and the wheels ran over the dummy stretched across the track. This fender is manufactured by a company in Providence, R. I., but like all other fenders it does not meet the approval of Supt. Murphy.

"You see those Providence fenders in Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, and other cities, and it is held up about two feet above the surface of the street by means of a rope. It is no good," was the comment of Supt. Murphy.

"What do you think of the Lev fender, superintendent?"

"It is no good. It failed every time to pick up the dummy," he replied. He was reminded that Lev claimed that almost every person struck by a fender was in an upright position. This Supt. Murphy disputed, claiming that a person crossing a track in front of a car was nearly every time hit by the corner of the car and knocked down.

Four of the 12 fenders tested were devices either invented by the Pittsburgh Railways Company or made for the company. They proved worthless. With one of the company's fenders on the car the dummy got lost between the wheels and tracks. The Reynolds fender, another one put on by the company, was tried, and it took a leg off the dummy and shoved it along the track.

Twelve Devices Tested.

The third fender tested was one invented by S. C. Bole of Leechburg, Pa. The fender dragged the dummy along the track for a short distance and the dummy then got under the wheels and was removed with difficulty. The J. A. Roebling fender of Trenton, N. J., failed to pick up the dummy, which was caught by the wheel guards. The fender invented by Phil Todd of Homestead, Pa., dragged the dummy along for a few yards, and then the dummy went under the wheels.

The Providence fender, which will probably be the one selected by the city authorities, was the seventh one tested and was followed by the Eclipse fender of which Benjamin Lev is the inventor.

The fender of Edward Kaylor of Allegheny, turned the dummy around and shoved it along, and the legs got under the fender. The fender of the C. B. Albree Company of Allegheny, failed to keep the dummy from under the wheels. The Epkin fender also failed to pick up the dummy.

The test began at 2:30 o'clock and lasted about an hour. The mayor and director of public safety were taken to the scene of the test in the luxurious private car of Supt. Murphy.

SCENES AT THE TROLLEY CAR FENDER TEST

Crowds waiting to see a car chew up the sawdust dummy laid out on the tracks—Two of the supernumeraries carrying away a "busted" dummy—Inventor Lev, who wanted to stand in front of a car equipped with his fender and prove that it will save life, being restrained by the police.

IT WASN'T M'ELROY.

Fireman the Victim of Mistaken Identity Which Resulted in Much Annoyance to Him.

B. E. McElroy, of engine company 15, residence 2319 Center avenue, figured in a case of mistaken identity this week. On Tuesday night a man wearing a fireman's uniform was arrested on Carson street for fast driving. In his pockets were found several letters addressed to Mr. McElroy at his residence and the engine house in Penn avenue. However, it was not McElroy who was arrested. He makes this explanation of the affair:

"On Tuesday an acquaintance who said he had been a fireman in another city secured a place in the fire show at the Exposition. He asked me to lend him a uniform, and I gave him an extra one of mine. I overlooked several letters in the coat when I gave it to him. After the show he took the drive which resulted in the arrest. He gave a name at the station, but when the letters were found he was docketed in my name and fined the next day in my name. As a matter of fact I knew nothing of the affair until my attention was called to the item in the papers. I was no duty that night, as the records of the department show, was not arrested, and not fined. The uniform was returned and will not be loaned to any one hereafter."

Wilkinsburg Man Missing.

J. McBride, who conducted a fruit and candy store at 906 Swissvale street, Wilkinsburg, has been missing from his place of business for two weeks, and all efforts to locate him have failed. He closed his place early last week and since then nothing has been heard of him.

DETAILS OF EARTHQUAKE INDICATE GREAT DISASTER

TROOPS HURRY TO RESCUE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ROME, Sept. 8.—All Italy is suffering from terrible depression because of the news from the south, where one of the worst earthquakes ever experienced occurred today. Although the earthquake was felt all over Calabria and to a certain extent in Sicily, the worst news comes from Pizzo and Monteleone and from 18 villages which are said to have been completely destroyed. According to the latest news received, 370 persons have been killed and a great number injured. It is as yet impossible to even estimate the property losses.

The shock was felt at 2:35 o'clock this morning. It lasted for 13 seconds at Catanzaro and soon thereafter was felt at Messina, Reggio, Monteleone, Martirano, Stefacoli, Piscopio, Triparni, Zammaro, Cessaniti, Naida, Olivadi and other points.

Scenes of indescribable terror ensued. Women aroused from their sleep rushed to the streets screaming with their babies and dragging along their other children and calling for help on the Madonna and the saints. The men escaped into the open with their families, all calling on their favorite saints for protection.

The cries were taken by assault by the straggling garbed crowd, but as daylight broke without a repetition of the earthquake the crowd gradually melted away until by 8 o'clock the streets had almost assumed their normal appearance except in the ruined villages where the inhabitants had no homes to go to. The general confusion was added to by dreadful cries from the jails from the prisoners, who were beside themselves with fright, and in some cases mutinied, but fortunately all the prisoners were kept within bounds.

Troops, engineers and doctors have been hurried to the scenes of disaster to assist in the work of rescue and salvage. The ministry of the interior sent $4,000 for the relief of the destitute. Minister of Public Works Ferraris left here this evening for Calabria to visit the scenes of the earthquake disaster.

CATANZARO PROVINCE.—According to the latest telegrams received here the earthquake caused serious damage to houses in San Floro, where one person was killed.

At Jonadi 10 persons were killed and 100 wounded. At Daffina buildings were damaged and a number of persons were killed or wounded.

At Borgia two persons were killed and 10 wounded. Many houses collapsed.

At Girfillo houses were badly damaged but there was no loss of life. At Montauro several houses collapsed.

At Olivadi five persons were killed and many wounded. Houses were badly damaged.

At Nicastro and Cortali there was much damage to property and many persons were injured.

At Filadelfi two persons were killed and there were serious property losses.

At Gimigliano there was no loss of life but the loss in property was considerable.

At Jacuno the houses were badly damaged, but no one was killed or wounded.

At Naida one person was killed and 30 wounded and property suffered severely.

At Martirano there were many victims, but the number is unknown. Out of a population of a little over 3,000 there are 2,200 without shelter.

At Serrastretta the houses suffered considerably but there were no victims.

Troops have been dispatched to the scenes of the disaster and engineers have been sent to Monturano, Naida, Gimigliano and Monteleone di Calabria.

All the houses at Stefaconi have been wrecked by the earthquake. It is feared that 100 people are buried in the ruins.

The villages of Piscopio and Triparni have been destroyed.

MANY YOUNG GRADUATES.

Fully 500 Present at Commencement Exercises of Mt. Washington Public Schools.

Fully 500 people crowded the main auditorium of the Pentecostal church, Sycamore street, last night, to attend the seventh annual commencement of the Mt. Washington public schools. There were 51 graduates. The principal address of the evening was by the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young of the Second Presbyterian church. An address was also made by Prof. Edward Rynearson, director of the Pittsburgh high schools. An interesting musical program was rendered. Prayer was offered by the Rev. J. A. RUSSELL MAY BE FOUND HIDING NEAR NOBLESTOWN

Charles L. Avery, an Oil Well Driller, Finds Man Acting Suspiciously and Hunt Will Start at Daylight This Morning.

T. O. Russell, the escaped maniac murderer, is believed to have been located near Noblestown. At daylight this morning there will begin a thorough search to investigate the matter. County detective Robert McMillan has been notified and will join in the hunt. The country is hilly and rough in that section and makes a good hiding place for the man.

The hunt is based upon what Charles L. Avery, an driller for the South Penn Oil Company saw about 4 p. m. yesterday. He was driving to Noblestown along the Ridge road and when near the Stirling farm saw a strange man acting suspiciously.

The man kept his back to the carriage and seemed to be trying to gain concealment in the bushes. He wore a black hat and coat and gray trousers. His beard was sprinkled with gray. Avery thought little of the incident. Upon returning from Noblestown Avery stopped his horse at the point where he had seen the man before and approached the bushes where he had disappeared. The stranger emerged from the bushes and ran.

Avery then became confident that his half-formed suspicion was correct, and that the fugitive murderer was the man he had run across. He drove back to Noblestown again and notified the authorities. Constable Robert Balmer of Sturgeon and Arthur Bertram of Noblestown began a search, but darkness fell and the hunt had to be given up. The appearance of the man Avery saw was described to Samuel W. Lee, superintendent of the county home at Woodville, who said the description tallied with that of Russell, save in the one particular, that when Russell escaped from the home he was not wearing a coat. Supt. Lee said that with daylight a thorough search for the fugitive would be made.

Store Open Today Until 5:30 P. M.

Several thousand people will come to town today on excursions to the Exposition. Next to seeing the sights and listening to Damrosch's Orchestra the most interesting thing is a review of autumn fashions. Our store is ready with every new fashion. Come and look through and make yourself at home.

Our Totally Different Clothing for Men

It is certain there is something about our clothing that appeals to men, it may be its neat fit, its excellent tailoring, its less price, or it may be all three, anyway, more and more men come to us every day with fine words for our Totally Different Clothing.

Everything is ready for Autumn, the very newest styles in topcoats, the very newest styles in suits, and in fancy vests and trousers.

The principal argument in favor of our Clothing is its superiority and the marked difference in price from that charged for made-to-measure garments—our prices being about half.

As to variety in size, in color, in style, it could not be more complete.

Tan Covert Topcoats, 32 to 36 inches long, lined throughout with silk, $15.00 and up to $35.00.

Black and oxford Topcoats, cheviot and unfinished worsteds, $15.00 to $30.00.

Raincoats of black, oxford and fancy gray mixtures, thoroughly rainproof cloth, $20.00 to $40.00.

Raincoats cut in the popular surtout style, gray cloth with wide wale, also plaids, $30.00 and $35.00.

Fancy Suits in single and double-breasted styles—plain and fancy grays, plaids and brown and green mixtures, $15.00, $20.00, $22.50, $25.00 and up to $40.00.

Suits of plain black and plain blue cheviot, unfinished worsteds and thibets, $15.00 and up to $35.00.

New Fancy Vests for autumn, washable materials, single and double-breasted styles, with or without braid, $2.50 to $5.00.

New Trousers in autumn weights, striped worsteds and cheviots, $3.50 to $9.00.

Boys' and Girls' School Shoes.

The piles of School Shoes now prepared for children will astonish even those who know this store well. Not only have we great lots of shoes for school wear, but the nicest variety of dress shoes ever gathered together for young people.

No shoes anywhere to compare with those we'll sell at the following prices:

Boys' stout sole blucher cut Shoes—sizes 2½ to 7—$3.00.

Boys' patent leather Shoes, new last—sizes 2½ to 7—$3.00.

Boys' splendid box calf Shoes, blucher cut—sizes 1 to 2—$2.50.

Saturday, September 9, 1905.

It has been pretty hard work to get anyone to act as chairman of the Citizens party county committee. No wonder. The sort of record the party is making makes success of the ticket hopeless and close connection with the organization discreditable.

More cotton of this year's crop has been ginned up to September 1 than of last year's crop at the corresponding date. Texas cotton fields are in need of pickers to an extent that force is used in some cases to get them. These statements are odd in face of the fact that cotton planters undertook to arbitrarily limit the production of this year in order to enhance the price.

A threatened clash between the United States army and the Pittsburgh police has been averted. It turned out at the hearing the arrest has been made on complaint for alleged good cause and the military commander saw fit not to press the question of jurisdiction. There is no good reason why the police and the soldiers should be at variance, but there is bitterness left by the Dowd case, augmented by the neglect of the police bureau to make a proper inquiry into Private Ryan's death.

In calling the roll of the Grand Army of the Republic at Denver it is ascertained that thousands of members have answered the last call since the previous encampment. The pension roll at Washington reached its high mark last January. The survivors of the civil war are surely passing, more notably as the years go by. But it is still the Grand Army. When the last of its members shall have passed to eternal peace it will be remembered as the grandest army of patriots that ever answered a country's call to arms.

Our Democratic contemporary, the Post, notes the organization of "Lincoln party" contingents in various counties as a sure indication of more Democratic votes this fall. The Post is deceiving itself. If the "Lincoln party" organizations contain any persons not previously affiliated with the "Union party," they are Democrats. Aside from a portion of the Prohibition party vote, Democratic Candidate Berry will get no votes in November that have not been polled for Democratic candidates in previous years. Republicans have learned to not further Democratic schemes.

Sergius Witte links America and Russia together as the two great countries of the world—the nations that produce men and materials. There is foundation for the comparison. Yet America and Russia are far apart. America is typical of liberty and education; Russia of tyranny and ignorance. The progress and strength and development of this country are due to the very things lacking in Russia. It is gratifying, however, to note the tide has turned in Russia and under the able leadership of M. Witte it may be hoped there will be greater liberty, better education, more justice and a grand development. He is the man to lead that procession.

Apparently the worst is over in Tokyo and the situation is improving under martial rule. The government has taken pains to disseminate information of the terms of the peace treaty, previously withheld, which had the effect of mollifying the popular disapproval. Japanese authorities deny that any anti-American feeling was entertained by the rioters and they are of opinion the trouble is practically over. The rabble, it appears, were under the impression that foreign pressure had caused a repetition of the surrender by Japan of the fruits of victory, as at the close of the war with China. Nevertheless the outbreak has been a shock to the civilized world.

A report of yesterday that Tartars and Armenians in the Caucasus region had agreed to stop fighting is not confirmed. If they reached any such agreement it was in order to direct their combined energies against the Russian troops, for there was fierce fighting during the afternoon. The casualties and the destruction of property are heavy. It is probable the exact losses may never be known, but it is now apparent they are appalling. The oil town of Baku has been nearly destroyed and other places have suffered severely. It is not surprising to learn the government at St. Petersburg is alarmed and is taking measures for protection in other parts of the empire.

The Business Situation.

The average business man relies upon the stock market to a greater extent than ever before as a guide to general conditions. One reason is that there are more persons interested in stocks than ever before, and another is that Wall street is credited with clearer foresight than the rest of the country. This being the case, and as the stock market is just now displaying more or less feverishness, indicating uncertainty even among the wise men of the street, it may be well to point out some of the features of the situation which the average man may overlook, or from which he is liable to draw wrong conclusions.

The official reports made to the controller of the currency last week enables one to classify the deposits of the national banks, a matter which is impossible from the weekly statements of the associated banks of New York, and from this classification to form a better judgment of the future of the money market. The official figures show that the national banks of New York city hold $1,074,000,000 deposits, but of this total more than half, or $574,000,000, is due to other banks and trust companies. When the demand for money relaxes and rates of discount decline, funds flow to New York, where the country banker is able to get at least 2 per cent on his deposits. At the same time he is permitted to count a portion of the funds held by his reserve agent as legal reserve required by law, the same as though the money were in his home vault. This results in a periodic congestion of funds at the chief monetary center.

The New York banks, in order to employ the excess of funds entrusted to their care, make loans at a low rate, based principally on stock exchange collateral. These loans, however, are subject to payment at a day's call. The cheaper a stock market operator can obtain loans, the higher the price he can afford to pay for stocks. When the rate for borrowed money equals or exceeds the yield which stocks pay at a given price, a check occurs to the "bull" market, and if this condition continues, or there is a prospect of its continuing, liquidation in the stock market occurs.

As stated, the national banks of New York city hold $574,000,000 deposits belonging to other banks. There is no question about business prosperity and there is every prospect of further trade expansion. This means that there is and will be a larger demand for money. As the demand increases the rate of discount rises, and when it gets above the parity of the rate which the New York banks pay for the use of deposits, the country banks withdraw their funds for more profitable use at home. This is what they have been doing on a large scale for two weeks past. This natural drain upon the New York banks compels them to call in loans from borrowers, and among the first to be called are borrowers in the stock market. When the latter are called to pay off loans, they seek accommodation elsewhere, thereby increasing the demand in the New York market. The natural effect of this increased demand is higher rates for call loans. The borrower has the choice of paying higher rates or of liquidating his holdings of stocks. When he does the latter, the law of supply and demand again comes into operation, and the offerings of stocks being greater than the demand therefor, the price of stocks decline.

Thus it is seen that the very conditions which enhance the earning power of railroad and industrial stocks—that is, trade expansion and larger profits—tend to temporarily depress the market value. This would not be the case if all stocks were owned outright by the investor; but the great bulk of the dealings on the stock exchanges represent purchases of stock on borrowed money, and when the merchant or the manufacturer is willing to pay more for the use of money than the speculator, he gets the preference.

General business conditions are sound, trade is becoming more prosperous, and the outlook is without a cloud. A reaction in the stock market, therefore, should not be regarded as unfavorable, especially since the average price of stocks is near the highest ever quoted.

Adopting a Fender.

Having tested a dozen fenders on a straw "dummy" yesterday, the Pittsburgh Railways Company is presumably ready to begin equipment of its cars with one of them when Director Moore gives the word. Director Moore promised, the other day, a decision for the day after the test. Mayor Hays has declared fenders must be used and has probably decided on the type. Yet the situation is not altogether satisfactory.

While some sort of fender is to be provided it is in deference to a freely voiced, outraged public sentiment. The grudging consent is accompanied by the stereotyped declaration that no fender is any good. The test was productive of an incident indicating partiality, at the least. There is a total absence of enthusiastic desire to save life or prevent maiming, and there is a spirit of reluctant submission to the plain letter of the law. These things are not a good augury for the successful use of fenders, but are eloquent of the power of an awakened public sentiment. If the fender chosen does not comply fully with the terms of the ordinance, that sentiment can compel the adoption of another, and other regulations to secure safety.

Something About Slates.

One or two organs of the Democratic-Citizens machine have been printing stories about a Republican "slate" and the mistreatment of candidates who have been "induced to pay their fees." This sort of talk is pure nonsense. Nobody has been "induced" to pay fees to the county committee and every candidate who has paid his fee and entered the lists has an equal chance with every other candidate. If any candidate has announced expecting some one to "deliver the votes" to nominate him, he has deceived himself.

Republican nominations will be made by majority vote at the Republican primaries. The "slate" of candidates for the county offices will be made by the Repubjlican voters at the polls. There is no other way under the rules. Every candidate and his friends are at liberty to go out and get the votes. Those candidates who get the most votes will be the nominees. The chances favor the men who get out first and stay out last, who have best personal qualifications for the offices sought and who can convince the voters of the fact. The slating committees this year are all on the other side and they are doing a fine job in the matter of excluding candidates who might put public service above fealty to their bosses.

Another Charge Refuted.

A charge has been made that the Republican "machine" would make up in Allegheny county for the names stricken from the registry lists in Philadelphia. This charge is disproven by the fact that Allegheny county registrations this year are practically the same as last. There is no increase that could be construed to support the charge referred to. Moreover, many of the register assessors in this county belong to the Democratic-Citizens party.

It is almost certain the lists in Allegheny county need revision. The neglect of some assessors to take out their books for legal correction this week is one indication. The results of investigation by the Republican organization last year and the year before afford another indication. On a former occasion the rolls were purged of some hundreds of names improperly there. Of course, if the lists are to be corrected the task will fall on the Republican organization, the body most interested in an honest vote and a fair count.

There is no need for the Republican party in Pennsylvania to register false names, cast fraudulent ballots or have dishonest returns. The Republican majority is ample on the square. It will be ample this year to elect the entire Republican ticket with thousands of votes to spare. The Republican party in this state can afford to purge itself as can the Republican party in the nation. It is the only party that can reform itself from within and that is continually doing so. But it cannot afford—any part of it—to assist the Democratic machine into power. This is the issue of the state campaign and on this issue the Republican party will win.

ADVICE TO PARENTS.

Now, Pa, inflate your manly chest,
Swell out its greatest measure
And strut around, for you must take
Your final sip of pleasure.

Lay down the law on this and that,
Trot out your little knowledge,
You'll never have another chance—
Bill starts this year in college.

And Ma, discourse by night and day
On science, dress and fashion;
Expound your views on Henry James,
On art and Love's young passion.

Let naught escape you, for today
She listens to your knowledge
You'll never have so much—remember—
Till Bill's this year in college.

A PREACHMENT BY THE QUIET OBSERVER

In Which the Toothbrush and Some Other Things Are Touched Up.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

It is the abuse of things that makes them harmful, the toothbrush not excepted.

As might be expected, the recent arraignment of the toothbrush as a germ breeder and a worker of mischief has caused no little talk, besides making trouble for dentists. This trouble consists mainly in having to answer many questions relating to the toothbrush.

It is well that people ask these questions, because they may learn something about their teeth and get some pointers on taking care of them.

Everybody ought to know a good deal about their teeth, not only because health and physical comfort depends on them to a great extent, but because they are so wonderfully constructed. Indeed, there is hardly a more interesting and wonderful part in the entire human anatomy, and yet simple and easy to understand.

The average school physiology usually contains one very dry chapter on teeth, with a few remarks about keeping them clean, but nothing about the causes of tartar, discoloration or decay.

What more important bit of information can be given to boys and girls than how to preserve their teeth, seeing that their general health and physical development is at stake?

* * *

It is the abuse of the toothbrush, just as it is the abuse of soap, flesh brush and shower bath, that works harm.

You may know those who use a toothbrush with as much vigor and force as if they were trying to scour the enamel off. And a few do not leave off until the gums are ready to bleed.

When the teeth begin to show stain, or slight deposits of tartar, the average brush user begins to put on the power, and to apply more polish, hoping to grind the objectionable stuff off.

If these did but know that these are simply signs of a disturbed nutrition, and not a disease, they might be able to save their teeth, which they will not do by such heroic attacks upon the symptoms of a disordered condition instead of upon the causes thereof.

A soft brush applied gently will not injure teeth, and will serve to keep them clean if they happen to be disposed to catch and retain food.

* * *

The vitality of teeth is supplied by nerves, and the growth and development depends on the blood supply. If the nervous energy be interfered with the teeth begin to lose vitality. This is shown by the appearance of chalky spots, discoloration or soreness.

The dental nerves belong to the fifth pair, one of the most important and widely distributed pairs in the head, face and throat.

In the passage of the maxillary branch from its origin in the par trigeminum, or fifth nerve, they are more or less exposed to external influences in the upper air passages and naso-pharyngeal regions, in which regions nasal catarrh, or catarrh of the head, is located. In most instances this disorder affects the dental nerves, thereby causing toothache, discoloration and decay.

Teeth never die, or decay, or become impaired without a good and sufficient cause.

* * *

You may be able to recall the fact that those whom you know to have had teeth first had nasal catarrh, or were subject to colds in the head, or suffered more or less from dull headaches and jawaches.

These were indicative of trouble in the upper air passages involving branches of the fifth pair of nerves, including the dental nerves upon which the teeth depend for their vitality.

Of one thing you may rest assured: As long as the nervous and blood supply to a tooth is not interfered with it will continue to be sound and healthy, and that in spite of all the hot or cold stuff, acid or alkali, sugar or salt, you may take into your mouth, nor will you need to grind and polish it two or three times a day to keep it clean.

When you discover discolorations or deposits on your children's teeth you may depend upon it that something is disturbing the nutritive functions. This is apt to occur after attacks of measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria or similar disorders, because these affect the upper air passages more or less. And strange to say, but little attention is usually given to these parts in the treatment of these diseases.

Nerves leading to the eyes and ears are also exposed to the inflammatory action which characterize these disorders. Hence the frequent trouble with these organs after such attacks.

* * *

Mr. Quiet Observer—I have been a constant reader of the Quiet Observer column in The Gazette for some time and have derived much benefit from it, but have never felt it my privilege or duty to offer a contribution to the column until I read your preachment about the toothbrush.

You have struck a good subject, but in my estimation you have failed badly in parts of your discussion.

I am surprised that any one should attempt to discourage the use of the toothbrush. It is not the brush that irritates the gums, but the non use of the brush, the permission of food to collect about the necks of the teeth, and tartar becoming deposited underneath the free margin of the gum, forming pockets for the lodgment of these bacteria and the formation of pus.

It is under those circumstances that inflamed gums will be found. And there is no person lives long enough that by cleansing the teeth thoroughly twice a day with a good brush and a good, reliable tooth paste or powder, to wear away the enamel in the least. But the tooth will maintain a polished surface which will hinder the lodgment of food.

True, the secretions of the mouth serve as an excellent cleansing agent to the teeth, but the kind of food that is masticated by the American people will never be kept washed off the teeth by the saliva.

You say, "Do animals use toothbrushes?" No, but let me tell you that animals eat such food and in such manner as God intended they should. Let man eat good, clear, wholesome food, more fruit and vegetables, both raw and cooked, and do away with the pies and cakes and hot bread and biscuits, and he will need neither toothbrush nor the service of a dentist. But we have supplied artificial foods, such that was never intended for the human body, therefore we must supply artificial means of again removing it from the oral cavity, and from about the teeth.

You ask, "Who among us, the poor who probably can't afford to buy a toothbrush, or the wealthy have the best teeth?"

Very frequently we find poor people who have never used a brush on their teeth, yet have good sound teeth, but it isn't the fact that because they are unable to buy a toothbrush they have good teeth, but because they are deprived of the luxuries (if I may so call them) which are swallowed half-masticated and are indigestible. They, therefore, not only possess better teeth, but also better health than the wealthier class.

Let man live and conduct himself according to the laws of nature, as God intended that he should, and you may then do away with the toothbrush.

Verdict According to Facts.

Scotch sentiment was said to be strongly condemnatory of the Phippe brothers who shot three keepers on their leased estate in that country in mistake for poachers, but Scotch justice, after hearing the facts, gave them a speedy acquittal. In that hard-headed country public sentiment does not seem to influence jury trials.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

FUSIONISTS STILL AT SEA IN NEW YORK

The Republicans Pick Recorder Goff—Host Who Carries Bad Checks.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The fusionists are as far apart as ever in the matter of candidates. The last meeting was expected to frame up a ticket, but nothing of the sort happened. After a lot of talk it was agreed to appoint a committee to meet next Thursday evening and name a ticket to be reported to the convention for ratification. The Republicans have taken up Recorder Goff as their candidate for the honor, and he is probably the best man yet mentioned. He has all the strength of Jerome without his pyrotechnic display, is popular with the best element of the city, and the only persons who can have any reasonable objection to him are those who are inclined to appear before him occasionally while he occupies his present office. Mr. Goff's great strength of purpose was shown when he conducted the Lexow investigation of the city's affairs, and everybody knows the result of that.

Jacob A. Riis, the sociologist and friend of President Roosevelt, was casually mentioned for the mayoralty nomination, but he joined Jerome in saying that he wouldn't have it if offered to him on a silver platter. Also Mr. Riis hit the fusionists a pretty hard blow by adding that he would support Mayor McClellan this year, as he did the last time he was running. Mr. Riis does a world of good in the city, and he evidently sees something good in Mayor McClellan's administration which has escaped less careful observers.

A Very Thoughtless Host.

Robert J. Wright was locked up because he was not just the right sort of a man to take a young lady out to dinner. Miss Edythe Broseu was the guest, but she paid for the dinner. After the check arrived, she says, Wright found that he had no cash in hand, but had two checks, for $5 and $5. As his guest knew the cashier, she had the checks cashed. Later she paid the amount, as they came back with the fatal "N. G." mark. It was some time before she saw Wright again and then he ran from her, but she followed and called a policeman. Mr. Wright said it was all a mistake, but Miss Broseu declined to pay for his errors, and he was locked up. Incidentally, it is a bad plan to run from one's mistakes.

Sore Arms Among School Children.

When school opens next Monday a large share of the children will be nursing sore arms. In order to go to school all must be vaccinated. Those who have heretofore neglected that little operation are now busy getting in trim for school opening. Today the health department was besieged by a few hundred youngsters with their sleeves rolled up. Yesterday more than 2,000 children accepted the virus as a part of the school curriculum. The health department officials are always busy a few days before school opening, but this year it was found necessary to put on an extra force of physicians. The real rush will come next Monday morning.

War Among the Doctors.

There are several things to pay as a result of the publication of the Red Book, which gives the names, addresses and positions of the various doctors of the city—at so much per. The wily publisher secured contracts from the doctors and got out the book almost before they knew it, certainly before the county medical society found it out. After each name is given a list of the colleges in which the physician lectures, the hospitals to which he gives some of his time and the maladies on which he is an expert. Now the medical society says that is advertising, and as such is without the pale of the ethics of the profession. Things are likely to be interesting at the next meeting of the society.

Woman Detective Gets Job.

So many criminals have been apprehended recently by women victims, that women are now looked upon as the "real thing" as detectives. The Jersey City Liquor Dealers' association has taken the cue and employed Miss Edna Coumes to run down the druggists who are retailing liquors without a license. The saloonkeepers claim the sole right to sell that kind of poison and want the druggistz to stick to carbolic acid and rough on rats in their efforts to reduce the population. The young woman has captured two alleged violators of the Jersey law, and they were held under bond for court trials.

Once Arrested Richard Croker.

Charles Smythe, who since 1876 has been on the New York police force, and who arrested Richard Croker when accused of murder, was retired today. Smythe is well along toward the three score and ten mark, but he is still active. Smythe also captured Thomas Flaherty in 1858, when Flaherty broke out of Sing Sing prison, seized a locomotive and came to New York. "I have made a lot of other captures, too," said Smythe, "but I am not going to make any more now, and I am glad of it. I want to give the young fellows a chance." In spite of Smythe's long service and clean record he has never been promoted.

New Home for Convalescents.

The opening of the St. Elizabeth Home for Convalescents at Spring Valley, N. Y., on Thursday, September 14, will be the commencement of another branch of the excellent work done by the society of St. Vincent De Paul, whose children's vacation season comes to a close with the opening of the new home for the poor and friendless. His grace, Archbishop Farley, and many other well-known people will be the guests of the ladies' auxiliary and fresh air committee of the society on this occasion and with the dedication of the new home a place will be provided for the worthy and struggling poor, mothers just out of the maternity hospital, working girls broken in health and others who will be benefited by fresh air, wholesome food and rest.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings About the People Who Are Traveling.

Allen Whiting of Broadway, New York, came into Pittsburgh on the Pennsylvania limited from New York last night at 9:30 o'clock, attended to business matters here and went back to New York on the Pennsylvania special, starting from here just after midnight. Rapidity of travel and strenuous life in the business world seldom sees a more rapid pace than this. Mr. Whiting had intended to meet with a couple of Pittsburghers on business dealings this morning, but when he reached the Union station he found a telegram awaiting him, calling him back to New York on an important mission this morning. He left New York at 9:35 o'clock yesterday morning and will reach there again this morning at 9:40 o'clock this morning, thus having consumed less than 25 hours in his quick visit to Pittsburgh. What his business was in Pittsburgh or with whom he was to meet he refused to say when he was seen at the Union station. He called his friends by telephone and explained that he would have to return to New York at once so the business in hand would have to be dispatched. He took a cab at the station and was driven downtown.

Easley Has Suitcase Scrubbed.

Harry Easley of the East End was seen in the B. & O. station last night, carrying a suit case. The suit case was partly concealed under a light overcoat which Easley carried on his arm, but he threw up his hands, figuratively and literally, when a friend came up, lifted up the overcoat and disclosed a suitcase plastered over with labels indicating that Easley had been in every country in Europe and had stopped at all the famous hotels. There was not a space as big as a dollar uncovered by a label.

"My sin has found me out," said Easley. "When I helped to paste those labels on this grip I little thought I would some time have to carry it myself. It was this way: A year ago a party of us were going to New York. Somebody had secured a lot of those labels—every American traveler in Europe always brings back an assortment of them, for they can be purchased at the news stands in France and Germany—and he thought it would be a good idea to paste the labels on my suitcase. But when he came to look at it he saw that it was a new one and too pretty to disfigure, so he took me into his confidence. I was not so particular about the suitcase of a certain friend, and so we pasted up that grip until it was a sight. We had plenty of opportunity, for the grips were all assembled at an East End saloon whence we were all to start for the station. Well, the man who owned the grip was so ashamed of it that he sent it to the baggage car and borrowed our combs and brushes and soap on the train.

"Today I start for New York. The handsome suitcase I had a year ago is still as good as new, but I have loaned it to a friend so I sent down to another friend's house and borrowed his. I had forgotten that it was the same friend whose grip I helped to plaster up a year ago, and so you may imagine my chagrin when this thing was sent to my house. Here they are, every label that I helped to put on."

And Easley, having plenty of time before his train started, went into the men's waiting room, unpacked his suitcase and stood guard over his possessions, while the porter faithfully scrubbed the grip until every label was removed.

Two Eastern Traffic Men Here.

William C. Carson, general eastern agent of the Mexican Central railway, of New York, left for New York last night after having spent two days covering the business of this district. Mr. Carson, who is known the country over among traffic men as "Billy" Carson, and is perhaps better known as a prince of good fellows than any other railroad man in the east, has jurisdiction over traffic matters of the Mexican Central railway in the eastern half of the United States, and thus is really the highest official of the company in this country. He says the freight business from Pittsburgh to Mexico, as well as from other portions of this country to that republic, is very light just now, all of the shippers having endeavored to get their freight through to Mexico before September 1, when the duties were increased.

Another well-known eastern traffic man, W. G. Reinhold, freight traffic manager of the West Line route of the New York & Cuba Mail Steamship Company of New York, was also here yesterday and left for Cincinnati last night on the Panhandle. Mr. Reinhold was in conference with O. F. Schaller, agent for the West Line in Pittsburgh. He said there was nothing of particular interest aside from the fact that the traffic of his line is growing at a rapid pace.

Detective Goebert Going to Ranch.

Fred Goebert, the detective of the Pennsylvania system at the Union station, has never lost his hankering for ranch life since he spent almost two years on the prairies a few years ago. He delights in viewing the arrival of those days, and next week will leave for a vacation visit to Omaha and that immediate section of Nebraska. He will be accompanied by his niece, Miss Frieda Goebert, a teacher in the Johnstown schools. They will make a visit of about two weeks.

Mr. Sranahan Pays a Visit.

James A. Sranahan of Harrisburg, former deputy attorney general of the commonwealth, arrived in Pittsburgh last evening and registered at the Seventh Avenue hotel. He says that matters politically are very quiet about the capital now, and that he has heard no mention of possible candidates for governor for several weeks.

The Mortification of Chicago.

A factory hotel, to be located in the immediate vicinity of the Pennsylvania railroad terminal in New York City, is planned. It is to cost five millions, and it will be the highest building in the world.

Chicago is mortified beyond expression that no other town can boast of it. It will be one of the wonders of the world. Chicago is already regretting. She can't go one better, and the chance will await her highest aspirations.—New York Advertiser.

DECREASE IN REGISTRATION

Partial Returns from September Assessment Show Over 203,000 Names on List.

WILL REACH ABOUT 210,000

Returns from the September registration of voters are about all in. With 25 districts to hear from the books show a total of 203,641 names, or 14,447 less than in September, 1904. The missing precincts will not bring the registration up to the figures of last year.

The following table shows the registration for this year compared with the registration of September, 1904:

	1905.	1904.
Pittsburgh	87,929	91,694
Allegheny	33,170	35,051
McKeesport	8,785	8,634
Boroughs	47,365	54,301
Townships	26,392	29,378
Totals	203,641	219,088

The missing districts in Pittsburgh are the fourth of the First ward, fifth of the Eighth ward, sixth of the Nineteenth ward, fourth of the Twentieth ward, fourth and eighth of the Twenty-first ward, second of the Twenty-third ward, third of the Thirty-second ward. Allegheny, second of the Seventh ward. Boroughs, First ward, North Braddock; Rankin, first district, First ward, Wilkinsburg, second and fourth districts, Third ward, Wilkinsburg; First ward, Braddock; first district. Second ward, Carnegie. Townships, sixth and tenth districts, Baldwin; third and fourth, Chartiers; second district, Leet; second, seventh and ninth districts, Mifflin, and first district, Ohio.

There are not enough voters in these districts to make up the difference of 14 447 between this registration and the one of a year ago. It is probable the total for this year will be about 210,000. Last fall 112,000 votes were cast for president in this county, so, it can easily be seen, much deadwood is carried on the registration list. The assessors this fall have not done much toward weeding out the names that should be removed. The only place in the county where an increase over last year is shown is in McKeesport and the additional names do not total much over 100.

The Socialist party yesterday filed nomination papers for this ticket at the office of the county commissioners: Prothonotary, George A. Stockdale, lineman, 809 Main street, Allegheny; treasurer, J. L. Park, painter, 793 Susquehanna street, Pittsburgh; controller, W. J. Wright, painter, 1304 Cole street, Wilkinsburg; clerk of courts, W. J. Ritchey, carpenter, 1086 Seventeenth street, Pittsburgh; recorder, A. L. Leach, carpenter, 908 Logan street, Allegheny; director of the poor, John Butterbach, laborer, Mt. Oliver; register, Joshua McElhee, laborer, 845 Fillmore street, Pittsburgh; commissioners, John H. Heflick, teacher, 608 Brushton avenue, Pittsburgh, and Isadore Kerber, clerk, 45 Franklin street, Pittsburgh.

When the case against Richard Armstrong to oust him as a councilman in Allegheny was called on the general argument list in common pleas court No. 3 yesterday, there was no answer by either side and the case now goes over until the next list unless the case is called up and the court has time to hear it some Saturday.

The Grand Central Republican club, of which "Ajax" Jones is president, held a meeting in the Franklin street headquarters last night. There were 350 members present. The principal speech was made by "Ajax." Resolutions were adopted indorsing the candidacies of these men for Republican nominations for county offices: John A. Fairman, recorder; Andrew S. Miller, register; C. B. Price, commissioner; W. B. Kirker, prothonotary, and George Z. Hosack, treasurer.

UNION BRIDGE COMPANY ANSWERS GOVERNMENT

Denies Right of United States to Make Information Because of Refusal to Raise Structure.

In the case of the United States against the Union Bridge Company, the defendants have filed an answer to the rule to show cause why an information should not be filed against it. The answer is as follows:

First—The government has no authority for preferring information or indictment except by the terms of the act of congress of March 3, 1899.

Second—The only offence under said act is the failure of the bridge company to comply with the order of the secretary of war requiring the reconstruction or alteration of the bridge.

Third—The bridge was erected under the authority of the state of Pennsylvania in the year 1874, at a cost of $810,000, many years before the congress of the United States had assumed or exercised any jurisdiction over the Allegheny river.

Fourth—The said act, which is the only basis for the proposed information, is null and void in this: It does not provide any judicial inquiry as to the nature of the obstruction, and, as a matter of fact, no judicial inquiry has been had. By its terms the United States does not provide compensation to the bridge company for the cost of the alteration required, and as a matter of fact does not propose to provide for or make such compensation.

The argument on this rule will be called up before the court by United States District Attorney John W. Dunkle on Saturday next.

HOLLAND FOR FILTRATION AND INDORSES METERS

The Oakland board of trade met last night. Dr. W. J. Holland, curator of the Carnegie Institute, spoke on the wonders of the museum department of the institute, which, he said, was the greatest in the United States, and also touched on the filtration question. Dr. Holland said he was in favor of installing filters at the earliest possible moment, as this would be a safeguard to the health of the city. He also spoke in favor of the meter system and did not agree with Controller Larkin that it would cause the spread of disease.

MRS. YOUNG SUFFERS EXILE FROM OLD NEW YORK HOME

Decree of Court Is, That for Shooting Her Husband's Stenographer She Must Leave the State and Never Return.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—For the shooting of her supposed rival, for her attempt to avenge herself for what she believed was the theft of her husband's love by Mrs. Katherine Morgan, her husband's stenographer, Mrs. William G. Young will tomorrow go into exile. Never again may she enter this city; never, when once she has passed its boundaries, set foot upon the territory of the sovereign state of New York. Magistrate Steinert has so decreed, and today in Jefferson Market court, he deputed Detective Sergeant Capper to see to the execution of the decree.

At 10 o'clock tomorrow the detective will call for the woman under sentence of expulsion, and before noon she will have looked for the last time upon the city which she has known as home. The west, a vast, indefinite territory, awaits her, for in that direction the magistrate ordered that she should go, and in that direction will her face be hurried by the policeman charged with the carrying out of the penalty of the law.

No complaint was made in court against Mrs. Young, for Mrs. Morgan refused to accuse her. Weak, pale, on the verge of physical collapse, and with head averted she whispered: "I cannot, I cannot. She is insane." So nothing was left for the magistrate to do, he said, but to discharge the woman under arrest, and this he did with the stipulation of exile.

Mrs. Young went into consultation with her lawyers, Messrs. Bradbury and McCarthy, but said she would stay in jail rather than be compelled to leave the city. Her friends begged her to reconsider her determination, but she refused to listen to them until the last minute. Then she capitulated and Magistrate Steinert discharged her in custody of her lawyers until tomorrow, when his decree goes into effect.

PLAGUE STRICKEN EMIGRANTS SAIL

Graf Waldersee Starts for New York With Party Which Spread Cholera.

BERLIN IN A STATE OF SIEGE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HAMBURG, Sept. 8.—One thousand emigrants were put on board the Hamburg-American line steamer Graf Waldersee today from the Bulgaria, where they had been quarantined for the past eight days. Past Assistant Surgeon McLaughlin of the United States Marine hospital service, after examining the emigrants, gave the ship a clean bill of health. About 600 of the emigrants are Russians and the others are from Germany and Austria, with the exception of about 75, who are American citizens.

The latter lodged a protest yesterday with the American consul general, Hugh Pitcairn, against their detention. Dr. McLaughlin said today:

"I am fully satisfied with the condition of the emigrants and there was absolutely no use for their further detention. Their baggage has been thoroughly disinfected."

No more Russian emigrants will be booked for the United States until after the raising of the embargo against cholera. The Russians have hitherto constituted the bulk of the emigration from German ports.

One death from cholera occurred here today. It was that of the Polish woman found in the hotel district September 6. The other case reported here is recovering.

Berlin in State of Siege.

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—An official bulletin just issued announces that 19 new cases of cholera and 7 deaths were reported during the 24 hours ended at noon today, making a total of 125 cases and 39 deaths.

A sort of a sanitary state of siege exists in the district that now extends from the river Oder northwestward to the Russian border, about 250 miles, and from Danzig to Grodzisko, south of Posen about 150 miles. But it is a state of siege in which all the inhabitants are auxiliaries of the medical authorities, and the only enemy is the terrifying cholera bacillus which is traveling in the streams or moving slowly overland from one locality to another, attached to articles of use, or in the systems of persons. The only friend of the bacillus, the doctors proclaim, is ignorance and therefore they say to the thick populations of this region:

"If you do not want to die, do as we say. Do not bathe in the rivers. Death is there. Do not hide from us the suspicious illnesses of members of your families for fear we may take them away to a hospital and put all who have been near the sick person under irksome observation. Do not be afraid and get into a panic."

Everybody at the Front.

These and secondary admonitions are reinforced by red placards and police and newspaper cautions and sanitary leaflets. There is no lack of advice and observance of it, too. Therefore, in the million or so households drinking water is boiled and domestic councils are held, which are about the only things that can be done if the bacillus is not known or suspected to be actually at work in the house. Here in Berlin the medical council of war sits at noon each day in the ministry of education, worship and health, taking fresh measures to meet the situation, and deciding on additional means of prevention. The commander-in-chief of this board in the field is Dr. Adolf Kafka, head of the bureau of infectious diseases, whose headquarters in the infected area is constantly being changed. His sanitary motor boats patrol every stream, investigating river craft, seeing that water side places and resorts are closed and visiting the cholera stations established at intervals along the rivers. Every physician in the region is in a sense Dr. Kafka's agent, while his special staff of quite 200 persons is being constantly increased. The announcement of this vigilance, with all the precautionary items, has had a decidedly reassuring effect on those who live within and without the affected area.

Disease in New Towns.

CULM, WEST PRUSSIA, Sept. 8.—One fresh case of cholera has been reported here. Of the 11 cases here five have died.

DANZIG, PRUSSIA, Sept. 8.—Two new cholera cases have been reported here. It appears certain that the infection was brought to this part of the country by Russian agricultural laborers, many of whom come across the border to work on the beet crops. A close inspection of such laborers is now made on their coming into Prussia.

MARIENWERDER, WEST PRUSSIA, Sept. 8.—Four new cases of cholera were reported here today, of which two were at Graudenz and two at Nieder-ausmass. Two persons who died in this vicinity today, showed symptoms of cholera.

BROMBERG, PRUSSIA, Sept. 8.—Two new cases of cholera have been reported in this district. One of them is in the village of Eolichno-Hauland.

NAKEL, PRUSSIA, Sept. 8.—Altogether 16 cholera cases and six deaths have occurred in this town.

LUBECK, GERMANY, Sept. 8.—The senate of Lubeck has forbidden the transport of Russian emigrants by way of this port.

MARSHALL PINS HOPES TO BARE TECHNICALITIES

Alleged Insurance Swindler Denies Right of Pittsburgh Alderman to Issue Warrant for Arrest.

Attorney Frederick L. Kahle of this city, who is taking an active part in the prosecution of A. G. Marshall, the alleged insurance swindler, returned from New York yesterday morning and again hurried east at 10 o'clock last night. In the short time that he was in the city Mr. Kahle was a very busy man, preparing extradition papers, which he thinks will result in having Marshall brought back to this city early next week. Mr. Kahle prepared four sets of papers, so that if a defect develops in one, he will still have the others to fall back upon. He went last night to Harrisburg that Gov. Pennypacker might pass upon the papers. Then he will hurry direct to Albany in order that Gov. Higgins may do his part.

"There is barely a possibility that Marshall will escape us," said Mr. Kahle before his departure. "He is falling back on subterfuges. All of the main points in the case, viz., that he is Marshall and that he was in the insurance business in this city, he has already admitted. But he denies the right of an alderman in Pittsburgh to issue a warrant for his arrest, and while we, of course, know how ridiculous this is, we must nevertheless prove it to the New York authorities. The grand jury in Allegheny county has already found true bills against Marshall on charges of embezzlement, perjury and false pretense. Marshall is making a hard fight and is spending lots of money, but I am at a loss to see how he expects to escape returning here and standing trial."

The office furniture of A. G. Marshall & Co., in the Washington bank building, will be sold by a constable next week to satisfy a debt of $106 for rent. The week before Marshall's departure some fine rugs and pictures were removed. Only plain furniture remains.

WOMAN FAILS TO DROWN.

Is Taken from the Allegheny River to Allegheny General Hospital, But Slightly Wet.

Mrs. Josephine McCurdy, aged 32, wife of Harry McCurdy of 1408 Sandusky street, Allegheny, was taken from the Allegheny river at the foot of the Seventh street bridge last night at 10 o'clock and removed to the Allegheny General hospital. According to the reports received at police headquarters the woman jumped from the bridge and was rescued by Henry Coulter, who has a boathouse under the bridge. At the hospital it was found that only the bottom of the woman's skirts were wet, indicating that she had indulged in nothing more serious than a foot bath.

Harry McCurdy, the woman's husband, was seen at his home and said his wife had left a note, saying she was going to jump off the bridge. He refused to show the note or tell its contents, but said the woman had been in ill-health. She is suffering no ill effects from the slight wetting she got, and will be released from the hospital this morning.

Mail Crane Strikes Engineer.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Edgar Beerkamp, a Baltimore & Ohio railroad engineer of South Cumberland, was struck in the back of the head by a mail crane yesterday while his train was nearing New Burg, W. Va., and knocked unconscious to the engine floor. The train was stopped and Beerkamp was brought to his home, where he is suffering from concussion of the brain.

POTTER'S FIGURE CUT ONE-THIRD

PARTY'S QUEER PRIMARIES

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.

It was announced at today's meeting of the Republican city committee that the September assessment would show a loss of, approximately, 21,000 voters as compared with the May assessment. This is one-third of the number shown by Director Potter's police canvass.

None of the Republican leaders would admit that any of these 21,000 names were fraudulent. They said that they were due to removals and deaths, and the fact that they were not offset by the new names in other divisions they declared was due to the refusal of the assessors to place the new names on the lists without personal application.

Only 18 wards had reported complete returns when the office of the county commissioners closed today. These wards all gave losses, a total of 13,043. The city committee had these figures and their estimate is based on them, and the reports of ward leaders who have tabulated the returns given them by the assessors. It was stated that the official reports to the commissioners might cause a small variation either way.

The investigating committee of select council, authorized to inquire into the official acts of the mayor, met and organized today. A sub-committee was appointed to engage legal talent, after which the committee adjourned to meet at the call of the chair. Daily sessions will begin next week.

The City party professes to believe that the Republican organization may capture its convention by entering the primaries and electing enough delegates to control nominations. To avoid this all voters not members of the district associations will be compelled to swear that he will support the City party. But this is not all. Should delegates not wanted by the City party leaders be elected, the ward committee is empowered to nullify the result of the primaries, and, if by any means the Republicans should gain control of the ward committees, then they are to be disqualified by the Committee of Seventy, the court of last resort. Orders to this effect were issued today.

Republican leaders are laughing at the ordiar. They say it is the most grotesque show of weakness yet displayed by the "reformers." If they assert, nullifies in advance primary results and removes the cause for holding them. The general idea is that the Committee of Seventy should announce now the men Weaver and Wanamaker want instead of holding primaries which are a burlesque on their face.

J. Lee Plummer, Republican candidate for state treasurer, called at state headquarters today. He will attend the West Chester anniversary tomorrow.

EDUCATIONAL.

A BOY THAT FAILED

to make progress at a noted New England academy entered the Groff School recently with several having had similar experiences at other large schools. They were all put into Yale and other large colleges the following September without a condition, one year ahead of their former classmates, and their present standing at college is very high. Mr. Groff's experience with these boys is typical of the success he has had for 19 years.

THE GROFF SCHOOL,
226 West 72d St., New York.
now occupying the most handsome school quarters in New York, is ideal and exceptional as a boarding and day school.

No young and inexperienced teachers to experiment with students.

Absolutely individual attention, the number being strictly limited. No very young boys admitted in main school. Handsome study parlors, billiard room, electric elevator and full and free use of skating rink, bowling alleys, fencing hall, gymnasium, swimming pool, athletic field, etc.

Proper and judicious supervision of the daily life of all students of the school, but all foolish school disciplines, military drill and consequent loss of time eliminated. Reopens September 28th.

Principal, JOSEPH C. GROFF,
(A. B. & U. S. N. A., 1893.)
226 West 72d St., New York City.

ARGUMENTS START IN TAGGART CASE

Judge Eason Says There Is Not Much Law in It and Orders Them Short.

OPENS WITH SOME DENIALS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 8.—This morning saw the last of the evidence in the Taggart divorce case and this afternoon the arguments were started. During the morning session Fred F. Dow, the detective of Cleveland, was again on the stand and reaffirmed the statements he had made with reference to stories told him by "Billy" Taggart, concerning his relations with Mrs. Taggart. "Billy" Taggart himself was placed on the stand and he declared that he had told Dow nothing—that he had known Dow was a detective from the start.

Mrs. Taggart was recalled and asked about her care of the children. She said she had kept them in school as much as possible, that Culver had been in school at Highland Park, Ill., where he contracted scarlet fever. After his recovery he was too weak to continue school work. Letters written by Culver were shown. At 11 o'clock Attorney Stirling rested, with the exception of Maj. Newberry's deposition.

The question as to the order in which the arguments should be made stirred discussion among the attorneys. The involved nature of the pleadings resulted in a peculiar situation. Ordinarily the plaintiff has the opening and closing arguments. The court held that "this is not one lawsuit; there are two lawsuits here," and that each side should have the opening and closing of the allegations made by each.

Judge Eason further asked the attorneys for "practical business arguments," remarking: "There is not a great sight of law in the case." He gave the attorneys to understand that two days would be allowed for the arguments.

Attorney Edward S. Wertz, junior counsel for Capt. Taggart, opened the argument, taking the entire afternoon. In referring to the allegations that Capt. Taggart had been guilty of misconduct with Augustina de la Cruz, the Filipino servant in Manila, he described the woman's offensive habits and her unattractive appearance.

Speaking of Emma Lytle, the negress, who had given testimony reflecting on Capt. Taggart, Attorney Wertz said: "She's about the worst prevaricator that was ever in the chair in this court house." He severely attacked the woman's testimony.

Concerning Mrs. Taggart the lawyer said that she had no knowledge of the value of money. He mentioned that she had bought two chairs in Chicago valued at $500 and that she had incurred an expense of $800 when the children had scarlet fever. He cited other instances of alleged misuse of money. He pointed out that Mrs. Taggart had continued to associate with men who were distasteful to her husband, after the captain had asked her to keep away from them.

Wertz said that Mrs. Taggart had confessed to misconduct with Col. Miner. He admitted that Capt. Taggart had drunk, but stated that he did not become intoxicated—that he followed the custom of the post among the officers. Mrs. Vose and Emma Lytle had averred that Capt. Taggart had been drunk, but as against these statements, many of the captain's associates in the army had sworn that the captain never drank to excess. Mrs. Taggart had signed a letter, he said, written to the war department and alleging that her husband drank at home. If this man was a bad man, he asked, would the government put him in charge of such a ship as the transport Sherman?

One witness had testified, he said, that there were dozens of whisky bottles about the Taggart home in Orrville, and Capt. Taggart was 10,000 miles away at the time. He called attention to Mrs. Taggart's habit of drinking. He named those who had seen her drink and asserted that from their testimony she was not a fit person to have the care of the children. When Wertz touched upon the Ryther incident, Judge Eason interjected a remark that the charge was not substantiated by the evidence. The life of Mrs. Taggart at Orrville and other places was detailed and the lawyer offered a searching analysis of the woman's nature and character.

IS PITTSBURGH CONCERN.

Reduction Plant Damaged by Fire in Colorado Is Owned Almost Entirely by Local Investors.

Associated Press reports received yesterday announcing that a fire had caused a $75,000 loss at the plant of the American Zinc and Chemical Company at Utah Junction, near Denver, was of special interest locally. The concern is composed almost exclusively of Pittsburgh capital. Walter Lyon being president and Fred J. Shaler secretary of the company.

J. A. Kell, who is an officer in the company, stated last night that the fire loss would probably not be as serious as reported. He stated that the company owns large deposits of zinc, gold, silver and lead in the surrounding hillsides, and that a reduction plant consisting of frame buildings had been erected on the site. The loss of the buildings would not incur heavy damage, although expensive machinery was sheltered under them. No full report on the extent of the loss has been received here.

ANOTHER INSTRUCTOR FOR CARNEGIE "TECH"

H. Leland Lowe has been appointed an instructor in physics in the school of applied sciences of the Carnegie Technical schools. He is a graduate of Cornell university. The "Tech" committee will meet next Tuesday. There will probably be two or more additional members of the faculty appointed at that time. In addition, some more equipment contracts will be let and a report will be had on the progress of the construction work.

Shriners to Visit Luna.

The Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine will take possession of Luna park on Thursday evening next. Manager Ingersoll is a shriner, as are a majority of his associates at Luna. The members in Pittsburgh are expected to turn out in full force on that evening.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

ISSUES STATEMENT IN REGARD TO FATAL WRECK

Railroad Officials Cannot Understand Why Popham Did Not Make Siding.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 8.—The condition of Engineer John Popham who was in charge of the Western New York & Philadelphia excursion train yesterday that crashed into a southbound passenger train seven miles north of this city, became critical today. Harry Schetrom, who was considered much worse injured than Popham, is somewhat better today. Fred Flynn, another wreck victim, underwent amputation of a part of his left foot. All the patients at the hospital are doing well except Popham.

The body of Engineer L. C. Maskrey was this afternoon sent to Meadville for interment. William Cannon of Stoneboro, the fireman, who was instantly killed, was 20 years of age and leaves a widow and one child. Coroner Cox will hold the inquest tomorrow night.

The following statement was given out by officials of the Pennsylvania lines today:

The excursion train left New Castle Friday morning with 25 minutes to make the siding at Wilmington Junction in order to let the regular train coming to New Castle pass. The time usually consumed for the distance is 15 minutes by all passenger trains. This would give Engineer Popham 10 minutes to spare, and why he did not make it we have not determined, and perhaps it will never be known if Engineer Popham does not recover.

Rumors are to the effect that the excursion train was delayed by a work train, but the crew of the latter tell us that they did not interfere with the progress of Popham's train. The regular train arrived at the junction exactly on time and left there two minutes late on account of baggage. This we have in black and white, according to reports of the train coming south made by Conductor Helle.

There is no siding between the paper mill and the junction, and Popham had plenty of time and should have under favorable conditions made the junction siding 10 minutes before the arrival of the southbound passenger. The regular train did not know of an excursion train and had no right to know, as it has the right of way, being first class, and all other trains of inferior rights are to take care of themselves.

SHOE SAVES MAN'S LIFE.

Engineer Escapes Frightful Death by the Fact His Foot Covering Was Not Securely Tied.

KITTANNING, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—S. B. Borland, an engineer of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company at Ford City, was caught in the machinery this morning. He was thrown round and round a shaft with fearful rapidity and at the same time being carried toward a set of cog wheels that would grind his body to shreds.

Suddenly one of his shoes, which had not been securely tied, flew from his foot and lodged in the machinery in such a way that it threw off the belt. Although suffering from the shock of his frightful experience and covered with cuts and bruises, Borland is not believed to be permanently injured.

GIRL TELLS STRANGE STORY.

Charged With Killing a Child, Prisoner Implicates a Woman in the Brutal Crime.

BUTLER, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Tillie Snyder, aged 17 years, in jail here charged with murdering a child by leaving it naked and gagged in the woods till it starved to death, has made a confession in which she alleges that a young woman met her at the station in Allegheny with the child in her arms and offered her $10 to nurse it on the train on the way to Butler.

Tillie says the woman hurried away in the darkness with the child and soon returned without it, saying she had killed it and it was the fifth she had murdered. The girl has named the other woman in the case, and she will be given a chance to explain.

WOMAN CASHES CHECKS ALLEGED TO BE BAD

WARREN, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Anna Anderson was arrested this evening as she attempted to board a train for the east, charged with forgery. She was committed to jail to await a hearing. Checks aggregating about $300 were presented to local stores and in only one instance was payment refused. One check purported to be signed by E. D. Wetmore, president of the Warren Trust Company. The forgeries deceived the paying tellers at the trust company and the Warren Savings bank, both of which cashed checks presented by her.

JURY FINDS WOMAN GUILTY OF MURDER

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—After deliberating a little over an hour last night Mrs. Margaret Kennedy of New Kensington, charged with being an accessory to the killing of Howard M. Ebner, was found guilty of murder in the second degree. The woman was adjudged guilty of the same grade of murder as her husband, who is now serving a 10-year sentence in the Western penitentiary. Mrs. Kennedy received the verdict without showing emotion.

Young Boy Shoots Baby Sister.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Four-year-old David Baker, son of Samuel Baker of Ellwood, playfully placed a shotgun to the head of his seven-months-old baby sister today and fired. The entire front of the baby's skull was blown off. The boy is too young to realize the result of his act. It is not likely the injured child can live.

Man Displays Unusual Nerve.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Walter Sturrock, a sawyer for the Curtin Lumber Company, was discharged from Miners hospital today after having undergone an operation in which a bone of the arm was taken off without his taking an anesthetic. He was hurt by being drawn into a shaft.

NEGRO WITH SMALLPOX CAUSES CONSTERNATION IN A CITY HALL

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—A strapping Tennessee negro, Raymond Starlight, held the fort singlehanded at city hall here all day today. Starlight, with a companion, Henry Convill, was arrested and locked up last night for stealing a ride on a Baltimore & Ohio railroad train. When taken before Burgess Patterson this morning he said he had smallpox. The burgess, policemen and spectators saw eruptions on his face, then fled. Dr. T. H. White of the state board of health and Dr. L. P. McCormick, president of the local board of health, examined the negro and announced he had a well-developed case of the disease. All the other prisoners were released immediately and all day Starlight occupied the handsome new municipal building with not one official in sight. Arrangements were made tonight for removing the negro to a tent in an isolated spot. Starlight came here from Fairmont, W. Va.

DISCUSSION ON UNION BECOMES SPIRITED

Methodist Protestant Ministers of Pittsburgh Conference Have a Lively Session.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., Sept. 8.—After two hours' spirited discussion the members of the Pittsburgh conference in session here practically dodged the question as to its attitude toward church union with the Congregational and United Brethren churches. The resolution of the Rev. G. C. Shepherd to the effect that this conference withdraw from the movement for church union, was brought up at 3:30 p. m. A motion was at once made to lay the resolution on the table. This was carried and was an indirect victory for those in favor of union.

The commissioner elected from this conference to the meeting at Dayton next February then asked the conference to instruct him on whether he should favor church union or affiliation. The enemies of union tried a half dozen times later in the discussion to head off any instructions being given, but President Swift allowed all who wished to talk. The Rev. G. C. Westfall made a motion that the conference proceed to instruct their commissioner. A new turn was given the discussion by the Rev. M. Shafer who said the other denominations wanted only church affiliation that would gradually work about complete union, while the Methodist Protestant general conference had adopted a resolution which some interpreted to mean that the Methodist Protestant commissioners to Dayton can only vote for union of the denominations at once.

Free Methodists Hold Conference.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The quarterly conference of the Free Methodist church of the New Castle district, including Lawrence, Butler and Mercer counties, opened here today with Presiding Elder B. M. Miller of Franklin, presiding. The conference will close tomorrow, and there will be public baptisms in the Neshannock river Sunday morning.

Wants to Find Members of His Flock.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The Rev. J. J. Scherer, Jr., pastor of Grace Lutheran church, issued this advertisement today: "Wanted—All Lutherans upon whom I have not called to send me their names that I may call upon them." He is adopting this method of increasing his congregation.

METHODISTS RAISE SUM FOR SUPPORT OF COLLEGE

Erie Conference Raises $25,000 and Andrew Carnegie Will Give Like Amount.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

RIDGWAY, PA., Sept. 8.—At this morning's session of the Erie conference of the Methodist Episcopal church the Rev. W. H. Crawford, president of Allegheny college, authorized the statement that today he had received the last check necessary to secure the $25,000 raised by the friends of the college, meeting the condition imposed by Andrew Carnegie, who pledged an equal amount in addition when the cash should actually be in hand.

The preliminary report of the stewards concerning the apportionment for retired ministers and widows was read and a communication relating to their better support from Rev. J. B. Hamilton of New York was referred to a committee.

The Rev. J. H. Keeley, editor of the Prohibition paper at Franklin, in a long written statement of his position, withdrew from the ministry of the church. A resolution was adopted that a fund of over $1,400 in the hands of the trustees of the defunct Carrier seminary be placed in the hands of the Centenary society and the interest annually to be used for the aid of students living east of the Allegheny river preparing for the ministry.

SIX TINY MICE MAKE WORLD TOUR IN BOWL

WILKESBARRE, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—In a crate of chinaware which arrived here today from Nagasaki, Japan, six little Japanese mice were found well and lively, in spite of their journey of 7,000 miles and their limited quarters. They had made their nest in a large bowl and had lived off the rice straw in which the chinaware was packed. As this contains some moisture it was evidently enough to keep them alive.

Acquit Man of Murder Charge.

YORK, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The jury in the case of Albert C. Brenneman, the Pennsylvania railroad detective, charged with murder following the shooting of Charles W. Johnston on February 15, 1906, after being out three hours, brought in a verdict of not guilty. It is said that the majority of the jury were for acquittal from the beginning.

MAJ. MILLER WILL LEAD SPANISH WAR VETERANS

Cousin of President McKinley Is Selected for Commander-in-Chief.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 8.—United Spanish War Veterans today chose Washington for the next meeting place and ended the business of the annual encampment by disposing of various proposals and electing the following officers:

Commander-in-chief, Maj. Charles R. Miller, Cleveland; senior vice commander-in-chief, Maj. John M. Harland, Buffalo; junior vice commander-in-chief, Capt. E. E. Kirk, California.

The contest for commander-in-chief was spirited, Gen. George M. Moulton of Chicago being defeated by a narrow margin by Maj. Miller, who is a cousin of William McKinley.

Washington's request for the next reunion was presented by Capt. Walter Mitchell and the capital was chosen over San Francisco. The date of the 1906 encampment will not be later than October 15, the time of meeting to be selected so as to make it convenient for President Roosevelt to attend.

The woman's auxiliary today elected Mrs. Mary E. Gedney of Mount Vernon, New York, president, and Mrs. Jessie Booth Perry of Chicago, vice president. The effort to change the eligibility qualifications of admission to the auxiliary failed.

Veterans and their wives and friends enjoyed an evening of entertainment tonight in an amusement park. Installation of officers, a parade and a campfire take place tomorrow.

PANAMA ENGINEERS DECIDE ON LOCATION

Present Lines of Proposed Canal Are Approved and Cost Will Next Be Taken Up.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The board of consulting engineers of the Panama canal met today. The members have been studying the various maps and data which the isthmian canal commission had collected for them, and the discussion today related to the size of the locks and of the canal itself. When these shall have been decided upon it will be possible to make an estimate of the cost of the lock canal and to compare this with the cost of the sea level canal.

The members of the board have been invited by President Roosevelt to visit him and will leave New York next Monday morning on board the Sylph for Oyster Bay, where the president will entertain them at luncheon. They will return to Washington the same day.

The important conclusion reported by the board as the result of the three hours' meeting today was that the location of the canal as marked on the official maps of the commission known as the French location, shall be accepted as a basis for the detailed discussion of its structure, which is to follow. This action was taken formally by a vote of the board.

NEW ORGAN IS HEARD.

Young People of an Allegheny Church Get Carnegie's Aid.

The Young People's society of the First German Methodist Episcopal church, Ohio street and Union avenue, Allegheny, held a concert last night for the purpose of raising money to aid in liquidating the debt contracted in installing a pipe organ. The instrument was used for the first time last night. It was obtained through the efforts of the Young Men's society of the church, which raised subscriptions and communicated with Andrew Carnegie, who contributed $700 of the $1,800 that it cost.

The program last night was an excellent one. Earnest C. Beatty, organist of the Third United Presbyterian church, presided at the organ. A male chorus composed of young men of the church rendered several numbers. Others who took part were Edward Scherpf, Mrs. William J. Crawford and George Ebbert.

Club Denies Charges.

The Belvidere club of Homestead, in answer to a petition of the borough to have its charter revoked, denies all the charges against it, and questions the authority of the borough to maintain such an action. The club denies that profane language is used in the building, that stench emits from the place or that the members sing ribald songs, and otherwise conduct themselves in a disorderly and indecent manner. The action of the borough was prompted by a letter sent by Mrs. S. Gibson who lives near the club.

PFISTER SUES COUNTY OFFICERS FOR DAMAGES

Milwaukee Millionaire, Indicted by Grand Jury, Turns Upon His Foes.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 8.—Charles E. Pfister has begun civil action against District Attorney Francis E. McGovern, Assistant District Attorney Henry F. Cohems, Special Assistant District Attorney Guy D. Goff, Theodore Kronshage, Jr., Harry P. Myrick, H. A. J. Upham, James K. Ilsley and J. H. Tweedy, charging conspiracy and asking $500,000 damages. Mr. Pfister recites that he is connected with many industrial and financial enterprises in Wisconsin and neighboring states and claims that he is a victim of a conspiracy throughout the United States.

It is also alleged that the defendants, who are the leaders of the LaFollette faction in this city, planned to have Pfister indicted so as to bring into question his honesty and then delay his trial that he might be under a cloud for a long time, thus ruining his business and driving him out of politics. He asserts that the Free Press, owned by Ilsley, Tweedy, Myrick, Upham, LaFollette and Stephenson, has libeled him and that the owners of that paper, together with the district attorneys, have conspired to hold him up to public view as a thief and grafter.

Pfister also threatens criminal action against each of the defendants in the civil action and startling developments are expected within the next few days.

The suit filed today follows the $250,000 case begun Wednesday against the Free Press by Mr. Pfister.

PENNSYLVANIA HEADS UNION.

More Pensions in This State Than Any Other—Government Sends Money to All the World.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—According to the annual report of Commissioner of Pensions Warner, there are more pensioners in Pennsylvania than in any other state. The number on the rolls in this state is 160,950, who receive from the government in pensions $13,478,148. Next to Pennsylvania in the number of pensioners comes Ohio, with 100,255, who receive help from the government in the sum of $12,102,612. West Virginia has 12,216 who receive pensions aggregating $1,736,033. There were 47,308 old soldiers who received $5,458,675 from the Pittsburgh pension agency last year. Among these were 15 survivors of the war of 1812; 151 of the war with Mexico; 1 from the Indian wars; 45,290 of the civil war and 632 of the war with Spain.

All the old soldiers who receive pensions do not reside in the United States. Last year $745,372 was sent to pensioners who reside in foreign countries, there being 16 of them in Japan and 15 in Russia. Remittances are sent by the government to pensioners in every section of the globe.

FLOWS 1,000 BARRELS.

Local Men Hear of Remarkable Gusher Obtained in Eastern Illinois.

Word has been received in Pittsburgh by letter of a remarkable gusher obtained in the Eastern Illinois oil field by Hobiltzell & Co. The well was brought in a week ago today and was under such pressure that the workmen were unable to control it to check the flow. The pressure was strong enough to hurl large rocks high into the air. Old operators estimate the flow at 1,000 barrels daily.

The well is located on the David Lee farm, about five miles from Casey, Ill. Hobiltzell & Co. have been operating in that field for about a year and have about 25 wells. The members of the firm at J. J. Hobiltzell of Myersdale, Pa., and Oliver Hobiltzell of Baltimore.

ASKS DAMAGES FROM THE LITTLE KANAWHA

Claim Made Railroad Did Make Improvements for Which Bonds Were Issued.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 8.—Suit was filed today by F. P. Moats on behalf of the county court of Wood county against the Little Kanawha railroad for $100,000 damages. In 1895 Wood county issued $175,000 bonds and turned them over to the Little Kanawha railroad to aid in its construction. The conditions were that within five years the railroad company should complete a bridge into Parkersburg and that it should maintain shops in Parkersburg. The company has never erected the shops or the bridge. The company owns part of the property embraced in the holdings of the Little Kanawha syndicate, which has figured in the difficulties between President Ramsey and the Goulds and which is said to have been purchased by the Vanderbilt interests.

DISCHARGE FIREMEN ON GAMBLING CHARGE

KITTANNING, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The grand jury of Armstrong county has declared that the paddle wheel is not a gambling device and that the firemen who operated several of them at the street fair in this place had not been gambling. The grand jury not only ignored the indictments against the accused, but found that the Rev. A. C. Carroll, who had reported to the constable, was the prosecutor and must pay the costs.

Clever Girl Buncoes Irwin Merchants.

IRWIN, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—A well-dressed girl about 18 years of age today buncoed a half dozen merchants and left town with many dollars worth of goods. Appearing at a store without a hat on she presented an order signed by a well-known woman resident. Thus she made the rounds of the drygoods establishments, millinery, furnishing and shoe stores, making liberal selections at each. In a convenient uptown furniture store she had suit cases and valises and here her packing was done.

Arrange for Corner Stone Laying.

LATROBE, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The Rev. Henry McCullough, pastor of the Holy Trinity church of Latrobe, has completed arrangements for the laying of the corner stone of the new Catholic church in course of erection here. The exercises, in charge of the Rt. Rev. J. F. Regis Canevin, will take place on the afternoon of Sunday, October 1.

Charge Socialist With Contempt.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Fred Merrick, the young editor of "The Social Rebel," who was jailed yesterday for refusing to answer questions asked by the grand jury in an investigation of charges of bribery made in his paper, refused again today to answer the questions, and was sentenced to 10 days in jail and a fine of $25 for contempt of court. His father is a well-known lawyer.

Vicious Ram Causes Trouble.

COSHOCTON, O., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—James Adler and Frank Hunter while resting on a log today were attacked suddenly from behind by a vicious ram. Adler was knocked several feet and Hunter, who fled, was seriously injured by the horns of the animal.

Attorney Hurt by Falling Iron.

ALL GIVE MICKLE BAD REPUTATION

Women Tell How Husband Beat and Often Threatened to Kill His Wife.

WOOD ALCOHOL DESCRIBED

Mrs. Mickle was again in the hands of Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., yesterday. She was more composed than on the previous day and in answer to Mr. Robb's question as to what her husband meant by saying when she struck him with the hammer: "Haven't you done enough to me?" denied it vehemently. It was intimated that Mrs. Chapin had heard her say she meant to do more to him, and the witness said: "If she says I said that she lies."

Bessie Jenkins, a patient at the hospital when Mrs. Mickle was there, said the defendant had told her she did not kill her husband. Mrs. Madgett, a tenant in the house where the dead man was found, said Mrs. Mickle was a good woman and stayed at home and attended to her own business. She said the husband did not treat his wife right. She recalled seeing her one day with a swollen mouth and Mrs. Mickle told her Mickle had tried to knock her teeth out. She regarded Mickle as a dangerous man.

The afternoon of the shooting, she said, they all thought he was again abusing his wife. She would not admit she heard Mrs. Mickle say she killed her husband, nor could she recall any events occurring at her home when called on there by Mr. Robb and Superintendent Glenn. She remembered seeing a bottle of ink without a cork in Mrs. Mickle's room after the shooting, and also of seeing Mrs. Mickle give Mrs. Womser a pocketbook and heard her tell her something about money and a watch, but she did not hear her say she killed her husband.

Gave Woman Good Character.

Dr. Steverson of the Allegheny General hospital staff described the effects of wood alcohol on the brain and said it would be possible for one under its influence to make untruthful statements.

Mrs. Jacob Holler of 266 East Ohio street, where the Mickles had once lived, gave Mrs. Mickle a good character and her husband a bad one. She said Mickle beat his wife and often got his revolver from his trunk and threatened to kill her. She interfered at times and once Mickle hit her.

Mollie Carson also told of Mickle's abuse of his wife, and once when she picked the woman up from the bottom of a stair where he knocked her, she said she found he had given her ether. Mickle ran and did not return home for two days. Mrs. Mollie Turner also gave Mickle a bad name. Mrs. Chapin was not allowed to repeat her testimony that Mrs. Mickle said she meant "to do what she said she would do."

Attorney J. L. Ritchey for the defense spoke nearly two hours. He said that Mickle had killed himself by his own vice and drew a word picture of the life Mrs. Mickle was obliged to lead with her husband, and the affection she had shown him on all occasions until the day of his death. Attorney Ritchey, taking up the revolver, sought to demonstrate to the jury that the weapon was easily discharged. He then took up the evidence introduced and went over it in a careful manner, drawing the attention of the jurors to each point favorable to Mrs. Mickle. He told the jury that it was possible that in falling to the floor after he had been shot Mickle might have unconsciously grasped the revolver from the floor which would account for it being found in his hands by the police. In closing his address he asked for the speedy acquittal of Mrs. Mickle.

Mr. Robb paid particular attention to the letter supposed to have been written by Mrs. Mickle, which was found in the room after the killing, as bearing out the testimony of the commonwealth that the woman had shot her husband in a willful manner, and then realizing the seriousness of her act, had drank the bottle of wood alcohol to end her own life. The contention of Attorney Ritchey in telling the jury that Mickle had caught up the revolver after being shot, said Mr. Robb, was absurd, as physicians had testified that death was instantaneous. In closing his address, Mr. Robb cautioned the jury to lose sight of the fact that it was a woman that was on trial.

The jury retired at 5:45 o'clock, the court stating that a recess would be taken until 7:30 p. m., to receive the verdict in case the jury agreed.

MOST PALATIAL TRAIN.

"Bankers' Special" Will Carry Five Hundred Passengers, and Be Equipped With Most Modern Apparatus.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—What will probably be the most palatial train ever to leave Chicago will be the "Bankers' special," which will go over the Big Four railway October 7. It will carry 500 prominent financial men of the west, delegates to the convention of the American Bankers' association at Washington, D. C., October 9. The train will consist of 10 of the finest Pullman cars—four open 16 section sleepers, two compartment sleepers, a buffet, library and observation car, and two of the new dining cars.

In addition to the regular porters, there will be negro maids and barbers; also will water baths, a ticker service for receiving market reports and probably a wireless telegraph apparatus. The train will go from Cincinnati to Old Point Comfort, and thence the bankers will go to Washington via the Potomac on a special steamer.

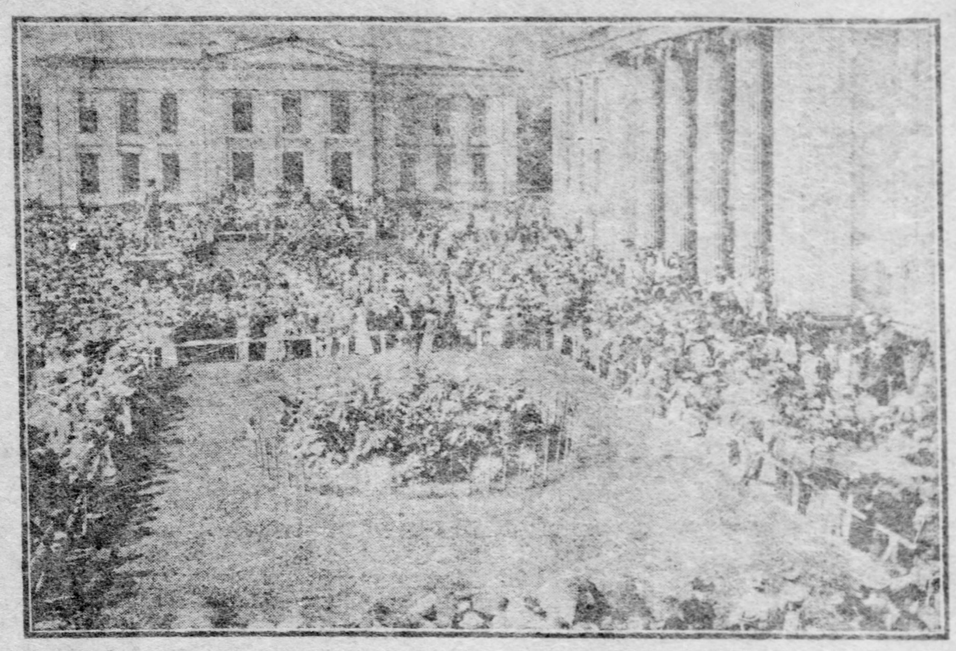
Admiral Reaches Age Limit.

WASHINGTON Sept. 8.—Rear Admiral Charles J. Barclay was today placed on the retired list of the navy on account of age, after 45 years' continuous service. Admiral Barclay is a native of Pennsylvania, and was appointed to the naval academy from that state in September, 1860.

President Is Going South.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Sept. 8.—Secretary Loeb has written the mayor here stating that President Roosevelt will be in Montgomery on October 23 for three hours.

NORWAY'S VOTE ON SECESSION



Almost the entire vote of Norway was favorable to the dissolution of the union with Sweden, only a few hundred being recorded against it. On the day the referendum was taken the students and merchants' singing clubs sang the Norwegian national songs before a great audience in front of the Hall of the University. The singers were in porticos to the right. On the left is the statue of Prof. Schweigard, the eminent jurist and politician.

STATE OF UNEASINESS PREVAILS IN NORWAY

Dissolution of Union Is Looked Upon as Having an Element of Danger.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHRISTIANIA, Sept. 8.—Wit hthe return today from Karlstad of the Norwegian commissioners sent to discuss with the commissioners of Sweden the question of the dissolution of the union, a decided sense of uneasiness prevails and this is accentuated by the complete silence observed in official circles regarding the progress of the negotiations.

Even in the most pacific circles the situation is looked upon as having an element of danger and the prevalent nervousness has been increased by the tone of the Swedish newspapers which are calling upon the government to mobilize 70,000 troops, at the same time pointing out that Norway is only able to command 3,000 troops.

While the Swedish riksdag demanded that the "fortresses" recently erected be no longer maintained, the Swedish newspapers insist that the fortifications of the old fortresses of Fredrikstein and Kongsvinger shall be destroyed.

No suggestion could be made which would more deeply wound the national pride of the Norwegians. Kongsvinger is 30 miles from the frontier and holds a commanding position for the possession of Christiania, the richest section of Norway, while the corresponding zone in Sweden, it is pointed out, is "unimportant and has never been fortified." Responsible persons here say that the arrogant tone adopted by the Swedish press, unless it is modified, is likely to lead to serious developments.

REPUBLICANS WANT TO PICK DEMOCRAT TO BEAT TAMMANY

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The Republican organization of this city wants a Democrat to head the fusion ticket this fall. County Chairman William Halpin, the spokesman of the organization, came out squarely today on this proposition. He said that for six weeks he had been convinced that the anti-Tammany candidate for mayor ought to be a Democrat.

Not until this afternoon has he expressed that opinion, however, and the Republican rank and file meanwhile have been emphatic in their expressed desire to have a man of their own party head the city ticket.

Mr. Halpin and former Gov. Odell have frequently said that the Republicans would support a Democrat if that were necessary to bring about a coalition against Tammany. The position of the Republicans today is not merely that the nomination of a Democrat is advisable because it will make fusion easy, but that it is essential if victory over Tammany is the object of the campaign.

"I am thoroughly convinced that a Democrat ought to be placed at the head of the fusion ticket," Mr. Halpin said. "I have been of that opinion for six weeks."

Thief Takes to the Woods.

Alexander Mawhinney, aged 22, was held for court yesterday in $1,000 bail on a charge of larceny. It was testified at the hearing that the prisoner entered the home of John Derrain, Morningside road, on Thursday afternoon and stole a gold watch, some razors and some articles of clothing. He was captured in the woods above Morningside later by Capt. Welsh, and the goods were found on him.

CARGO OF MONKEYS SEIZE SHIP AND RAISE TROUBLE

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—It will be a long, long time before the officers of the steam freighter Montrose, in today from Yokohama on her maiden trip with a cargo of rice and oriental stuff, ever take a monkey on board ship again. For a week 100 of the little beasts made life a living horror for everybody, killed all the Chinese dogs on board, and finally drove the Chinese cook, Hoy Sing, to suicide.

The monkeys, to the number of 209, were taken on board at Yokohama by the ship's officers, who had intended to sell them in this country. A Japanese monkey is a small, wire haired engine of destruction and iniquity. Animal trainers say that one Japanese monkey is meaner than four ordinary Simians.

The monkeys were put in wicker cages, 20 to the cage. The whole outfit was stowed on the aft deck and was in charge of a Mongolian named Hoy Sing. He was a person of extremely nervous character, and not at all reconciled to his task.

Among the monkeys there was one very large and crafty fellow who bore the name of Marquis Ito.

On the morning of August 10, just as they were coming through the Suez canal, trouble started. Hoy Sing had left Ito's cage insecurely fastened, and that designing brute had slipped the door aside and escaped, with his 19 fellow prisoners. He immediately began to undo the fastenings of all the other cages. He had already liberated over 100 of the pests before Hoy Sing interrupted. Pandemonium broke loose. The four-limbed torpedoes took to the rigging.

That night the monkeys came down from aloft and looted the ship. They sacked the galley and attacked every Chinaman that was not hidden in a locker or cabin. Hoy Sing, the keeper, was singled out for especial attention. They drove Hoy Sing half crazy, for he got not a moment's peace night or day. Finally one early morning he threw himself overboard.

Finally the monkeys were starved into submission. Over 40 died of starvation or fell overboard in attempting to escape their pursuers.

LAST DAMROSCH DAY AT THE EXPOSITION

Varied Afternoon Program and Haydn's Farewell Symphony at Night Scheduled.

The farewell performances of Damrosch and his orchestra on the present engagement at the Pittsburgh exposition will be given this afternoon and evening and it is expected that exceptionally large audiences will meet to hear for the last time this fall the well rendered music. Especial interest is given to this evening's rendition of Haydn's Farewell Symphony.

At last evening's concert, consisting mainly of Wagnerian works, there was a large assemblage of the elite of the city. In the first half of the program were played the Processional from the Knights of the Holy Grail and the Good Friday Spell from Parsifal. The solos of Mr. Saslavsky were rendered with his usual ability.

The afternoon's program today will contain selections from Meyerbeer, Bach, Wagner, Beethoven and Grieg in the first half, with works of Kroeger, Raff, Ries, Chopin and Waldteufel in the second.

Sousa is expected here from New York Monday morning. He will be at the Exposition all of next week and then returns for the closing week, October 16-21. The "March King" is one of the most popular conductors who visits Pittsburgh. In fact, according to a voting contest conducted recently in New York, he is the best liked composer in the country. The contest was conducted by the management of the Warren concerts. During the week of polling about 10,000 votes were received and this was the result of a balloting:

Sousa, 3,700; Herbert, 1,562; Nevin, 1,509; MacDowell, 911; De Koven, 452; Warren, 208; Luders, 134; Paine, 98; Foster, 90; Parker, 70; Buck 60.

The following are the programs for this afternoon:

PART I.

Coronation March, from "Le Prophete".....Meyerbeer
(a) Air on G string, (b) Gavotte in E.....Bach
Prize Song from "Die Meistersinger"...Wagner
Larghetto from Symphony No. 2.....Beethoven
Suite, "Peer Gynt," No. 1.....Grieg
(1) In the Morning. (2) Asa's Death. (3) Anitra's Dance. (4) In the Halls of the Mountain King.

PART II.

(a) Scattering the Roses, (b) Dance of the Girls of the Pagoda, From Suite "Lalla Rookh".....Kroeger
March Movement (Farewell) from the "Leonore" Symphony.....Raff
(a) Adagio, Mr. Saslavsky, (b) Perpetuum Mobile (played by all the first violins).....Ries
Funeral March.....Chopin
Waltz, "Ever or Never".....Waldteufel

MEET ALL CREDITORS OF STATE BANK TODAY

Auditors Wolfe and Millar Will Hold Business Session at Bloomfield Building.

In the offices of D. M. Miller, attorney for Receiver John F. Steel of the defunct State Bank of Pittsburgh, Bloomfield, an interesting meeting was held yesterday. Auditors Leroy J. Wolfe and Albert Millar met a number of the depositors and others interested in the proposed distribution of the funds. Today at 9 o'clock at the old bank building they will be ready to meet all the depositors and hear their statements. The report will be here for five days and should no exceptions be filed it will be confirmed by the Dauphin county court next Wednesday and the work of sending out the checks then can be started. There will have to be a separate check for each of the 1,400 depositors.

As announced in The Gazette yesterday, the basis of the distribution at present will be 42 cents on the dollar of deposits. While the loss is regretted by all, this is generally accepted as the best the receiver could do under the circumstances. There will probably be more money yet received, since the receiver has taken in $27,832 68 since his account was filed a year ago.

The report of the auditors gives no favored creditors. It is not known whether there will be legal fights on the part of some of those who claim to be entitled to preference in the distribution of the funds.

Erie Orders New Cars.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The Erie railroad today gave an order for the construction of 3,500 steel under-frame box cars of 80,000 pounds capacity and American Railway association dimensions. All will be equipped with airbrakes, automatic couplers and all modern safety appliances. This is in addition to the order for 2,000 cars now building by the American Car and Foundry Company, 400 of which have just been delivered.

One Killed, Two Fatally Hurt.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Sept. 8.—Engineer Peter Neusen of Holland was killed and Brakemen Herman Hans and Trout were fatally injured in a Pere Marquette wreck near Zeeland early today. Nausen was engineer of the fruit express, which crashed headon and at full speed against a special southbound engine and caboose. The two trains met on a sharp curve.

SECRETARY SHAW PREDICTS ERA OF GREAT PROSPERITY

Confidence, Good Crops and Easy Money Are Factors in Bringing Good Times.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw was quoted in Wall street today as having said regarding general business and financial conditions:

"Confidence in the continued prosperity of the country is at the foundation of the healthy condition of the treasury. With big crops throughout the land, manufacturing establishments busy and workmen employed, it is reasonable that our merchants should count on increased purchases of goods, and that accounts for the big increase in imports that pay duty. What the future holds in store no man can say, but the prospects for the year are exceedingly bright.

"Our national bank circulation shows a comfortable increase, and even with the big demand for money to move the crops this year, there is no intimation of a stringency. There is a prospect for a further increase in bank notes during the next two years that is likely to meet all wants of the business world."

Shaw's Chance for Fish Stories.

BURLINGTON, VT., Sept. 8.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw was one of the principal speakers at the annual outing of the Vermont Fish and Game league held at Bluffpoint, N. Y., today. Among the others who made addresses were Assistant United States District Attorney Charles H. Robb and Maj.-Gen. J. H. Wilson of Trenton, N. J.

Heavy Fire Loss in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 8.—The Schafer & Becker building at Nos. 29-31 Michigan street, occupied by various manufacturing concerns, was gutted by fire today. The losses will aggregate $100,000.

Nine New Cases of Typhoid.

Nine cases of typhoid fever and three of scarlet fever were reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday.

WANT TO ADVANCE RATES.

Letter Carriers' Convention Discussing Forty Per Cent Advance for Insurance.

PORTLAND, ORE., Sept. 8.—The convention of the National Letter Carriers' association spent much time today in a discussion of the proposed advance in insurance rates of the benefit branch of the order.

A majority report of the insurance committee commending an increase of about 40 per cent in the present rates was opposed by a minority report, which contended that the advance to the rate prevailing among the fraternal organizations would tend to drive letter carriers to other fraternal insurance organizations.

Will Resume Meetings.

The weekly meetings of the United Presbyterian Ministerial association will be resumed on Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The principal paper will be read by the Rev. Dr. John McNaugher, on "The Coming Psalmody Convention."

MACKEREL'S HABITS BARS OUT AMERICAN FISHERMEN

Fish Will Not Go Outside the Three Mile Limit and Yankees Dare Not Go In—State Department Worried.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—A. B. Alexander, chief of the division of statistics and methods of the bureau of fisheries of the department of commerce and labor, is spending the fishing season on the Grampus, the boat attached to the bureau, investigating conditions of fishing off the coast of New Foundland, particularly with regard to the rights of American fishermen in those waters. It is admitted at the state department that he is acting in a dual capacity, as an investigation of facts and a possible mediator.

Since the treaty of 1818 lapsed and the efforts of the state department to negotiate a new treaty failed, American fishermen in those waters have fallen upon hard times, etc.

They are liable at any time to arrest if they are found within the three-mile limit, they cannot procure bait nor dry fish that they have caught outside of the statutory limit, and it is for the purpose of alleviating these hard conditions that the Grampus is now cruising in those waters, keeping in touch with both the authorities on law and the fleet which tried to make a living at sea.

Mr. Alexander's problem is further complicated by the fact that the shore fishermen of New Foundland and also of Labrador are engaged in a competitive trade in the sale of bait to American fishermen. The latter may not venture within the three-mile limit save in stress of weather, but there is no prohibition against the subjects of New Foundland or of Canada from going out beyond that limit and selling squid to the Cape Cod fishermen. The New Foundlanders were the first to see the advantage, but they are now being outdone by the people of Labrador and this has caused a more stringent application of the law than ever.

Two years ago the state department endeavored to find a solution for these difficulties in a new treaty, but New Foundland demanded the free entry of its cured fish and this was opposed by New England senators, and particularly by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. This has embittered New Foundland, and American fishermen are liable to seizure at any time. The presence of the Grampus is considered necessary by the administration to preserve the peace between the Massachusetts fishermen, who have followed the mackerel north and who claim that they cannot be caught outside of the three-mile limit, and the New Foundland authorities who resent the prohibition of their cured fish from the United States and also the competition of Labrador in the bait-selling business.

RECORDS WERE LOWERED ON BRUNOTS ISLAND TRACK

TRACK RECORDS ARE FRACTURED

Mr. Billings' Major Delmar and Morning Star Set New Marks for Brunots Island.

CLOSE OF A GREAT MEETING

In a climax of sport the second and concluding day of the intercity amateur meet held by the Matinee club at Brunots Island furnished the grandest light harness sport ever seen in these parts. C. K. G. Billing's Morning Star established a new pacing record on the track, 2:04½, equaling the world's pacing record to a wagon made last fall at Memphis by Mr. Billings' Anaus Pointer.

Morning Star's race record was 2:04¾ and his wagon record was 2:07¼, made in the race last week for the Chicago cup. The new mark he set yesterday was in the free-for-all pace, in which he beat Lady May and Frank Wilson. The previous pacing record for the track was held by Lady May, 2:07½. Morning Star was bought last year by Mr. Billings from Lon McDonald for $6,500, and is thought by horsemen to be a two-minute pacer.

Not to be outdone in the way of record-breaking, Major Delmar (1:59¾), the trotting king, also in the stable of Mr. Billings, set a new trotting mark for Brunots Island track by stepping a mile in 2:06 and then coming back for a half in one minute flat. Dr. Strong had only the day before set a new mark of 2:08 for the track, reducing the record made last fall over the course of 2:08¾ by Mr. Billings' Aristo.

Mr. Billings could not be present to see the grand performances of his two record-breakers. He is in New York, from where he sails September 20 for a trip abroad. His flyers were both piloted by H. K. Devereaux, the clever Cleveland reinsman.

Pittsburgh horses nearly swept the boards yesterday, capturing six of the eight events decided, Cleveland getting two. In the division of the 14 cups offered at the two days' meeting, Pittsburgh gets nine, Cleveland four and Memphis one. Chicago and Boston failed to land a trophy. President Bennett of the Matinee club said last night that a cup would be presented tonight to Arnold Lawson of Boston. "He is such a clever fellow and splendid sportsman that I was sorry that he failed to win a race," said Mr. Callery. Mr. Lawson brought to Pittsburgh a string of seven.

It was a glorious day for the sport and brought out another crowd of about 5,000. The threatening clouds of the early afternoon probably kept many from the track. Some of the Cleveland horsemen thought the track a trifle deep and such long striders as Aerolite, trained over the track at Glenwood, was thought not to take kindly to Brunots. This could hardly be the case for the track must have been fast as the time made shows.

The sport started with the unfinished 2:06 pace of the day before in which Sufreet and Terrace Queen each had a heat. Mr. Whitcomb went to the front early with Terrace Queen and she led at the quarter by four lengths, Sufreet a length in front of Angus Pointer. At the half the order was Terrace Queen, Sufreet and Angus Pointer and lengths apart. Rounding the far turn Pointer passed Sufreet and set sail for Terrace Queen. Mr. Devereaux drove hard home and Angus Pointer came with a splendid burst of speed, but Terrace Queen lasted long enough to win by a nose in a most thrilling finish. It was a popular win by Mr. Whitcomb of one of the best races of the meet.

George W. Baum won the 2:12 pace with his Chamber of Commerce candidate, Miss Georgie. "Professional drivers have been showing what they could do with her without success, and I thought I would just see what the old man could do," said he. The mare, which is all class, has been erratic heretofore, but she went two smooth miles for Mr. Baum. Mr. Contegiar's mare Sweet Marie, the Chicago horses, Dot and Marigold, were outclassed. In the first heat Miss Georgie led Sweet Marie by about four lengths the whole journey. In the second heat Sweet Marie cut down a lead of several lengths in the stretch drive, but Miss Georgie got to the wire first by a neck. Mr. Baum received quite an ovation from members of the Schenley Matinee club, of which he is president.

Henry Schmulbach of Wheeling, who entered from Cleveland, won the 2:28 trot in straight heats with Paul Wilson. President W. C. Brown of the Gentlemen's Driving club of Chicago, started Claude E. and he seemed to be winning the first heat when Mr. Devereaux brought up Paul Wilson and just nipped him under the wire. In the second heat Paul Wilson led all the way and won on the end from Claude E. by two lengths.

J. E. Barnes' Joe N. won his second race of the meeting by capturing the 2:16 trot yesterday. Dave D. McDonald, manager of the Brunots Island track, brought the gelding here from New York last winter and he has been a veritable find, never losing a race over the Brunots track. In the first heat Redwood had a lead of half a length over Joe N. at the quarter. Redwood going into a break at the half, the black gelding went into the lead and came to wire a length to the good on the bit. Mr. Buhl had not been good, but could not be kept on her feet. Acrelite acted as if she did not like the track and went into a hopeless break at the quarter. J. D. Chapman was behind Redwood. In the second heat Mr. Bennett drove him. Redwood and Joe N. went to the quarter heads apart, the former showing slight advantage. Going around the turn the second half, Joe N. went away and won from Redwood by a length, the same distance before the other two were together.

Then came the exhibition mile by Major Delmar, driven by H. K. Devereaux, accompanied by a runner in the hands of Doc Tanner, Mr. Billings' trainer. They scored nicely and then the Major was off on his fast journey. The quarters were: 31½, 1:01½, 1:34¾, and 2:06. When the time was hung out horse and driver got a great ovation. Doc Tanner afterward drove him a half, the last one of the course, in a minute flat. Each quarter was gone in 30 seconds.

The sensational race of the day was the free-for-all pace, in which Morning Star, Lady May and Frank Wilson turned. The crowd was for Mr. Avey's mare Lady May, who held the track pacing record, 2:07¼. In the first heat at the quarter she led Morning Star by two lengths, at the half it was one length and squared for home Morning Star was at her wheel, Lady May with the lead went into a break at the draw gate and Morning Star won from Frank Wilson by four lengths in a new mark for the track, 2:07¼. In the second heat Morning Star led Lady May at the quarter by a length, at the half they were together when Morning Star went away and had a lead of two lengths at the three-quarter pole. Morning Star, in a magnificent burst of speed, came home with daylight all around him in 2:04½, equaling the world's pacing record to a wagon. Frank Wilson was second and must have gone the mile in 2:07. Morning Star's quarters were: 31¼, 1:03, 1:34½, 2:04½. Lady May was not as good as she was before she went to Chicago. Many predict that she will go around 2:04 before the season is over.

In the 2:15 trot R. H. Boggs turned the tables on H. K. Devereaux, who beat his Oxar in Chicago with Orrin C. The latter broke at the first turn in the first heat and was out of it. In the second heat Oxar carried him off his feet at the five-eighths pole and Boggs came home alone.

H. S. Hunt Westview won a nice race in two straight heats in the 2:19 trot. Arnold Lawson's Maid of Dreamwold was the contender in both heats. In the first it was Westview by a length and in the second by half a length.

The last race of the meet was a special trot which went to four heats. The crowd wanted to see Arnold Lawson win this race with Baroness. Henry Buhl, Jr.'s Ramona, driven by Frank Dohrman, won the first heat from Baroness by a length. Ramona was not away well in the second heat and crowded at the first turn. Mr. Lawson led nearly to the wire and was nipped by Westwood. The third heat was won by Westwood, but he was set back for running, the heat going to Baroness. Mr. Lawson worked like a demon in the fourth heat, but Westwood just caught him at the wire. It looked as if he had won by a good neck, but Mr. Lawson agreed with the judges and said that Westwood had got to him.

Last night the banquet was held at the Pittsburgh Country club, J. B. Chapman acting as toastmaster. The cups won at the meeting were presented to the winners. The horses and horses will leave this morning. Mr. Lawson will go to Syracuse. The Cleveland and Chicago horses go home.

NATHAN STRAUS WINS THE FREE-FOR-ALL PACE

Two Out of Three Favorites Were First at Charter Oak—Tiverton May Not Start Today.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARTFORD, CONN., Sept. 8.—Two out of three favorites won in the races of the grand circuit meet today, at Charter Oak park, Nathan Straus taking the free-for-all pace in two straight heats, and Jim Ferry capturing the 2:10 trot with little effort. Lizzie G. opened a favorite in the 2:15 trot and took the first two heats, but broke at the half mile post in the third heat and could not make up the distance. Jim Fenton carried off the honors in the race by winning the third, fourth and fifth heats.

In the free-for-all Nathan Straus had things his own way and was only headed once; this being in the second heat when John M., by a sudden burst of speed, got his nose in front, but was unable to hold the position.

It was rumored here today that Tiverton would not start in the free-for-all trot tomorrow in which Sweet Marie, Charlie Herr, McKinley and George G. are entered. Summaries:

ACCIDENTS ON TRACK.

Last Day at Stoneboro Shows Some Very Fast Going.

FRANKLIN, Sept. 8.—The last day of the Stoneboro fair and races drew only 5,000 people, but the races were the best of the week. The 2:18 pace was particularly exciting. Two accidents occurred during the afternoon, but neither was serious. In checking up at the judges' stand Jasper, a youngster in the 2:30 trot, fell down and turned completely over, but injured neither himself nor his driver. The driver of Trelawney in the 2:19 trot lost a wheel, throwing him out. The horse ran away and cut himself severely. The summaries:

PIRATES MISSED THEIR LEADER

Clarke Was Injured and the Team Went to Pieces on Bases and in the Field.

LUCKY VICTORY FOR THE REDS

The Cincinnati Reds may be considered in the light of a baseball joke when that team stacks up against the Giants, but it is different when Kelley and his crew have the Pirates as their opponents. Then they seem to realize that they are drawing a salary on the strength of being ball players. That, at least, was the case yesterday, and the despised Reds lambasted the life out of the locals and won the second game of the series 8 to 3, much to the disgust of 2,330 dyed-in-the-wool lovers of the game.

A glance at the tabulated score will show that during the afternoon the Pirates managed to pile up 14 hits, six of which were two-baggers, and were given seven bases on balls, which are almost equivalent to hits, and yet could only score three runs. That record shows that there must have been something wrong in the base-running department of the team, and as a further proof that there was, it is shown that no less than 15 runners were left on the bases. That record looks bad for a team that is making the Giants hustle to keep the pennant lead, but facts are facts, and in the face of these it is not much wonder that the team went down to defeat.

When Manager Clarke was carried off the field in the ambulance a victim of a feet-first slide into third base in order to save a putout—there went with him all the life that the Pirates seemed to be possessed of, and after that they played like a lot of automatons. The gallant leader of the Pirates had ruptured a blood vessel in his foot, and it will be a week or more before he will be able to get back into the game. When he was partly carried off the field the spectators in the stand paid him a deserved compliment when almost every man rose to his feet and cheered him on the way to the clubhouse. Beaumont, who returned from Mt. Clemens in the morning, went out to his old position after Clarke's injury and Leach shifted over to left field.

Deacon Phillippe started in to do the honors for the locals and, as has been the case for the past three seasons, his curves seemed to be made to order for the Reds. The Deacon lasted but three innings, during which time the visitors piled up five runs as a result of four of as clean hits as were ever punched out at the park, three of them being three-baggers. Patsy Flaherty was called to duty after the bombardment of the Deacon, and the little Irishman was in his best, but the visitors were in a batting humor, and would not be denied. Patsy in six innings was touched up for nine hits.

Charley Chech was the visitors' twirler and he was mighty lucky to get away with the game, as the locals pounded the ball to all parts of the field. It can be said for Chech, however, that when there were runners on the bases was when he was at his best. There were times when his curves looked as big as Roy Knabenshue's airship, and there were other times when the ball looked no larger than a French pea. This was when the bases were crowded with runners, and when a safe hit would have been worth its weight in runs. Chech was given fine support by the Reds, particularly by Cycling Wain the star feature of the game. Out of five times up Cy had four hits for a total of eight bases.

The Reds started to get runs in the second inning, when two were scored on three-baggers by Seymour and Schiel and a life to Corcoran. Huggins led off this third with a single and was advanced to second on a sacrifice by Phillippe, gathered in by Kelley's hot one, but held the ball too long before throwing to third and both runners were safe. At this juncture Seymour tore off his second three-baze hit down the right foul line, scoring both Huggins and Kelley. Seymour counted on Corcoran's flyout to Leach. Huggins started the fifth with a single, went to second on an error by Wagner and scored on a single by Seymour. In the sixth two runs were scored on a three-bagger by Odwell, a sacrifice by Chech and singles by Schiel and Huggins.

The fifth inning was reached before the Pirates could do any run-getting, then two were secured on a single by Beaumont and doubles by Leach and Ritchey. The third run was brought home by Brain, who started the ninth with a two-bagger to right and scored on a two-base drive by Flaherty. In this inning the bases were filled, and it was up to Tommy Leach to cause trouble, but the best he could do was to force Beaumont at second, and that ended the game. The score:

W. U. P. CANDIDATES DOING LIGHT WORK

EXPOSITION PARK, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The advance guard of the W. U. P. football candidates were put through a few preliminary stunts. Practice consisted chiefly in kicking and handling punts. As the men are far above weight, little speed was exhibited. Zieg is suffering from an attack of tonsolitis. After an hour and a half of steady work the squad took a dip in the lake. Capt. Thompson and the rest of the men are expected by Monday. New arrivals include Ritchey of last year's team and Klawhun and Yielding, new men from the west.

Low Rates to Wheeling Fair Via Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

PROPER WINS FEATURE EVENT

Is Long Shot in Betting but Shows the Speed and Jumps to Front in Stretch.

A BIG PURSE FOR THE STARS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Proper, with top weight, 127 pounds, and quoted at 7 to 1 in the betting, easily captured the Omnium handicap, one mile and a furlong, at Sheepshead Bay today. Coy Maid, paying 5 to 1 for the place, was second and Graziallo third. Coy Maid and Graziallo ran like a team to the end of the stretch, where Proper, who had been running in third place, went to the front and won by three lengths. Sinister in this race was left at the post.

Whimsical, an added starter and favorite, easily won the Golden Rod stakes. King's Daughter and Blair Athel were the pacemakers. In the stretch Whimsical took the lead and won. F. J. Dwyer, president of the Brooklyn Jockey club, today announced that the Brooklyn Jockey club will offer a $10,000 purse for a race between Sysonby, Artful and Hamburg Belle, with the owners fixing the conditions. Summary:

First race, selling, last 5½ furlongs of futurity course—Listless, 56, D. Smith, 30 to 1 and 10 to 1, won; Leonora W., 105, Martin, 7 to 2 and 7 to 5, second; Bribery, 94, McDaniel, 7 to 1 and 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:06. Pantoufle, Miss Margo, Zuna, Amandah, Argentina, Canopy, Honeywell, Elizabeth F., Usuary, Merry go Round, Sweetheart, Mahogany, Ruth W., Isolation, Delude and Incorrigible also ran.

UMPIRE WILSON ACCUSED OF TIPPING THE SIGNALS

BUTLER, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Today's game demonstrated that Sharon could not lose in Butler if they tried to. In the fifth inning Bates returned a slow hit past third and the ball went past three Butler players and rolled into a hole under the grandstand, four runs scoring. Wilson, the Sharon umpire, was blamed for tipping the signs of the Butler batters and after the fifth inning he did not officiate on balls and strikes. The Butler team disbanded this evening. For the balance of the season Bates, McKechnie and Witherup go to Sharon, Troxell to Erie, Troupe to Buffalo and Nolan to Steubenville. Bucinsky has offers from Lorain and New Amhurst, O. The score:

CITY DIGEST A REWARD FOR POLITICAL WORK

Councils to Spend $10,000 to Give Two Attorneys Jobs—Mayor Hays Is to Appoint.

For services to the Citizens party Mayor Hays was asked yesterday to appoint Robert McElroy as an assistant city solicitor to compile the new city digest, it being the understanding when the ordinance for an appropriation of $7,000 for this work was passed by councils that McElroy was to get the job. The ordinance was passed several months ago and McElroy is anxious to begin work.

A part of the deal is to make W. C. Negley of the Fourteenth ward McElroy's assistant. Mr. Negley wanted a job as assistant city solicitor at $2,500 a year and had introduced an ordinance in councils creating an additional position in the city law department, but Mr. Negley had failed to acquaint himself with the city charter ordinance which limits the number of assistant solicitorships. To appease him it was arranged to give Mr. Negley the job of assistant in compiling the new city digest.

Besides the $7,000 for the payment of the services of the attorneys in the work, it is arranged that $3,000 additional shall be paid for the printing out of the contingent fund, making a total expense of $10,000. The last city digest was prepared in 1895 and a new one is badly needed, but this is a highly important and exacting task and there are strong objections to making it the reward for purely political services.

JEFFRIES WILL REFEREE BATTLE

Britt-Nelson Affair Looks Queer as Men Agree to Split Purse and No Side Bet.

THE FIGHTERS ARE READY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—James J. Jeffries will referee the Britt-Nelson contest tomorrow at Colma. After all the wrangling and objections that have been advanced by the Nelson side against the retired champion, Jeff still says he will act as referee. This is almost the only saving feature of the situation today.

The developments of the past 24 hours have served to strengthen the growing opinion that all was not right in the understanding between the boxers. The declaration of Nolan, manager of Nelson, late last night that there was no side bet of $10,000, and that the boxers have a secret agreement to split the purse, winner to take 60 and the loser 40 per cent, did not come as a surprise to the general public, but has served to stem the enthusiasm to some extent. There is a sentiment, small, but growing, that once more the public of San Francisco, and of California in general, has been "taken in" by the pugilistic promoters, who, in order to create interest in the coming battle have not hesitated to resort to every device to delude the public and create an interest in favor of the box office. The wrangle of the managers of the two boxers have opened up the whole unsavory arrangement and proves to be a blow that will require a long time to wipe out of the memory of the sport-loving Californians.

The arrival of Jeffries on the ground late last night has proved beneficial to the box office. Many of Jeffries' friends believed that when he reached San Francisco and learned of the criticism of Manager Nolan, who a few days ago accepted Jeffries as referee without demur, the former champion would promptly decline to act as the judge in the ring. Jeffries' friends, however, impressed upon him the desire of the public to see him act, his presence in the ring would be absolute guarantee of fairness to both men, and the talk of any "job" would promptly down.

Jeffries then gave out the statement that he would stick by his word and act as referee.

"I believe the public wants me," said Jeff, "and I will be in the ring tomorrow. Both men will get a square deal. That's all I've got to say."

The fight promoters this morning declared that Jeff would referee and that both Britt and Nelson would be in the ring at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon.

From information that was authoritatively given out last night, it appears that ever since three days after the articles for the Britt-Nelson fight were signed, instead of the contest being a winner-take-all proposition, there has been an agreement between the principals that the fighters' share of the receipts would be divided on a basis of 60 per cent to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser. Moreover, there is no side bet of $10,000.

In answer to the statements that have been made to the effect that Nolan and Nelson were objecting to the referee as an excuse for "running out" of the match because there was no loser's end, it is stated on behalf of the Nelson party that three days after the articles were signed Nolan was approached in behalf of the Britts, who claimed that the winner-take-all proposition was not satisfactory, and that the fighters should have to be divided on a 60 and 40 per cent basis, or there would be no fight. The demand was further made that the side bet of $10,000 be declared off.

Nolan argued the matter according to the statement, and finally said his only desire was to get Britt in the ring, and that he would, in order to secure the match, agree to anything that was fair in the matter. As a result a second agreement was signed, bearing the date of the fight, that the fighters' share of 65 per cent of the gross receipts should be divided 60 per cent to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser. The $2,500 deposited by Nolan as a forfeit on the side bet was returned to Nolan and the check for the same amount deposited by Britt was returned to the maker.

Britt and Nelson took a rest today, doing barely enough work to warm up and keep their muscles in trim. Britt looks well, but Nelson shows many marks of hard training. His boxing partners have not spared his face in their daily exchanges of blows, and Nelson gave considerable attention to the salving of his facial bruises.

The boxers, their managers and their seconds will meet at Harry Corbett's place at 10 o'clock to weigh in. Afterward they will leave for Colma in automobiles. They must be in their dressing rooms and ready for the call of time at 1:30 o'clock. The contest will begin at 2 o'clock.

Notwithstanding there was a decided lull in the betting today, pending a satisfactory settlement of the referee question, it is declared that the amount wagered on the fight will establish a record for ring contests in California. Britt money is in evidence wherever wagers are recorded, the odds standing at 100 to 70.

MAYOR KILLS A MAN.

Trouble Over Settlement of an Estate Breeds Discord in Indiana Town.

COVINGTON, IND., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Mayor O. C. Jones shot and killed George Hutts this evening. The tragedy occurred in Attorney W. P. Livengood's office. Hutts was seated in the office of Attorney Cox consulting him on legal matters. Hutts passed through the hall into Livengood's office, where he met Jones. He seized a chair and Jones says threatened to kill him. Jones pulled his revolver and fired two shots. The first shot went through Hutts' heart.

Jones gave himself up to the sheriff and is now in the custody of that official. The cause of the shooting was over the settlement of the estate of George Hutts' father, who died last winter by accidentally taking carbolic acid in a drug store, thinking it was whisky. Hutts thought his lawyers had betrayed him and worried constantly over the matter. After the trial resulted in a decision against him he threatened the lives of many prominent lawyers and Mayor Jones was among them.

Ramsey Denies Resigning.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Joseph Ramsey, Jr., stated that the story in a morning paper that he has resigned the presidency of the Wabash is incorrect. He adds, however, that he does not expect to continue with the company after October 1. The rumor that Henry K. McHarg has withdrawn from the Wabash directorate could not be confirmed at the company's offices.

Benefits for Public Baths.

Mrs. George P. Motheral is chairman of a committee to arrange for a theatrical benefit to be given at the Nixon theater in October for the benefit of the building fund of the Soho public baths. Half of the committee was appointed yesterday at the monthly meeting of the board of managers, and includes Mrs. Motheral, Mrs. Cuilliford B. Sweeney, Mrs. Samuel L. Seymour, Mrs. John Fremont Shafer and Mrs. Rufus Martin. The chairman, Mrs. Motheral, was authorized to add five more women to the committee, which will have charge of all the arrangements for the benefit. A second benefit will be given soon after the holidays, and will consist of a presentation of the operetta, Toyland, which will be given under the direction of Mrs. Edwin Miller of Crafton. Several hundred children will be trained by Mrs. Miller to sing in the operetta. The meeting of the board of managers of the Soho public baths was held in the Civic club rooms yesterday afternoon, but the attendance was small. Mrs. Alfred Longmore, the first vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Robert C. Hall. A large number of the managers are out of town. Mrs. Longmore also presided at the meeting of the public baths committee, which preceded the meeting of the board, and reports were presented of the work of the Soho settlement committee during the summer and the plans, already announced, for the fall.

Women Wage Earners to Meet.

The Women's Trade Union League of America will hold its convention in Pittsburgh in November during the sessions of the twenty-fifth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. The purpose of holding the convention in this city during the convention of the larger Federation of Labor is to establish a closer bond of sympathy between the two and to further the aims and purposes of the women's organization and make them better known and understood. The Women's league met early in the year in New York and requested the department of commerce and labor to have a woman appointed on the bureau of labor who will have charge of and push an investigation into the conditions of women in industry. The league proposes to thoroughly organize the women wage earners throughout the country, forming trade unions for industrial and social improvement. The league has the hearty support of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He has warned the women that they must not consider the Woman's Trade Union League of America as a charity in any form. This warning was made in the interests of the working women, since the league is composed not only of women wage earners, but also of prominent society women and settlement house workers, who are interested in promoting the interests of women who are compelled to work for their support.

Co-Operative Society in Session.

The first meeting this fall of the Parents and Teachers Co-Operative Society of the Fifth ward, Allegheny, was held yesterday afternoon, immediately after the close of school. A lecture was given by Dr. E. D. Eaton on "The Birth and Death of Worlds." The officers of the society include the president, Mrs. William McFarlin; vice president, Mrs. W. H. Golden; secretary, Mrs. P. J. Stewart; first assistant secretary, Miss Keast; second assistant secretary, Miss Aiken; treasurer, Mrs. T. P. Fierson, and directors, Miss Pash, Mrs. Van Kirk, Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Rosenbaum and Miss Moon.

The purpose of holding the convention in this city during the convention of the larger Federation of Labor is to establish a closer bond of sympathy between the two and to further the aims and purposes of the women's organization and make them better known and understood. The Women's league met early in the year in New York and requested the department of commerce and labor to have a woman appointed on the bureau of labor who will have charge of and push an investigation into the conditions of women in industry. The league proposes to thoroughly organize the women wage earners throughout the country, forming trade unions for industrial and social improvement. The league has the hearty support of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He has warned the women that they must not consider the Woman's Trade Union League of America as a charity in any form. This warning was made in the interests of the working women, since the league is composed not only of women wage earners, but also of prominent society women and settlement house workers, who are interested in promoting the interests of women who are compelled to work for their support.

Program Not Completed.

The program for the annual meeting of the Women's International Society to be held on Tuesday afternoon and evening, September 12, in the East End Cumberland Presbyterian church, Shady avenue, has not yet been completed. The convention will be attended by representatives of all the evangelical denominations within the county, and will open at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, preceded by a meeting of the executive committee. The evening session will be given up to the people's societies of the churches, which will have charge.

HOLDS GIRL FOR FATHER'S DEATH

Sophia Scott's Testimony of Shooting Before the Coroner Is Not Satisfactory.

HULL DIES FROM INJURIES

Coroner Armstrong yesterday held the inquest into the death of Grant Scott, a negro, who was found dead at his home in Leetsdale, August 16. The jury recommended that Sophia Scott, his daughter, aged 18, be held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder, and that Mary Scott, wife of the dead man, and Samuel Dickerson, be held as witnesses.

On the evening of the shooting Scott kicked and abused his daughter because she did not prepare his supper satisfactorily. Later Mrs. Scott came to the city to attend a dance. About 9 o'clock Sophia Scott notified the neighbors she had heard a shot in her house. Investigation showed that Scott was dead from a gun shot wound under his left arm. Sophia Scott said she went to sleep on the lounge after supper and that her father threw himself on the bed just along side of the lounge.

She said she thought she heard somebody fighting in the room just before the shot was fired. After the shooting the gun was found in the corner, with the end of the barrel resting on the floor. The jury considered the girl's testimony unsatisfactory.

John Earl Hull, son-in-law of Superintendent of Police Wallace, died at the Homeopathic hospital shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday morning from injuries received in a brawl with Joseph Parelli, an Italian fruit dealer of 31 Grant street, on Tuesday morning. Hull is alleged, with three companions, to have taken fruit off the Italian's stand. The Italian knocked Hull down and his head struck the curbing, fracturing his skull. The Italian was arrested and turned over to the coroner, who committed him to jail to await the result of the inquest. Hull's body was taken to the morgue, where it was identified by his mother, Mrs. Margaret E. Hull, who came here from Anderson, Ind., and was with her son when he died. Hull never regained consciousness.

Hull was 25 years old and was born at Apollo. His parents moved to this city when he was a year old, and for 18 years they resided in Oakland. He attended the East Liberty academy, and was a well-known baseball player. Hull was married to Laura Fleming, a daughter of Superintendent Wallace. After his marriage his parents moved to Anderson, Ind. Hull is survived by his widow and one daughter, Dorothy, his parents and two brothers, William C. and Ralph G. Hull.

Constantine Stemapi of Water street, Duquesne, died yesterday at the McKeesport hospital from burns received last Wednesday at his home. He lay on a cot to read a newspaper with a lamp on a chair beside him. He had been drinking, and it is supposed he fell asleep. When he was found by his daughter his clothes and the cot were on fire. The family extinguished the flames and a physician dressed his burns. He tore off the bandages and went to a nearby saloon. Later he was taken to the hospital.

Reap Harvest of Footwear.

The shoe store of Patrick Hasson, 1012 Braddock avenue, Braddock, was entered by burglars early yesterday morning and about 20 pairs of fine shoes were stolen. The light in the store room was turned out before operations commenced.

SOCIETY

JUDGE and Mrs. Thomas Mellon's residence in North Negley avenue will be the scene of the wedding of their granddaughter, Miss Mary Caldwell Mellon, and Herman Kampmann of San Antonio, Texas. Miss Mellon has selected Wednesday evening, October 25, as the date for her wedding to Mr. Kampmann, which will be among the most prominent social events of the season. Only the immediate relatives of both young people will witness the ceremony at the judge's residence, but at a later hour a reception will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Mellon, uncle and aunt of the bride. Miss Mellon is now visiting friends in Wheeling, W. Va., and will not be home until tomorrow evening.

Gives Luncheon for School Friend.

An exceedingly delightful affair yesterday was the luncheon at which Miss Pearl Rentel of Elysian avenue was hostess in honor of Miss Alta Lee, who will leave shortly to enter Lewisburg Seminary, Virginia. Red geraniums were effectively arranged on the table and all the appointments were in keeping with the scarlet flowers. The place cards were pen-and-ink sketches, the work of the hostess, each bearing an original verse characteristic of the guest whose place it marked. The guests were nine school friends of Miss Bentel and represented almost as many different schools and seminaries. The girls were Miss Lee, Miss Alice Bole, a Vassar girl; Miss Katherine Willson, a student at Pennington Seminary; Miss Winifred Armstrong, a Linden Hall girl; Miss Margaret Bullock, Miss Florence Geyer, Miss Irene White, Miss Marion Lee and Miss Bessie Brannon, all attending Pittsburgh schools. The hostess is a Bucknell college girl.

Society Woman in "Floradora."

Word has reached McKeesport relatives of Mrs. Charles F. DeLong, a prominent society woman of that city, that she has made her debut as a star in the "Floradora" company at Kansas City, and that she has made a distinct hit, playing to the record attendance of the Kansas City theater. The company in which Mrs. DeLong is starring is managed by her husband, a business man of Pittsburgh and McKeesport, who has as a partner John Riggs, a well-known theatrical man of New York. The entire time of the company has been booked up until April and after that Mr. DeLong will take his wife and other members of the company to Cuba. Mrs. DeLong will appear in Pittsburgh during the winter and parties of McKeesporters are already making plans to give her a welcome.

Decorations Are a Feature.

The decorations were a feature of the luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. William Fleming Abel of Murtland avenue. In the center of the table was a low mound of ferns surrounded by scarlet salvia, while red chiffon was twisted in graceful fashion around the vase. The guests were the local members of the League of American Pensmen, of which Mrs. Christine Walton Dunlap of Washington, D. C., honor guest at the luncheon, is librarian. The other guests were Mrs. John W. Sherrer, Miss Anna R. Stratton, Mrs. Andrew Easton and Mrs. Dallas Albert.

Engagement and Fall Wedding.

Mrs. Madison Bailey, Jr., of Bailey avenue, Mt. Washington, has made formal announcement of the engagement of her eldest daughter, Miss Mary B. Bailey, and Frederic James Lidstone, also of this city. The engagement will terminate in a fall wedding, a date in later October having been selected. Mr. Lidstone is a post-graduate of Yale and is connected with the firm of James Reese & Sons. Mrs. Bailey, mother of the bride-elect, has just returned from a visit to several eastern cities.

Gloekler-Franz Wedding Plans.

The wedding of Miss Teresa Elizabeth Gloekler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Gloekler of Millvale avenue, and Raymond A. Franz, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Franz, Jr., will take place next Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock at St. Philomena's Roman Catholic church, Fourteenth and Liberty streets, will be the scene of the wedding. No at-home cards have been issued, but the bridal couple will receive their friends after December 1 in Johnson avenue, Homewood.

European Travelers Returning.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Meik Cook of Western avenue, Allegheny, who have been spending the summer abroad, will sail for home today, expecting to reach New York about September 20. Miss Cook's sister, Mrs. James Wood, will not return with her sister and brother-in-law, but will remain during the winter visiting with Miss Stella D. Hays and her mother, Mrs. John S. Hays of Ridge avenue, Allegheny.

Cruikshank-Burtons.

Miss Mary Effie Cruikshank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cruikshank of Harvey station, was married on Wednesday, the 6th instant, at 12 o'clock noon, to Andrew C. Bullens of Swissvale, the ceremony taking place at the residence of the bride's parents. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Mr. Graham. The parlor was decorated with ferns, carnations and goldenrod. The bride wore white crepe de chine trimmed in point lace over white silk. The wedding march was played by Miss Helen Scott of Kittanning. After a sumptuous wedding dinner the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip. They will be at home at Hope Church, Pa., after October 1.

Will Wed Today.

Mrs. John O'Brien, a sister of the bride, will be matron of honor today at the wedding of Miss Isabel Katherine Orr, daughter of Mrs. Matilda A. Lytle of Knoxville, and Robert Sloan. The wedding will take place at 4:30 o'clock this evening at the home of another sister, Mrs. William Beiber, in Summit street, Knoxville. Frank Sloan will be his brother's best man.

Howard-Longabaugh.

Post-nuptial announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Grace N. Howard and John R. Longabaugh, which took place at the bride's home in Bellevue on Tuesday evening. The Rev. H. L. Smith officiated and the wedding march was played by Miss Margaret Longabaugh, sister of the bridegroom. The latter is assistant purchasing agent for the Carnegie Steel Company. After a lake trip he and his bride will be at home in Bellevue.

Their Wedding Proves a Surprise.

CANONSBURG, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Harry McConnell of Homer and Miss Nancy Crane of Canonsburg were married today at Greensburg, Pa. The marriage was a surprise. Miss Crane is a daughter of D. W. Crane of this place, and had intended entering California Normal school next week.

Motor to Luna Park.

Frederick Ingersoll gave an automobile party to Luna park last evening, the guests later being entertained at the Country club in Squirrel Hill. In the party were H. E. Devereaux, president of the Cleveland driving club, who is here for the Bryant Island races; Charles Tanner, also of Cleveland; William Culley and J. G. Bennett.

Returning to Country Home.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Mellon and the younger members of their family, who have been at their town house in North Negley avenue for a few days, will return today to "Beechwood," their summer home near New Florence, to remain until October 1. They have just returned from a trip including Canadian and eastern resorts.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. Edward J. O'Brien and daughter of Center avenue are home from Cedar Point. A part of the summer was spent in Cleveland, Detroit and Windsor, Can

FILES ACCOUNT OF MAGEE LEGACY

COURT DECIDES LEGAL POINT

Orphans' court yesterday received the account of the trustees of the legacy of C. L. Magee to the Mercy hospital. The account shows a series of mortgage investments since the death of the senator, and that a balance of $3,982 is in the hands of the trustees invested in a mortgage.

The fifth account of the estate of Joseph Fleming has been filed. The accountant charges himself with $43,026.67, which is largely receipts from the rents of the real estate of the decedent. The account, after deducting all charges, shows a balance of $30,171.09.

The first and final account of the estate of Anna M. Woodward has been filed, showing a balance of $5,086.

Judge Kennedy decided an interesting legal question in the suit of Daniel Gebih against the Rev. Bonaffiko Belavore of St. Nicholas Roman Catholic church, deciding a formal order was not necessary granting a new trial in the case. The plaintiff secured a $2,000 verdict for alleged slander, but on a motion for a new trial the court thought this excessive and ruled a new trial would be granted unless the plaintiff agrees to accept $500 in 10 days. No acceptance was filed and a 10-day extension was secured by the plaintiff, whereupon the defendant secured a rule to show cause why the order should be set aside, claiming the court had already granted a new trial. The plaintiff argued a formal order granting a new trial was necessary, but the court holds this is not necessary and that the order of extension is void.

Suit Over Automobile.

The Wayne Automobile Company of Detroit entered suit against H. S. Townsley to recover $500 and had a warrant issued for the arrest of the defendant, fixing special bail at $1,000. The amount the plaintiff seeks to recover is the price of an automobile, it is alleged, which the plaintiff company avers was secured by the defendant by fraud and deceit. It is alleged the defendant telephoned to the plaintiff company to ship a certain style of machine to him, for which he would immediately send his check for the purchase price. The plaintiff company avers that upon receipt of the defendant's check the machine was shipped. Upon the check being presented for payment, it is alleged, it was returned marked "not sufficient funds." The plaintiff company avers it notified the defendant of this and he sent another check, which, it is averred, was dishonored when presented for payment. It is alleged that the defendant obtained the machine by fraud and deceit, and the suit is to recover the price of the machine.

A. Andolino & Co. filed a bill in equity against George Christakor, seeking to have the sale of a fruit store from Nickolas Levidy to the defendant declared void on the ground that the sale was a fraud on creditors. All parties named live in Braddock. The plaintiff is a wholesale fruit firm and Levidy was the owner of a retail fruit stand. It is alleged by the plaintiff company that it was a creditor of Levidy's. Before the plaintiff could collect, it is alleged, the defendant set up a claim to ownership of the store of Levidy claiming to have bought it for $800. It is alleged Levidy cannot be found now, and the court is asked to declare the sale null and void as a fraud on creditors.

Want an Accounting.

Lyman W. De Haven, Addison C. De Haven and Charles W. Goodnough, liquidating trustees of De Haven & Co., Limited, filed an equity suit against the Pittsburgh Stove and Range Company for an accounting. In 1899, it is alleged, the business of De Haven & Co., Limited, was sold to the defendants with the understanding that the defendant was to collect all claims held by De Haven & Co., Limited, and to account only for those scheduled as doubtful claims. An accounting of this trust is now asked.

The grand jury made the following returns yesterday: Forgery, David S. Scott (3); false pretense, David S. Scott; misdemeanor, David S. Scott; felonious assault and battery, John Yosick, Mike Tatar, Charles Williams and Nick Yann; pointing fire arms, Jacob Tucker; aggravated assault and battery, Alexander Medlock, John Terscvek; larceny, Samuel Paut; selling liquor illegally, Nicholas Schadron; attempt criminal assault, Jacob Rise.

Mary M. Fest filed a libel in divorce against Eugene Fest, alleging indignities. Decrees in divorce were granted as follows: Albert C. Townsend vs. Katie Denmark, indelicity; Charles Dosch vs. Sadie E. D. Dosch, indelicity; Ida C. S. Brooks vs. Robert A. Brooks, desertion; Edna H. McKinnon vs. Robert Y. McKinnon, desertion; Rudolph H. Weber vs. Rose Weber, indelicity; Belle B. G. Nowlen vs. B. F. Nowlen, desertion.

Judge Brown presided over a session of juvenile court yesterday and heard the cases of twenty-two children charged with various offenses. William Wayman, aged 15, of Wabash street, West End, was charged with aggravated assault by Stephen Whigmore, the father of James Whigmore, 5 years old, of Independence street. Young Wayman was charged with holding the feet of the Whigmore boy over a fire on August 24, charring them badly. Wayman denied to Judge Brown that he had done so, and several witnesses bore him out. At the request of the probation officer the case went over until next Friday. The other cases were of the common variety and the children were returned to their parents or placed in homes.

Executions issued: Henry Henning vs. Anton Heitz, 2467; Joseph Kinder vs. L. S. Rafferty, 4478.

MOKE CALLED AGAIN.

Full Bench Discharged Men on Habeas Corpus Because of Defective Record.

George Thompson and James Barry were released from the workhouse by common pleas court No. 3 yesterday on habeas corpus proceedings. They were arrested in company with P. F. Tools at the Colonial hotel, it being charged they were creating a disturbance in the barroom.

Magistrate George A. Moke sentenced them each to 30 days in the workhouse on August 31. Alderman S. J. Tools took an interest in the case and applied for a writ of habeas corpus, which was heard by the entire court. No testimony was taken, but exceptions to the record of the magistrate were filed, alleging the conviction was illegal because it did not show that the alleged offense was committed in Pittsburgh, nor did it show under what ordinance the men were convicted. The court examined the records and discharged the prisoners without comment.

NO EVENING SERVICES.

St. Peter's Episcopal Congregation to Hold Fashionable Afternoon Worship Beginning at 4:30 O'Clock.

A new departure in hours for Sunday worship will be inaugurated in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church, Forbes street and Craft avenue, tomorrow, when the evening service will be dispensed with and a new service beginning at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon introduced. The change is to be a permanent one. It is also proposed to make the afternoon services of exceptional musical interest under the charge of Musical Director Charles S. Johnson.

The remodeled Second Presbyterian church, Eighth street, near Duquesne way, will be reopened tomorrow. In the evening the pastor, the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young, will address the Knights and Ladies of the Maccabees.

The reopening of the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church has been postponed one week and opening services will take place Sunday, September 17.

The First German Methodist Episcopal church, Union avenue, Allegheny, will dedicate a new organ with special services tomorrow morning and evening.

The Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge, pastor of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, who has been abroad attending the Baptist World's congress, will occupy his pulpit tomorrow.

Missing, but Accounts Balance.

HAUBSTADT, IND., Sept. 8.—H. H. Ogden, bank expert of Evansville, who examined the books of the Haubstadt banks has reported that the accounts of Thebes Farthing, the missing cashier, are correct and that there is no shortage.

TRADING LESS ACTIVE, BUT PRICES ADVANCED

The Entire New York List Closed at Substantial Gains—Call Money Freely Offered at 2 1-2 Per Cent—Local Stocks Steady.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market yesterday was less active than for several days past, the sales for the morning session being 320,000 shares and for the day about 630,000 shares. The tone of the market, however, was firm almost from the start to finish, and final prices were at or near the highest of the day.

The basis for the recovery was the attitude of London and the ease in the market for call loans. English consols and Japanese bonds were lower in the foreign markets, but American securities were strong and higher, and it is estimated that London bought between 50,000 and 60,000 shares in Wall street. The favorites with the foreign investors were the Pacific stocks, Union, Southern and Canadian, and continental investors were said to be buying Missouri, Kansas & Texas.

After the opening rally the market relapsed into dullness, but there was apparently no desire to sell at the advance. Traders waited for some sign from the money market. The opening quotations for call loans were 2½@3 per cent. Later in the day money was freely offered at 2½ per cent, and the final loan was at 2 per cent. The street was inclined to attach significance to the fact that the National City bank was a large lender of money at 2½ per cent. This bank and four of its associates in the clearing house practically control the money market. On the decline on Wednesday and Thursday it was said that the banking interests were disposed to check any active bull speculation at this time, and it required but a slight advance in rates and the calling of a few loans to convey this impression. Yesterday the apparent ample supply of funds worked a change of sentiment.

Last Saturday's bank statement fulfilled almost to the letter the preliminary estimates of the movements of cash. It remains to be seen how close today's official figures will come to the estimated loss of $8,700,000 in cash during the week through sub-treasury operations and direct shipments of currency to the country. A shifting of loans and deposits between the banks and the trust companies has been in progress during the week, and some large changes in the bank statement today is looked for.

American Smelting common scored the largest gain in the industrial list. This stock has been under bearish pressure throughout the week, and the short interest in it is supposed to be large. It rallied to and closed at 127, a net advance of 3¼ per cent. There was a rumor that the stock would be placed on a 7 per cent basis this month. Amalgamted Copper was also firm and closed 1¼ per cent higher. United States Steel common closed 1 per cent higher and the preferred 1⅝ per cent higher. It was reported that the tonnage booked by the corporation during the month of August was 25 per cent larger than the best previous monthly record, and it was estimated that the earnings for the current quarter would reach $33,000,000. The minor iron and steel stocks were dull, but closed firm and higher.

Reading led the advance in the railroad list in the early dealings and closed at a net gain of 1⅝ per cent. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific were both strong, and each had the benefit of a splendid statement of business for the month of July. Gross earnings of Southern Pacific for the month increased $1,458,617 and net earnings increased $591,036. Union Pacific reported an increase in gross of $790,119 and in net of $451,506. The increase in net earnings of both roads was therefore in excess of $1,000,000. It was natural that such a fine showing should revive talk of the probability of a dividend on Southern Pacific common. The whole market closed moderately active and firm.

The local stock market was dull and prices were irregular. The largest dealings were in National Fire Proofing. The common stock was unchanged at 7⅛. The preferred, after selling at 28⅛, declined to and closed at 27½, a net loss of ⅝. There was some increase in the trading in natural gas stocks. Manufacturers' Light and Heat advanced to 36⅝, while Ohio Fuel Supply declined to 42¾. The logical effect of the increase of the capital stock of the latter will be to depress the price, although it is stated that the present rate of dividend will be maintained on the increased capitalization. The dealings in the coal stocks were confined to 16 shares Pittsburgh preferred at 54½ to 55. Crucible Steel common rallied to 12⅝, while the preferred declined to 63¾. United States Steel common closed ⅝ higher at 35¾. Westinghouse Air Brake advanced to 149 and closed firm at 148½ bid. Electric declined to 82⅞. United States Steel advanced ½ per cent to 60½. Pittsburgh Brewing common was in better demand and advanced to 26¼. Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone bonds continued to decline, selling at 82, a loss of ¾ for the day and 5 per cent from the high point of the week. Pittsburgh Brewing 6s advanced to 112, while River Coal 6s declined to 111.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH

Bank exchanges increased $1,500,000 for the day.

Tonopah Extension declined from $6 to $5 93.

P. & A. Telephone bonds continued weak, declining to 82.

IN WALL STREET

Stock market less active, but firmer all around.

Sales included 632,600 shares stock and $2,735,000 bonds.

Call loans easy, declining from 3 to 2 per cent.

London a heavy buyer of American securities.

Earnings of Union and Southern Pacific made a splendid showing.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

It was regarded as a little curious that London should display such an appetite for American securities yesterday, when her own home securities, and particularly foreign government bonds, were rather depressed. It may have been that foreign speculators were covering shorts, or it may be that the buying orders for foreign account originated in Wall street. It was inferred from the absence of flurry in the call money market and from the freedom from pressure of stocks that the necessary liquidation of securities to keep pace with the expanding requirements for cash was fully abreast of money market needs. The estimates of the currency movement cover five days and include a loss on sub-treasury operations of $4,366,000. On the direct movement by express the banks have continued to lose and it is believed that the drain has been sufficient to bring the total loss in cash to considerably over $7,000,000, which would be more than sufficient to wipe out the surplus as it stood last week without a reduction in the reserve requirements, which would conserve the surplus. Reduction of deposits by loan contraction on a large scale is confidently expected, however, as a feature of today's bank statement.

Pittsburgh Coal is were offered publicly on the exchange at 104 and accrued interest. There was no bid.

The sale of $25,000 Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone 5s at 82 suggests that the sudden advance to 87 last Tuesday was due to manipulation. This often happens in the New York market, but the local market is so narrow that a drop of ⅝ per cent in a bond attracts attention.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co., syndicate managers, made another call upon members for the delivery of a portion of the Pennsylvania railroad 3½ per cent convertibles yesterday. This is the third call within the past three weeks, and it indicates that the syndicate is gradually marketing the bonds which the general public declined to subscribe for a few months ago.

Two shares Pittsburgh & Lake Erie common changed hands at 150 and quotable lots were offered at that price.

Pittsburgh Brewing common rallied to 26½ and the bonds to 112. No transactions were recorded in the preferred stock.

United Copper sold at 35¼ to 35⅝ and closed at 35 bid. There were no sales of Luster or Ohio Tonopah.

In the local curb market sales were reported of 500 shares Oriental and Masbate at 80c, 200 shares Golden Anchor at 80c and 100 shares North Butte at 2. The last named stock subsequently fallied to and closed at 39½ bid. In the Boston market it closed at 59¼ bid, 59½ asked.

A. E. Masten returned yesterday from Boston, where he had been before the directors of the Boston stock exchange with his application for admission, which was favorably acted upon, and he was elected to membership. Mr. Masten said he discovered among some of the eastern bond dealers a bearish sentiment on the Japanese issues. The feeling is that both Japan and Russia will soon be in the market for additional loans, and that this will have a tendency to depress the bonds already in the market.

Wall street heard that another upward movement in National Lead is among the probabilities of the near future.

Westinghouse Air Brake closed at 148½ bid, after selling at 149, and at the close 25 shares were offered at 149. The directors are scheduled to take action on the October dividend next week, and in some quarters there are expectations that the rate of the extra dividend will be increased. For the previous quarters of the year the company paid 2½ per cent regular and 2½ per cent extra, or at the rate of 20 per cent per annum.

James Carothers, head of the brokerage house of James Carothers & Co., is home from a month's trip through the northwest. He returned by way of the Canadian Pacific. The wheat crop in the territory of that road is immense. Mr. Carothers says travel throughout the west and northwest is extremely large, that general business is active, and that it looks as if the railroads will have all the traffic they can handle this winter.

According to Mr. Lawson, yesterday was scheduled as "Crack of Doom's Day" in Wall street, but latest advices indicated that everything was intact at the close of the day, except the paper profits of the bears.

The fourth annual report of the American Locomotive Company for the year ended June 30, shows a decrease in gross earnings of $3,918,543, as compared with last year, and a decrease in net earnings of $1,210,698. A striking feature of the report is a reduction of $7,695,441 in the expense account, and after deducting the interest on bonds of constituent companies, interest on miscellaneous outstanding obligations, and the usual dividend of 7 per cent on the preferred stock, a surplus remained of $667,924, which was carried over to the credit of "profit and loss" account. In addition to the regular charges, there was also charged against income the sum of $1,837,796, which represented the cost to the company of its permanent investment in the works at Montreal. During the past 12 months there have been additions to the property amounting to $466,952, and betterments costing $721,251, which have been charged against the "extraordinary improvements and betterment fund" of $1,000,000 created June 30, 1904, leaving a balance of $440,796, which will be used for similar additions and betterments during the new fiscal year.

The regular 1¾ per cent quarterly dividend on American Car and Foundry preferred is payable October 2 to stock of record September 12.

The International Banking Corporation of New York has declared its first semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent out of net earnings on June 30 last. Dividend is payable October 10.

The directors of the Chicago Junction Railways & Union Stock Yards Company have declared the usual quarterly dividends of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock and 2 per cent on the common stock, payable October 2.

The Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh is offering at 106½ and interest $1,666,000 Vandalia Coal Company 6 per cent mortgage sinking fund gold bonds. Subscription books will be opened September 11 at the office of the Union Trust Company, and payment for bonds allotted must be made on or before September 14. The total issue of Vandalia Coal Company bonds is $2,000,000, of which $500,000 remains in the treasury and can only be issued for the purchase of new property, and then only at the discretion of the trustee. There are 26 operating plants on the property of the Vandalia Coal Company, having a capacity of 18,000 tons a day.

BUTTER AND EGG LINES SHOW SIGN OF A BREAK

Trade in Local Markets Continues Dull, With Several Articles Exceedingly Weak.

Generally quiet was the condition of all the local markets yesterday. Butter and eggs showed considerable weakness and butter will probably drop a half cent next Monday. One reason given for this by a big dealer is that the hotels and different resorts, which take hundreds of thousands of pounds of butter during the season, are closing and this surplus is now going on the regular markets. The farmers are also marketing butter put up during the summer and there is more on the market now than for some weeks. Eggs are also more abundant than formerly, although the quotations have not changed. A sudden slump in this line, however, would not be surprising.

Green goods were quiet yesterday and only an ordinary business was conducted. No changes were noted in quotations. The flour market remains as before, exceedingly weak and heavy, shading going on. Dealers are steadily working off heavy stocks of the higher priced flour and when this is accomplished a lively break may be looked for. One jobber states that a $3 flour market will prevail during the winter. With flour and sugar retail dealers are all following the wise plan of buying for their needs and not for speculation.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines, 42 cars hay, 4 cars corn, 10 cars oats, 1 car straw, 2 cars rye, 2 cars feed; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 3 cars hay, 2 cars straw; Lake Erie railroad, 4 cars hay, 2 cars oats, 1 car feed.

The grain market in the west shows a much stronger tone which results in a better feeling being noted here. Hay is steady, with heavy receipts of low grades. Rye straw is in better demand than for some time and prices are advanced. Middlings continue scarce, with an advance in prices.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, Sept. 8.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow on the wool market: The market is somewhat quieter but a fair volume of business has been done. Buying has been more diversified, with both woolens and worsted mills active. Buyers from the west and south have also been around. Territory wools have continued to move in a steady manner, while dealers offer no inducement to make sales. Wools of three-eighths and half-blood are in best demand and are rapidly becoming scarce. Prices, in original bags, range up to 28c, and some lots have brought as high as 29½c.

Fleeces have elicited considerable inquiry, but prices, which are susceptible to no reduction from what dealers want, have been the means of preventing material transfers. Interest has also been shown in very fine Australian cross breds and merinos, and many sample bags have been sent out for testing. Texas and California wools are selling occasionally, while pulled wools are comparatively quiet, owing to lack of proper stocks.

Present supplies of wool on this market are as light as they were in November, 1904.

The shipments of wool from Boston to date from December 20, 1904, according to the same authority are 162,061,060 pounds, against 153,427,217 pounds at the same time last year. The receipts to date are 274,905,566 pounds, against 254,742,785 pounds for the same time last year.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points in response to lower European cables. There was very little for sale, however, and later the market ruled firmer on a small clearance. European buying and a little Wall street support. The close was firm at a net advance of 5 to 15 points. Sales were reported of only 28,500 bags, including September at 7.00c; October, 7.05@7.15c; December, 7.20@7.35c; January, 7.30c; March, 7.45@7.55c; May, 7.60@7.70c; July, 7.65@7.75c; spot Rio steady; 7 invoice, 8¼c; mild steady; Cordova, 10@13c.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Butter steady; creameries, 17@20c; dairies, 15½@19c. Eggs firm at mark; cases included, 16½c; firsts, 18c; prime firsts, 20c; extras, 22c. Cheese firm at 11@12c.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Butter firm; receipts, 5,131 packages; extra creamery, 20½@21c; official price, 4o 20c; renovated common to extra, 18@19½c. Cheese steady and unchanged; receipts, 3,144 boxes. Eggs firm and unchanged; receipts, 7,664 crates.

Turpentine and Rosin.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 8.—Turpentine steady. Rosin, nothing doing.

SAVANNAH, GA., Sept. 8.—Turpentine firm at 68½c. Rosin firm; A, B, C, $3.35; D, $3.70; E, $4.05; F, $4.15; G, $4.25; H, $4.30; I, $4.85; K, $4.40; M, $4.45; N, $4.50; W G, $4.95; W W, $5.40.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Sept. 8.—Spirits of turpentine firm at 65½c. Rosin firm at $3.20. Tar firm at $1.80. Crude turpentine firm at $2.75 and $4.25.

FOREIGN DEMAND CAUSES A FIRM CLOSE IN WHEAT

Oats Are Also Higher, With Corn Unchanged—Provisions Make a Gain.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Notwithstanding higher prices at Liverpool, the wheat market here opened rather weak, December being off 9@9¼c to 8⅞@9c at 81⅝c to 82⅝c. The easier feeling was due to improved weather conditions in the northwest. As a result of a return to clear skies it was generally expected that the movement of new wheat in that section would soon show a material increase. Advices from Minneapolis were to the effect that threshing is being pushed with all possible speed and that receipts at country stations are heavy. Pit traders generally were of the opinion that prices would soon see under the weight of increased offering of new wheat. In consequence sentiment was quite bearish the first half of the session. At no time, however, did the price of the December delivery drop below the opening figures. The volume of trading meantime was quite small. Toward the middle of the session the market became considerably more active and on fair support from several bull leaders prices made a substantial advance. Shorts also were good buyers. Much of the demand came as the result of messages from New York asserting that foreigners were buying American wheat. Thirty-two boatloads of wheat were reported as having been taken at New York for export. Higher prices for cash wheat at outside markets helped to stimulate demand for wheat here. For December the highest point of the day was reached at 83¾@84c. The market closed firm with December 83⅝@83¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 12,500 bushels. Exports for the week as shown by Bradstreets were 1,194,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 972,000 bushels, compared with 934,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 353 cars, against 434 cars last week and 454 cars a year ago.

Sentiment in the corn pit was rather bearish early in the session. Improved weather throughout the corn belt was one of the reasons for the early weakness. Another factor was the Missouri crop report, indicating a yield of 253,000,000 bushels, compared with 177,000,000 bushels last year. Later the market became firmer in sympathy with the strength of wheat. Shorts were the principal buyers. The market closed firm at prices at the highest point of the day. December opened ¼c to ⅜c lower at 47½@47¾c, sold up to 47⅞c and closed at the top. The local receipts were 837 cars with 258 of contract grade.

An active demand from exporters constituted the chief source of strength in the oats market. The volume of trading was quite large. Shorts were the main buyers. The market closed at the highest point of the day. December opened a shade to ⅜c lower at 29⅝@29¾c, sold between 29¾@29⅞c and 29¾@29⅞c and closed at the top. Local receipts were 188 cars.

Provisions were firm as a result of a 10c advance in the price of live hogs. The bulk of trading was in the January products. At the close October pork was up 12½c at $14.70. Lard was up 2½@5c at $7.70@7.72½. Ribs were 10c higher at 6.10@.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Tretheim Copper Mining and Smelting Company has declared a quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share and an extra dividend of 50 cents per share, payable October 2 to stockholders of record September 22.

All details of the transfer from the Montreal and Boston have been completed, and ample capital is in the treasury for all purposes to carry out the extensive program outlined by the directors. A meeting of the board is to be held on their return to New York, when the head office will be transferred from Toronto to New York and a number of important matters settled.

The Little Annie mine, located west of the Goldsmith No. 2, northwest of Walkerville, has been sold to the Cobalt Realty Company of Butte, the price paid for it being more than $15,000. The mine was owned by Clint Ramsdell of Deer Lodge, a son of Gareth Ramsdell, who sold the Ramsdell-Parrott mines to the Anaconda Company a few years ago.

It is reported that W. P. Hammond and John Hays Hammond have at last succeeded in settling about a combination of some of the huge gold dredging mining companies in Butte and Yuba counties. The deal has just been closed in New York. The company is to be known as the Oroville Dredging Company, limited, organized with a capital of $4,000,000.

The new smelter of the Mammoth Copper Company in Shasta county, California, is about ready for service. A train line two and one-half miles long, with a 25 per cent grade, leads from the mine to the smelter. And the entire process, until refining is completed, is as near automatic as possible. There are three 250-ton water jacketed furnaces, with adequate dust chambers, briquetting machinery, electric house, blowing engines, generators, and all other modern devices for economy and efficiency. The ores will smelt 1,000 tons of ore for the company and 2,500 tons of ore for custom business.

The Bunker Hill Gold Mining Company is pushing work in its deep working tunnel without intermission. At present the contractors are in hard quartz and are making from three to five feet per day. The contract noted time of a timbered work on the main level of 6 feet 6 inches and operations in westerly direction through the deep working tunnel. It expects to enter known ground in a short time and reach rich ore bodies. The distance between the mouths of the tunnel and the main shaft is about 1,800 feet. It was expected to strike intermediate ore bodies before at any rate to reach the ore bodies under the shaft in about 2,000 feet. A compressor, machine drills and other machinery is now in operation at the mouth of the tunnel. The Ted Tregea mine is about eight miles of Bunker Hill. A railroad bed is projected to the foot of Bunker Hill mountain.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Buying in the drygoods market was as liberal at first hand today, but the attitude of sellers was much firmer than during the last few days. Due to the upward movement of cotton during the day. Deliveries are very difficult to secure and sellers are finding it very difficult to supply their current needs.

NEW DISTRICT IS GROWING RAPIDLY

Beech Creek Output of Coal Increases 25 Per Cent and Coke Tonnage 252 Per Cent.

STATISTICS OF THE RAILROADS

The coal traffic of the railroads continues to increase and this condition will ensue until the steamer service in Lake Erie must close for the winter. The increases range from four-tenths of 1 per cent to 252 per cent in the coal and coke tonnages as compared with the same figures of a year ago. Just now there is a spurt in the coal and coke movement, and it is probable that the figures for this class of freight in September will eclipse any former record in the haul between the three principal districts and the lake.

The Pennsylvania railroad's tonnage on the lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie for the week ended with September 2 showed an increase of 7 per cent over the previous week, while the tonnage for the year 1905 to that date showed an increase of 11 per cent as compared with 1904. The tonnage for the year to that date was 29,300,163 tons. Following are the figures for the respective tonnages in the past two weeks, the figures for the last week being the upper row, and increases in the lower row:

Bituminous.	Coke.	Anthracite.	Total.
567,573	195,572	95,688	859,733
44,663	13,888	*3,147	57,363

* Decrease.

The Baltimore & Ohio hauled 1,843,398 tons of coal in July, an increase of 64,026 tons, or four-tenths of 1 per cent. The coke tonnage was 362,636 tons for the month, or an increase of 157,226 tons, or 76.6 per cent.

The Beech Creek district shows the magnificent increase of 252 per cent in the coke tonnage from that district for the year to date, the present year's tonnage being 68,112, as against 19,315 tons over last year. This shows the extent to which that district is being developed for coke production. The coal tonnage from the district amounted to 5,447,211 tons to August 14, an increase of 1,092,867 tons or 25 per cent over the same period last year. This district is reached by the Pennsylvania and New York Central lines, and is the region into which the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern is building a new line, and into which other roads are looking. The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh also secured some tonnage from the Beech Creek district.

From the Pocahontas district in West Virginia, which furnishes the Illinois Steel Company with all coal and coke required, and which ships an immense amount of coal to the northwest by way of the lake route, shows an increase of 92,223 tons, or 13 per cent, for July. The month's tonnage on the Norfolk & Western, which operates this district, was 811,193 tons. The year (July 1, 1904-June 31, 1905) showed an increase of about 18 per cent on the Norfolk & Western system.

Little Done at Wabash Meeting.

B. A. Worthington, first vice president of the Wabash lines east of Toledo, returned yesterday morning from a business trip of two days in New York. He attended the meeting of the board of directors of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad and was present at the weekly session of the executive committee of the Wabash Pittsburg Terminal railroad. Mr. Worthington said that only routine matters were taken up at the meeting. The only manner in which the improvements in this district were touched upon was in the report of progress. President F. A. Delano, who passed through Pittsburgh on his way to New York Tuesday, returned to Chicago directly from New York by way of one of the northern routes. The Wabash people are pushing the line improvements as rapidly as possible, and are also getting the Huron harbor into fine shape. There are a number of long sidings being built along the Wheeling & Lake Erie, and others are being extended. Within another year it is probable that these will be connected up and that the whole line from here to Toledo will have two tracks.

Will Build Fences at Homewood.

The Pennsylvania will erect fences at Homewood station, East End, so as to avoid a repetition of the accident of Thursday morning when three men were killed and two others injured. Investigation so far shows that the death and injury to the men was caused by their own disobedience to the warnings of those at the station.

The Pennsylvania would have placed in use the underground passage way at Lang avenue for the passengers to reach the westbound waiting room when this was completed a couple of months ago, had not the improvements under way at East Liberty demanded the operation of west bound trains over this track adjoining the east bound track. Fences and passage ways under the tracks have been built at Roup and Shadyside stations, where there have also been waiting rooms built for the use of passengers taking westbound trains. These have not been placed in service because of the work at East Liberty, but the railroad company is taking every precaution to avoid mishaps, and the accident of two mornings ago was not due to negligence on the company's part, so far as the information secured by the company's representatives and by the deputy coroner goes. When the East Liberty improvements are in such shape as to allow the use of the outside west bound track, which will be done in the course of a few weeks, the company will have adequate facilities for the local service, and safe facilities at that.

Caught in Alleged Dishonesty.

The perfection of the railroad systems today in every department makes the wrongdoing of any one employe a serious thing for himself, and sometimes for others. Two Baltimore & Ohio employes, W. E. Long and C. W. Seimantel, will be given a hearing today on a charge of conspiracy, it being claimed that they fraudulently padded the pay rolls to the extent of $121 80 by adding the names of three men who were not employed. It is also alleged against Long, it being alleged that he stole one check for $40 95. The charges were made before Aldermen J. V. McMasters by Detective Thomas Delehanty of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Up on the Long Island railroad the detectives have discovered that a scheme among some of the employes in the resale of tickets has been worked for some time. Upon collection the tickets were not punched, but were returned to the agent who issued them and were resold. A division of the revenue was made by those concerned. Eight men have been discharged from the employ because of this fraudulent work.

Reading Getting Rolling Stock.

Samuel T. Schenck, commercial freight agent of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, said yesterday that the company is just now receiving the first consignments of an order for 1,000 steel coal cars placed some time ago. The cars are being built by the Standard Steel Car Company at Butler. The Reading has just resumed the construction of locomotives at its own shops for the first time in many years. An order has been placed in the shops at Reading for 10 large freight locomotives, and if the building of these proves successful the company will enlarge the shop plant there. Extensions are just now being completed there at a cost of about $800,000. The Reading is receiving 10 engines a week now from the Baldwin works and this delivery will continue until the 90 engines ordered are delivered.

Railroad Notes.

It is said that John Snyder of Altoona has been offered $100,000 for a steel and concrete railroad tie which he has had patented.

The Lake Erie handled 16,848 pieces of baggage at the Pittsburgh station in August, there being 8,643 pieces received and 8,205 pieces forwarded.

Frank W. Conner, chief clerk to General Passenger Agent Samuel Moody of the Pennsylvania lines west, is spending his vacation in the east.

John Alldred, chief clerk to Superintendent S. C. Long of the Pennsylvania's Pittsburgh division, has returned with his family from a vacation of three weeks.

Preparations are under way for the semi-annual meeting of the Freight Traffic Representatives of the Pennsylvania system, which will be held in Pittsburgh next month.

The rumor is again current that the Baltimore & Ohio will build a new freight house at Thirty-third street. It is said that plans are now in the hands of the executive officers.

Harry G. McKelvey, stenographer to Chief Clerk O. C. Castle of the superintendent's office of the Baltimore & Ohio, is enjoying a visit in the Rockies, having gone to Denver a few days ago.

Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, is expected to arrive here today from his home at Spring Lake, N. J., where he has been spending several weeks.

Lawrence Schnapps of the general passenger department of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, has just returned from a vacation jaunt to Chicago and South Haven, Mich. Mrs. Schnapps, who has been spending the summer at the latter point, will return in a few weeks.

Wyn B. Morris, chief clerk in the office of General Passenger Agent L. A. Robison of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, declined to seek the faraway regions for his vacation. He is spending a couple of weeks delightfully camping, canoeing and fishing along the Allegheny river.

Fred E. Shellaberger, passenger agent of the Santa Fe here, who escorted a special delegation of veterans from here to Denver for the G. A. R. encampment, writes that Denver is seeing some of the grandest days in its history. Mr. Shellaberger will return with the party by way of the Grand Canyon, of course. John R. James, central passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific, who is also at Denver with a special train of veterans over his road, will be their return escort next week.

BIG CHANGE FOR TWO AVENUES

H. L. Krensler Gets Contract for $160,000 Warehouse for Leopold Vilsack.

$585,000 FOR NEWELL'S HOTEL

By the letting of the contract to H. L. Kreusler for the warehouse to be erected by Leopold Vilsack in Third avenue, Architect F. J. Osterling has paved the way for "letting daylight through" from Third to Second avenue in a way that has been wished for by the business men of that district for years. In a few days the row of old brick houses at 334-338 Third avenue and 337-339 Second avenue, will be torn down to make way for the eight-story building which will be equal to any structure of its kind in the city and will cost $160,000. The building will occupy three lots formerly owned by J. B. Dunlevy, Thomas J. Keenan and the H. J. Ballou estate, and will be 45 feet wide with a depth of 160 feet. It will be a strictly fireproof structure. The two fronts will be exactly alike, the first two stories being of iron and the remainder terra cotta. The building will have a steel frame, the subcontract for the structural work having been given already to the American Bridge Company. The first floor will be provided with two plate glass fronts and will be arranged for a stock and show room, leaving the other floors for warehouse purposes exclusively. They are so arranged that they can be rented to one firm or let on the omnibus plan, which is becoming very popular here. Four elevators will be installed and the building will be furnished with gas and electric illumination lights.

Final bids are now being considered by Architect Osterling for the erection of the Farrell warehouse at 333-335 Second avenue, adjoining the Vilsack structure. This will also be an eight-story fireproof structure and a party wall will doubtless be built between the two buildings. The Farrell building will be 80x90 feet and will cost about $75,000. It is expected the contract will be awarded the first of the week and the old brick buildings on the site will be razed at once that there may be no delay in getting the building started.

Offer of $585,000 for Newell's.

It's no wonder property owners along Fifth avenue are wearing a prosperous look. To judge by the way prices are advancing they are piling up wealth at a rate that most men would welcome with all sorts of celebrations. The latest evidence that somebody has got abundant faith in Pittsburgh's business future is the offer of $585,000 which was made three days ago for Newell's hotel on Fifth avenue. This is edging up mighty fast to the $25,000-a-front-foot mark, which sanguine prophets have foretold for Fifth avenue holdings between Smithfield and Wood streets and extending back to Oliver avenue. The offer was made by a Pittsburgh man and figures at the rate of $19,500 a front foot, or $31 25 a square foot. The lot is one of several of the same size, 30x240 feet, and the hotel building is a substantial brick structure six stories high. John Newell, the owner of the property, declined the offer, as he is one of those who look for still higher values in this district. Moreover, as he said yesterday: "I would not know what to do with $585,000; I could not bet it on horses any more."

This offer, taken with the tender of $325,000 made recently for the Chronicle Telegraph building, adjoining Newell's, which is now owned by Harry Davis, is significant as showing a return of buying enthusiasm on the part of those who are abundantly able to handle the largest real estate propositions in the city. Interest at the opening of the fall season and in view of the very few properties in this square that can be bought at any figure, they may be expected to be raised until they reach the $20,000-a-foot mark in a comparatively short time.

Bellevue Gets Another Plan.

Keck, Helle & Daschbach are getting ready to launch the Bellevue Extension allotment, better known as the George C. Orth property, between October 1 and 15. The property consists of 25 acres at the head of Thomas avenue and just over the borough line. It adjoins the well-known Sunnyside plan of lots and is only one square from the corner of Thomas and Forest avenues, where the new Bellevue street car line turns. Thomas avenue will be extended through the plan this fall and three other streets, 40 feet wide, will be provided. Engineers are now working out the details for these improvements and for the sidewalks, sewers and grading of the plan, which will be done in a few weeks. The lots will be 30, 40 and 50 feet wide and 110 and 150 feet long. The lots will be sold at about half the prices charged for similar lots in the improved district.

The old Bakerstown hotel, for a generation a landmark to Pittsburghers, has been sold through the office of S. J. Parkins & Co., to G. O. Hammer, president of the Saxonburg Gas Company, for $10,000. The hotel building contains 17 rooms and stands on a large farm, which was included in the purchase. Mr. Hammer, who tendered Bates' loss in part payment for the property, proposes to spend several thousand dollars in remodeling the hostelry to make it desirable for pleasure parties from Pittsburgh.

Gain of 48 Per Cent in August.

A general gain of 48 per cent in building operations over the country during August speaks most emphatically for the prosperity that is attending the building trades. Official reports compiled by the "Construction News" of Chicago show a total of 8,972 buildings authorized which will cost $52,329,811. This is a gain of 2,828 buildings or a sum of $17,309,588 over August, 1904. Following upon the gains in building reported for every month of this year the record is almost phenomenal.

New York made a sensational gain, as did Louisville, Indianapolis and New Orleans. Pittsburgh had a gain of only 3 per cent to show. The table given below shows the building records made in 27 of the largest cities in the country.

YELLOW-CREEK DISTRICT IS MAKING FAIR SHOWING

The Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, is making a better showing than any other in the lower southwest. A northeast extension to the old development is now assured. The South Penn Oil Company has drilled its second test on the G. W. Silcott farm 10 feet into the Berea grit and the well is producing 30 barrels a day. The location of this well is important, as well as its size. It is full two miles ahead of production, on the Coberly-and-Webb farm and about two miles above Breakneckville, on the north bank of the Kanawha river, and about 80 feet west of a dry hole drilled on the same farm. The No. 2 coming in a good producer opens up a considerable stretch of territory that will be developed at once. Should the intervening territory prove good it will make room for a large number of wells. Southwest of this well, Mallory Bros. & Stewart's No. 3 on the Martha A. Coberly farm is 30 feet in the Berea grit and showing for 30 barrels or better. This well is a short distance southwest of Leonard, Carr & Gilmore's No. 2 on the J. Wellington Rodgers farm. North of Cox, Brady & Co.'s large oil tank farm, the Stewart United Oil Company's No. 12 on the Kennedy Oil Company's farm, previously reported the William Barkmess farm, is holding up at 450 barrels a day. Near Hebron, La Fayette district, Pleasants county, the Cox Farm Oil Company has drilled in its test on the W. L. Cox Beazer lot and has a show for a 50-barrel pumper. On the Cunningham run of the Elk Fork district, Tyler county, the Rice Farm Oil Company has drilled its second test on the A. J. Rice farm through the Big Injun sand and has a fair gasser. On Sugar Creek, Meade district, Tyler county, the Morrow & Co. have drilled their test on the Oliver Chrrel farm through the Big Injun sand and found that formation barren. In the Wick district, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 5 on the C. W. Eberhart farm through the Big Injun and has a show for a producer good for 50 barrels a day.

Near West Union, Doddridge county, the Castle Brook Carbon Company has completed No. 2 on the Lamb & Maxwell farm, which is a light gasser in the Gordon. In the same district, the Eastern Oil Company's No. 4 on the Lehman Maxwell farm, formerly a gasser in the Gordon, is now producing a little oil. It has been connected to the pipe line. In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 1 on the S. J. Ehret farm 15 feet in the Gordon and the hole has filled up 100 feet with fluid. It is still drilling and unless a second pay is encountered will make a very light pumper. Near Wallace, in the same county, the same company has drilled its second test on the D. S. Barker farm 15 feet into the Gordon and the well is producing 40 barrels a day. It is still drilling. In the Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn has drilled its old No. 2 on the Reese Amos farm and has a light gasser in the fifth sand. In the same district, the same company's No. 2 on the F. M. Brookover farm has been drilled 14 feet into the fourth sand and is producing 5 barrels a day from that level. Four miles southwest of Mannington, in Marion county, the Philadelphia Company has drilled its test on the L. F. Smith farm into the fourth sand and has very good gasser in the formation. On Buffalo Run, Wetzel county, the Kanawha Oil Company's No. 1 test on the John Mills tract is holding up at 120 barrels a day.

Near Harrisonville, on the Ohio side, in Noble county, Manley & Co. have completed a second test on the J. W. Manley farm and have a duster in the 500-foot sand. In the same district, A. S. Calhoun has completed a second test on the David Willison farm and has shows in the Berea sand.

Light producers or gassers are the best the local fields can furnish at this time. At New Galilee, Beaver county, the Little Beaver Oil Company has drilled its test on the E. C. Pyles farm through the Berea grit and has a light gasser. In the same district, Logue Bros. & Co. have completed a second test on the W. J. McCracken farm and have a very light pumper. The Davis Oil Company has completed No. 4 on the Davis farm and has a 4-barrel pumper. In the Leesdale district, in the same county, Snyder & Co. put their test on the S. Phillips farm to pumping and after a thorough test proved a failure. It has a light gas pressure and no further effort will be made to get it to producing.

JEROME REFUSES TO BE ILL.

Breaks Away from Doctors and Returns to Work to Deny He Is Seriously Sick.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—District Attorney Jerome showed his independence of doctors and medical predictions and surprised his subordinates by appearing at his office in the criminal courts building this morning.

Yesterday his physician sentenced him to a week in bed and a month's vacation after that. While not in the best condition today, he said he was by no means a dead man. "I fully expect to live through the day," he said, with a smile. "If I do, this afternoon I am going to Lakeville for a few days' rest. My condition need alarm no one. It does not alarm me.
